Longest War Uk:

Routledge Companion to UK Counter Terrorism Andrew Staniforth, 2013 The United Kingdom has long been an island under siege from terrorists who believe they can advance their aims through acts of violence Protecting the public from the excesses of extremism remains the primary responsibility of government For over a century Special Branch MI5 and MI6 have prevented terrorist atrocities and have pursued those who wish to destroy the United Kingdom's free and democratic way of life Yet despite developing one of the world's most sophisticated security architectures successful terrorist attacks have occurred with alarming regularity For the very first time this new volume explores the evolution of counter terrorism practice in the United Kingdom brought to life with dramatic case studies and personal insider accounts provided by leading policy makers prosecutors and counter terrorism practitioners who openly reveal the challenges and operational reality of countering contemporary terrorist threats From the troubles in Northern Ireland to the al Qaeda inspired genre of international terrorism this volume plots the trajectory of counter terrorism policy and practice exploring the events that have served to change the course of civil protection This unique title is enriched by leading academic perspectives providing analysis of counter terrorism responses and identifies lessons to be learned from the past the present as well as exploring the terrorist threats of the future to be tackled by the next generation of counter terrorism practitioners This accessible and authoritative volume is required reading for all in authority and academia who are concerned with national security counter terrorism and the law as well as those with a vested interest in the preservation of human rights the protection of civil liberties and democracy itself

Omar Al-Bashir and Africa's Longest War Paul L. Moorcraft, 2015-04-30 President Omar al Bashir is Africa's and arguably Arabia's most controversial leader In power since 1989 he is the first sitting head of state to be issued with an arrest warrant for war crimes by International Criminal Court He has been a central personality in Islamic and African politics as well as a love to hate figure for the US in the war on terror For military history readers Al Bashir is a field marshal who has fought possibly the world's longest conflict Modern Sudan has been embroiled in war since 1955 No proper biography has been written on him before Nor has there been a comprehensive military history of Sudan The book briefly covers the military background until independence Then it dissects the long north south civil war until Bashir's Islamist military coup in 1989 Thereafter it narrates the wars in the east south west in Darfur International political and military intervention is also factored in The author draws on in depth one on one interviews with Bashir himself and his family and close political military and intelligence colleagues

National Resilience during War Eyal Lewin, 2012-08-20 In political science war is generally considered the most traumatic event a nation faces often posing threats to a nation's very existence The challenge of surviving the war may therefore prove central to the life of a nation However national resilience during war has not yet been fully investigated National Resilience during War Refining the Decision Making Model by Eyal Lewin searches for the mechanisms of national resilience through a deep inquiry into nine different case studies taken from the scenery of World War II Following a multi disciplinary attitude a business management model is adopted the PEST and SWOT model and political economic social and military technological factors are analyzed for each of the case studies The result is a comprehensive political decision making model on a national level that can serve as a means for leaders to navigate successfully in geopolitical turbulence as well as for social scientists to better understand the defeats that different countries suffer and the victories that others demonstrate This research however goes further by refining the model and pointing to the exact combination of factors that are crucial for a nation s ability to win its wars Using a qualitative comparative analysis technique the exact combination is traced The results emphasize that the winning scheme blends political and social factors together leadership positive psychology and an inspiring national ethos prove to be a necessary though not a sufficient conditional combination for success National Resilience during War fills a significant gap in the literature on the politics of war

British Generals in Blair's Wars Jonathan Bailey, Richard Iron, 2016-04-15 British Generals in Blair s Wars is based on a series of high profile seminars held in Oxford in which senior British officers predominantly from the army reflect on their experience of campaigning The chapters embrace all the UK s major operations since the end of the Cold War but they focus particularly on Iraq and Afghanistan As personal testimonies they capture the immediacy of the authors thoughts at the time and show how the ideas of a generation of senior British officers developed in a period of rapid change against a background of intense political controversy and some popular unease The armed forces were struggling to revise their Cold War concepts and doctrines and to find the best ways to meet the demands placed upon them by their political leaders in what was seen to be a New World Order It was a time when relations between the Government of the day and the armed services came under close scrutiny and when the affection of the British public for its forces seemed to grow with the difficulty of their operational tasks This is a truly unique and invaluable book For the first time we are offered first hand testimony about Britain s involvement in recent campaigns by senior participants In addition to touching on themes like civilian military relations the operational direction of war and relationships with allies these eyewitness accounts give a real sense of how the character of a war changes even as it is being fought It will be essential reading for those in military academies and staff colleges not only in Britain but throughout NATO and especially in the USA It also has profound policy implications as both the UK and NATO more generally reassess their strategies and the value of intervention operations It will also become a primary source for historians and students of the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan in particular

The Jungle, Japanese and the British Commonwealth Armies at War, 1941-45 Tim Moreman, 2013-04-15 This book focuses on the British Commonwealth armies during the Second World War which following the disastrous Malayan and Burma campaigns had to hurriedly re organize their troops to fight the Japanese

Justice in Asia and the Pacific Region, 1945-1952 Yuma Totani, 2015-02-16 Roman Law in the State of Nature offers a new interpretation of the foundations of Hugo Grotius natural law theory Surveying the significance of texts from classical antiquity Benjamin Straumann argues that certain classical texts namely Roman law and a specifically Ciceronian brand of Stoicism were particularly influential for Grotius in the construction of his theory of natural law The book asserts that Grotius a humanist steeped in Roman law had many reasons to employ Roman tradition and explains how Cicero's ethics and Roman law secular and offering a doctrine of the freedom of the high seas were ideally suited to provide the rules for Grotius state of nature This fascinating new study offers historians classicists and political theorists a fresh account of the historical background of the development of natural rights natural law and of international legal norms as they emerged in seventeenth century early modern Europe

The Second World War David Horner, Robin Havers, Alastair Finlan, Mark J Grove, Philip D. Grove, Paul Collier, Geoffrey Jukes, Russell Hart, Stephen A. Hart, 2018-09-20 Bringing together the work of nine leading historians and superbly illustrated with contemporary photography and colour maps The Second World War gives readers a comprehensive understanding of all aspects of history's greatest conflict The period from 1939 to 1945 saw some of the most devastating and remarkable events in living memory Labouring beneath a daily burden of fear sacrifice deprivation and uncertainty soldiers and civilians of all nationalities were driven to extremes of selfless loyalty dogged determination or bitter cruelty by the demands of a world at war This book tells the stories of the men and women who lived and died during the Second World War from politicians to factory workers and from High Command to the conscripted men on the front lines The experience of war is brought to life through a wealth of contemporary documentation private writings and historical research whilst the political military and historical significance of the war is assessed and examined From Europe's Western and Eastern Fronts to the war at sea and from the Pacific to the Mediterranean and North Africa every fighting front of the Second World War is covered in this truly comprehensive volume

Globalizing Lynching History M. Berg, S. Wendt, 2011-11-15 The study of lynching in US history has become a well developed area of scholarship However scholars have rarely included comparative or transnational perspectives when studying the American case although lynching and communal punishment have occurred in most societies throughout history

Dying for the Truth Paul L. Moorcraft, 2016-11-30 A history and analysis of journalists reporting from the frontlines of war from the mid nineteenth century to the early twenty first century War correspondents are crucial to democracy and the public's discovery of the truth Without the media the temptation to manipulate events with propaganda could be irresistible to politicians of all hues Dying for The Truth examines how journalists have plied their trade from the Crimean War to the present Paul Moorcraft a veteran journalist discusses how correspondents considerable influence has shaped the actions of politicians and military commanders as well as public opinion and reveals how authority figures now view the media as potentially valuable tools Technical developments and the twenty four hour news cycle have inevitably changed the nature of war reporting Today news bureaus are apt to learn of developments before the higher chains of command The author comments on key milestones that have contributed to this evolution Using his own and others experiences in recent conflicts including Korea the Falklands the Balkans Iraq and Afghanistan Moorcraft shares an aspect of warfare that is all too often overlooked but can be crucial to the outcome The public's attitude toward the day to day conduct of war is becoming ever more significant and this fascinating book examines why This is a brilliant history of war reporting from the mid nineteenth century's scribblers and snappers reporters and photographers to today's digital technology and instant communications

Public Administration and Policy in the Middle East Alexander R. Dawoody, 2014-09-22 The various and different Middle Eastern countries are addressing new key reform and governance reform processes but also administration and policy issues of enduring importance decentralization and local government non profit organizations political culture and reform of the policy process This book provides assessment of national strategies for reform in public administration and policy how these strategies have fared in implementation and what challenges must be overcome to achieve real and sustainable progress Seven country case studies will explore the overall policy making process from a critical perspective and consider how it could be strengthened Four cases will deal with the controversial issues of decentralization of power and decision making Two cases will address the role of civil society in the policymaking and reform process Introductory and concluding chapters will place these discussions in context and draw the primary lessons for policy makers The main objectives of the book are to present different examples of specific public policy and administration as well as governance issues in the Middle East so that policymakers both in the region and the world who are interested in the Middle East as well as practitioners scholars and graduate students can utilize the book as a study guide to better understand various dynamics in governance in the Middle East This approach will enable the volume to bridge global perspectives on governance development with regional perspectives and experience bringing shared expertise intellectual inquisitiveness and experience in the professional practice of public policy and administration to bear on these common challenges

The Intelligence War against the IRA Thomas Leahy, 2020-03-26 The exposure of two senior republicans as informers for British intelligence in 2005 led to a popular perception that the IRA had lost the intelligence war and was pressurised into peace In this first in depth study across the entire conflict Thomas Leahy re evaluates the successes and failures of Britain s intelligence activities against the IRA from the use of agents and informers to special forces surveillance and electronic intelligence Using new interview material alongside memoirs and Irish and UK archival materials he suggests that the IRA was not forced into peace by British intelligence His work sheds new light on key questions in intelligence and security studies How does British intelligence operate against paramilitaries Is it effective When should governments talk to terrorists And does regional variation explain the outcome of intelligence conflicts This is a major contribution to the history of the conflict and of why peace emerged in Northern Ireland

Dying for the nation Lucy Noakes, 2020-02-05 Death in war matters It matters to the individual threatened with their own death or the death of loved ones It matters to groups and communities who have to find ways to manage death to support the bereaved and to dispose of bodies amidst the confusion of conflict It matters to the state which has to find ways of coping with mass death that convey a sense of gratitude and respect for the sacrifice of both the victims of war and those that mourn in their wake This social and cultural history of Britain in the Second World War places death at the heart of our understanding of the British experience of conflict Drawing on a range of material Dying for the nation demonstrates just how much death matters in wartime and examines the experience management and memory of death The book will appeal to anyone with an interest in the social and cultural history of Britain in the Second World War

The Military's Role in Counterterrorism Geraint Hughes, 2011 The author examines historical and contemporary examples of military involvement in counterterrorism outlining the specific roles which the armed forces of liberal democracies have performed in combating terrorism both in a domestic and international context He describes the political strategic conceptual diplomatic and ethical problems that can arise when a state s armed forces become engaged in counterterrorism and argues that military power can only be employed as part of a coordinated counterterrorist strategy aimed at the containment and frustration rather than the physical elimination of the terrorist group s concerned The Cost of Counterterrorism Laura K. Donohue, 2008-04-14 In the aftermath of a terrorist attack political stakes are high legislators fear being seen as lenient or indifferent and often grant the executive broader authorities without thorough debate The judiciary s role too is restricted constitutional structure and cultural norms narrow the courts ability to check the executive at all but the margins The dominant Security or Freedom framework for evaluating counterterrorist law thus fails to capture an important characteristic increased executive power that shifts the balance between branches of government This book re calculates the cost of counterterrorist law to the United Kingdom and the United States arguing that the damage caused is significantly greater than first appears Donohue warns that the proliferation of biological and nuclear materials together with willingness on the part of extremists to sacrifice themselves may drive each country to take increasingly drastic measures with a resultant shift in the basic structure of both states
