Bradford,2004-12-01 With its impressive breadth of coverage both geographically and chronologically the International Encyclopedia of Military History is the most up to date and inclusive A-Z resource on military history From uniforms and military insignia worn by combatants to the brilliant military leaders and tacticians who commanded them the campaigns and wars to the weapons and equipment used in them this international and multi cultural two volume set is an accessible resource combining the latest scholarship in the field with a world perspective on military history Medieval Warfare: Technology, Military Revolutions, and Strategy Clifford J. Rogers,2024-08-06 This volume explores the topics of military revolutions strategy and tactics both separately and as they relate to each other It makes important contributions to understanding European warfare in the Early High and especially the Late Middle Ages as well the military transition to the Early Modern Period Readers will find detailed analysis of how technological and non technological developments interacted to effect major changes in how wars were fought across the period The evolution and capabilities of the English longbow and of early gunpowder artillery are examined in depth Changes in the tools of war naturally affected plans to employ those tools to achieve political ends military strategy but strategy was never dictated by technology That point is illustrated by examinations of English efforts to conquer Wales the Anglo Burgundian alliance of the late Hundred Years War and the economic factors shaping medieval conquests in general The nine studies in the volume have all been published previously but a new introduction shows how they fit together particularly explaining how they collectively rebut common critiques of Rogers's controversial thesis that European warfare was reshaped by the Infantry and Artillery Revolutions during the era of the Hundred Years War. Two of the chapters have been substantially expanded so that the versions printed here should be the ones consulted and cited in the future by scholars of medieval warfare and military revolutions. The Hundred Years War (part II) L. J. Andrew Villalon, Donald J. Kagay, 2008. In thirteen articles this volume affirms that the Hundred Years War was a struggle that spilled out of its heartlands of England and France into many European regions. These a different vista of scholarship greatly amply the study of the conflict. War and Society in Medieval Cheshire, 1277-1403 Philip Morgan, 1987. World Military History Bibliography Barton Hacker, 2003-06-01. Preclassical and indigenous nonwestern military institutions and methods of warfare are the chief subjects of this annotated bibliography of work published 1967-1997. Classical antiquity post Roman Europe and the westernized armed forces of the 20th century although covered receive less systematic attention. Emphasis is on historical studies of military organization and the relationships between military and other social institutions rather than wars and battles. Especially rich in references to the periodical literature the bibliography is divided into eight parts: 1 general and comparative topics; 2 the ancient world; 3 Eurasia since antiquity; 4 sub-Saharan Africa and Oceania; 5 pre-Columbian America; 6 postcontact America; 7 the contemporary nonwestern world; and 8 philosophical, social, scientific, natural, scientific and other works not primarily historical. The Hundred Years War (Part II) Andrew Villalon, Donald Kagay, 2008-08-31. This book takes a fresh look at the Hundred Years War by gathering the latest scholarship on several aspects of the conflict that have not been amply studied before and several that have become gospel by numerous scholarly treatments. The collection focuses on the following subjects: 1 the Hundred Years War as a wide-ranging struggle that effected many European regions; 2 the battle of Agincourt and its political and emotional aftermath; 3 the Iberian theater of war that sprang from the main conflict; 4 the impact of the crossbow and longbow on the great battles of the conflict; 5 great leaders of the war; and 6 economic, literary and psychological aspects of the conflict. Contributors are William P. Caferro, Megan Cassidy Welch, Kelly DeVries, Donald J. Kagay, Ilana Krug-Russell, Mitchell Steven Muhlberger, Clifford J. Rogers, L. B. Ross, Dana Sample, Wendy Turner, Richard Vernier, L. J. Andrew Villalon, and David Whetham. Winner of the 2014 Verbruggen Prize of De Re Militari, the Society for the Study of Medieval Military History given annually for the best book on medieval military history. The Journal of Medieval Military History Bernard S. Bachrach, Clifford J. Rogers, Kelly DeVries, 2004-05. Ten papers on campaigns, biographies, military hardware, fortifications and interpreting medieval records. The second issue of this new undertaking broadens its geographical and practical range, widening its focus to draw in the amateur specialist in addition to military historians. The study of the origins of the crossbow industry in England is a case in point. Other papers include studies of campaigns: Henry II in Wales and Henry of Lancaster in France; articles on weaponry and Spanish fortifications in the Mediterranean; a brief life of the mercenary Armengol VI of Urgel; and case studies of the interpretation of chronicles in reconstructing battles and military action. Taken together the articles reinforce the centrality of fighting and warfare in the middle ages adding valuable detail to an understanding of medieval society
