The Queer Biopic in the AIDS Era Laura

Stamm,2021-12-31 The Queer Biopic in the AIDS Era offers a new account of the AIDS crisis and the emergence of New Queer Cinema Author Laura Stamm asks why queer filmmakers repeatedly produced biographical films of queer individuals living and dead throughout the years surrounding the AIDS crisis Queer filmmakers engagement with the biopic evokes the genre s history of building life through the portrayal of lives worthy of admiration and emulation but it also points to another biopic history that of representing lives damaged By portraying lives damaged by inconceivable loss queer filmmakers challenge the illusion of a coherent self presumably reinforced by the biopic genre and in doing so their films open the potential for new means of connection and relationality The Queer Biopic in the Aids Era features fresh readings of the cinema of Derek Jarman John Greyson Todd Haynes Barbara Hammer and Tom Kalin By calling for a reappraisal of the queer biopic this book also calls for a reappraisal of New Queer Cinema s legacy and its influence of contemporary queer film As a whole this book pays particular attention to the biopic s queer resonances opening up its historical connections to projects of education public health and social hygiene along with the production of a shared history and national identity AIDS and

Representation Fiona Johnstone,2023-05-18 AIDS Representation explores portraits and self portraits made in response to the AIDS epidemic in America in the 1980s and 1990s Addressing the work of artists including Mark Morrisroe Robert Blanchon and Felix Gonzalez Torres through the interrelated themes of sickness and mortality desire and sexual identity love and loss Fiona Johnstone shows how the self representational practices of artists with HIV and AIDS offered a richly imaginative response to the limitations of early AIDS imagery Johnstone argues that the AIDS epidemic changed the very nature of visual representation and artistic practice necessitating a radical new approach to conceptualising and visualising the human form An extended epilogue considers the ongoing art historicization of the epidemic re contextualising the book s themes in relation to contemporary photographic works More than just a historical discussion of the art of the AIDS crisis AIDS and Representation contributes to an emergent body of scholarship on the visual representation of illness Expanding the established genre of the autopathography or illness narrative beyond the predominantly textual this important contribution to art history and health humanities sensitively unpicks the entanglements between aesthetic form and the expression of lived experiences of critical and chronic ill health Melancholia and Moralism Douglas Crimp,2004 Essays challenging the increasing denial of the AIDS crisis and the rise of conservative gay politics In Melancholia and Moralism Douglas Crimp confronts the conservative gay politics that replaced the radical AIDS activism of the late 1980s and early 1990s He shows that the cumulative losses from AIDS including the waning of militant response have resulted in melancholia as Freud defined it gay men s dangerous identification with the moralistic repudiation of homosexuality by the wider society With the 1993 march on Washington for lesbian and gay rights it became clear that AIDS no longer determined the agenda of gay politics it had been displaced by traditional rights issues such as gay marriage and the right to serve in the military Journalist Andrew Sullivan notorious for pronouncing the AIDS epidemic over even claimed that once those few rights had been won the gay rights movement would no longer have a reason to exist Crimp challenges such complacency arguing that not only is the AIDS epidemic far from over but that its determining role in queer politics has never been greater AIDS he demonstrates is the repressed unconscious force that drives the destructive moralism of the new anti liberation gay politics expounded by such mainstream gay writers as Larry Kramer Gabriel Rotello and Michelangelo Signorile as well as Sullivan Crimp examines various cultural phenomena including Randy Shilts s bestseller And the Band Played On the Hollywood films Silence of the Lambs and Philadelphia and Magic Johnson s HIV infection and retirement from the Los Angeles Lakers He also analyzes Robert Mapplethorpe s and Nicholas Nixon s photography John Greyson s AIDS musical Zero Patience Gregg Bordowitz s video Fast Trip Long Drop the Names Project Quilt and the annual Day without Art

Mapping AIDS Lukas Engelmann,2018-11-08 In this innovative study Lukas Engelmann examines visual traditions in modern medical history through debates about the causes impact and spread of AIDS Utilising medical AIDS atlases produced between 1986 and 2008 for a global audience Engelmann argues that these visual textbooks played a significant part in the establishment of AIDS as a medical phenomenon However the visualisations risked obscuring the social cultural and political complexity of AIDS history Photographs of patients were among the earliest responses to the mysterious syndrome cropped and framed to deliver a visible characterisation of AIDS to a medical audience Maps then offered an abstracted image of the regions invaded by the epidemic while the icon of the virus aspired to capture the essence of AIDS The epidemic s history is retold through clinical photographs epidemiological maps and icons of HIV asking how this devastating epidemic has come to be seen as a controllable chronic condition

AIDS-Trauma and Politics Aimee Pozorski,2019-06-26 AIDS Trauma and Politics considers American literary representations of the social and political silence surrounding the AIDS crisis in the U S in the 1980s The book offers close readings of such authors as Paul Monette Mark Doty Rafael Campo Sarah Schulman Tony Kushner and Larry Kramer in order to argue that the AIDS crisis was born largely without a witness and as a result marks a significant trauma in U S history Grounded by trauma studies AIDS Trauma and Politics argues that the arts exemplified here by literature and film uniquely underscore social problems otherwise overlooked by such discourses as politics the law and journalism Defining the 1980s AIDS crisis as a perfect case this book proposes to redefine trauma not simply as an event that happened too soon but rather as an ongoing series of oversights resulting in a failure to acknowledge or witness the humanity of those who suffer

The Edges of Trauma Tamás Bényei,Alexandra Stara,2014-06-30 A collection of essays by an international group of scholars The Edges of Trauma Explorations in Visual Art and Literature addresses the vast cultural and discursive construction that trauma has become in recent decades Unravelling aspects of representing narrating testifying to trauma and of sharing or conveying traumatic non experience many of the essays offer new perspectives on traditionally central topics of trauma studies including shellshock sexual abuse the Holocaust AIDS and 9 11 or on canonical trauma texts such as Art Spiegelman's Maus W G Sebald's Austerlitz and Virginia Woolf's autobiographical writings Some authors take issue with the at least partly commercially motivated canonisation of trauma fiction and with the automatic linking of certain textual features with traumatic experiences In other essays trauma works as an interpretative device that allows us to see otherwise familiar texts like Paul Scott's Raj Quartet and the fiction of Beckett and Agota Kristof in a new light Other contributors interrogate less obvious cultural and artistic representations including First World War British painting Jean Richard Bloch's wartime writings Felix Gonzalez Torres's candy spills the photography of Peter Piller and Ori Gersht and recent American television comedy in the context of trauma while one author explores her own artistic practice as part of the working through of traumatic experiences The Edges of Trauma differs from other volumes concerned with trauma and art in that it gathers together essays on both literature and visual art These essays are concerned with the relationship between trauma and art traumatic non experience and aesthetic experience exploring how the non experience of trauma finds its way into artistic representations

AIDS Narratives Steven F. Kruger, 2013-10-28 This is the first book length study of the rich fiction that has emerged from the AIDS crisis Examining first the ways in which scientific discourse on AIDS has reflected ideologies of gender and sexuality such as the construction of AIDS as a disease of gay men part of a battle over masculinity and thus largely excluding women with AIDS from public attention the book considers how such discourses have shaped narrative understandings of AIDS On the one hand AIDS is seen as an invariably fatal weakening of an individual's bodily defenses a depiction often used to reconfirm an identification between disease and a weak and vulnerable gayness On the other hand AIDS is understood in terms of an epidemic attributable to gay immorality or unnaturalness The fiction of AIDS depends upon these two narratives with one major subgenre of AIDS novel presenting narratives of personal illness decline and death and a second focusing on epidemic spread These novels also question the narrative structures upon which they depend intervening particularly against the homophobia of those structures though also sometimes reinforcing it

Discourses of Sexuality Domna C. Stanton, 1992 An important and timely book on a subject of enduring interest

The Fragile Community Mara B. Adelman, Larry R. Frey, 2020-07-24 This book examines the concept of community focusing on how communication practices help manage the tensions of creating and sustaining everyday communal life amidst the crisis of human loss While acknowledging how the contradictory and inconsistent nature of human relationships inevitably affects community this intimate and compelling text shows how community is created and sustained in concrete communication practices The authors explore these ideas at Bonaventure House an award winning residential facility for people with AIDS where the web of social relationships and the demands of a life threatening illness intersect in complex ways Facing a life threatening illness can defy meaningful social connections but it can also inspire such ties sometimes in ways that elude us in the course of daily life By understanding how collective communication practices help residents forge a sense of community out of the fragility and chaos of living together with AIDS we are able to better understand how communication is inexorably intertwined with the formation of community in other environments Based on seven years of ethnographic research including participant observation in depth interviews and questionnaires this book weaves together narratives and visual images with conceptual analysis to uncover the ongoing oppositional forces of community life and to show how both mundane and profound communication processes ameliorate these tensions and thereby sustain this fragile community Because the average length of stay for a resident is seven months in which time he or she moves from being a newcomer to a community member to someone the community remembers the text reflects this short but crystallized life starting with the day a new resident opens the door to the day he or she passes away The writing is rich intimate engaging personal compelling and vivid The stories told discuss such deeply personal topics as the dilemmas of romantic relationships in a context fraught with many perils issues of power authority and control that enable and constrain social life and communicative practices that help residents cope with bereavement over the loss of others as well as their own impending deaths The text concludes by examining the lessons learned from Bonaventure House about creating and sustaining a health community and serves as an inspiration for strengthening interpersonal relationships and communities in other environments The Art of AIDS Rob Baker, 1994 As artists struggle to understand interpret and express the complex emotions and politics arising from the epidemic a new art perhaps even a new aesthetic is now emerging Cultural Studies Lawrence Grossberg, Cary Nelson, Paula Treichler, 2013-02-01 Featuring new essays by such prominent cultural theorists as Tony Bennett Homi Bhabha Donna Haraway bell hooks Constance Penley Janice Radway Andrew Ross and Cornel West Cultural Studies offers numerous specific cultural analyses while simultaneously defining and debating the common body of assumptions questions and concerns that have helped create the field
