Masculinity in Four Victorian Epics Clinton

Machann,2016-05-06 Offering provocative readings of Tennyson's Idylls of the King Barrett Browning's Aurora Leigh Clough's Amours de Voyage and Browning's The Ring and the Book Clinton Machann brings to bear the ideas and methods of literary Darwinism to shed light on the central issue of masculinity in the Victorian epic This critical approach enables Machann to take advantage of important research in evolutionary psychology cognitive science anthropology among other scientific fields and to bring the concept of human nature into his discussions of the poems The importance of the Victorian long poem as a literary genre is reviewed in the introduction followed by transformative close readings of the poems that engage with questions of gender particularly representations of masculinity and the prevalence of male violence Machann contextualizes his reading within the poets' views on social philosophical and religious issues arguing that the impulses drives and tendencies of human nature as well as the historical and cultural context influenced the writing and thus must inform the interpretation of the Victorian epic

Victorian Poets and the Changing Bible Charles LaPorte,2011-11-17

Victorian Poets and the Changing Bible charts the impact of post Enlightenment biblical criticism on English literary culture The eighteenth and nineteenth centuries saw a widespread reevaluation of biblical inspiration in which the Bible's poetic nature came to be seen as an integral part of its religious significance Understandably then many poets who followed this interpretative revolution including Alfred Lord Tennyson Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett Browning came to reconceive their highest vocational ambitions if the Bible is essentially poetry then modern poetry might perform a cultural role akin to that of scripture This context equally illuminates the aims and achievements of famous Victorian unbelievers such as Arthur Hugh Clough and George Eliot who also responded enthusiastically to the poetic ideal of an inspired text Building upon a recent and ongoing reevaluation of religion as a vital aspect of Victorian culture Charles LaPorte shows the enduring relevance of religion in a period usually associated with its decline In doing so he helps to delineate the midcentury shape of a literary dynamic that is generally better understood in Romantic poetry of the earlier part of the century The poets he examines all wrestled with modern findings about the Bible's fortuitous historical composition yet they owed much of their extraordinary literary success to their ability to capitalize upon the progress of avant garde biblical interpretation This book's revisionary and provocative thesis speaks not only to the course of English poetics but also to the logic of nineteenth century literary hierarchies and to the continuing evolution of religion in the modern era Victorian Literature and Culture Series

Bartók and the Grotesque Julie Brown, 2017-07-05 The grotesque is one of art's most puzzling figures transgressive comprising an unresolvable hybrid generally focussing on the human body full of hyperbole and ultimately semantically deeply puzzling In Bluebeard's Castle 1911 The Wooden Prince 1916-17 The Miraculous Mandarin 1919-24 rev 1931 and Cantata Profana 1930 Bartók engaged scenarios featuring either overtly grotesque bodies or closely related transformations and violations of the body In a number of instrumental works he also overtly engaged grotesque satirical strategies sometimes as in Two Portraits Ideal and Grotesque indicating this in the title In this book Julie Brown argues that Bartók concerns with stylistic hybridity high low East West tonal atonal modal the body and the grotesque are interconnected While Bartók developed each interest in highly individual ways and did so separately to a considerable extent the three concerns remained conceptually interlinked All three were thoroughly implicated in cultural constructions of the Modern during the period in which Bartók was composing

The Search for Origins in the Twentieth-century Long Poem Joe Moffett, 2007 In this new scholarly text an ambitious study of contemporary poetics Joe W Moffett deciphers the twentieth century long poem searching for a better understanding of why long poem writers are preoccupied with a search for origins Moffett focuses on issues like postcolonialism nation modernism and postmodernism He conceptualizes his theories by using what he calls originary moments historical periods or specific events from which a poet contends our culture descends These moments enlighten and inspire the modern poet to use origin or source as a way to examine present culture and social conditions The poems also encourage modern readers to question revise and repudiate Moffett organizes his argument by arranging specific examples into three categories of originary moments Sumerian Homeric and Anglo Saxon According to Moffett the long poem is appealing because it lacks strict conventions that govern other genres Using a wide variety of poems to support his arguments Moffett asks many stimulating questions and also provides provocative answers Questions of when and where It All Began have been off the critical agenda for some time now embargoed by poststructuralism Undeterred Joe Moffett boldly revisits the search for cultural origins which preoccupied major poets throughout the twentieth century Capacious in his scope eclectic in his choices Moffett rounds up unusual subjects including long poems by Armand Schwerner Derek Walcott Geoffrey Hill and Judy Grahn with excursions into Charles Olson Seamus Heaney and others Nowhere will you find clearer more intelligent or better informed readings of these poems than Moffett's The Major Works Robert Browning, 2009-06-25 This comprehensive selection includes over eighty of Browning's shorter poems amongst them his most famous and best loved dramatic monologues as well as the complete text of many of his longer poems This edition also selects generously from the love letters between Browning and Elizabeth Barrett as well as from Browning's more general correspondence Nineteenth-century Literature, 2001 Contains articles which focus on a broad spectrum of significant figures in fiction philosophy and criticism such as Austen Carlyle Dickens Thackeray the Brontës Tennyson Browning Arnold Emerson Hawthorne Thoreau Whitman Twain and Henry James Current Research in Britain F T Energy, 1996-09 Tennyson Research Bulletin, 1997
