The Education of Sam Sanders T. S. Poetter, 2006-03-28 The book describes a hypothetical scenario of resistance and ultimately success Sam Sanders a bright eighth grade student at rural Downing School is tired of a regimented education system Poetter's dystopian vision of the future of public schooling that involves computerized lessons from a state database regular academic drilling and practice tests Sam wishes for a world where teachers used to actually use books in school kids would read them and then write about them When Sam mobilizes the student body to boycott the big end of year exam the resulting division of the school's teaching staff the town and the ultimate revolutionary re structuring of the Downing School are intended to model reform and activism Review America's Lab Report National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Center for Education, Board on Science Education, Committee on High School Laboratories: Role and Vision, 2006-01-20 Laboratory experiences as a part of most U S high school science curricula have been taken for granted for decades but they have rarely been carefully examined What do they contribute to science learning What can they contribute to science learning What is the current status of labs in our nation's high schools as a context for learning science This book looks at a range of questions about how laboratory experiences fit into U S high schools What is effective laboratory teaching What does research tell us about learning in high school science labs How should student learning in laboratory experiences be assessed Do all students have access to laboratory experiences What changes need to be made to improve laboratory experiences for high school students How can school organization contribute to effective laboratory teaching With increased attention to the U S education system and student outcomes no part of the high school curriculum should escape scrutiny This timely book investigates factors that influence a high school laboratory experience looking closely at what currently takes place and what the goals of those experiences are and should be Science educators school administrators policy makers and parents will all benefit from a better understanding of the need for laboratory experiences to be an integral part of the science curriculum and how that can be accomplished
