Lusardi,2006 This book assembles a cast of sixteen distinguished theater historians and performance critics each of whom has contributed significantly to our understanding of issues associated with performing works of Shakespeare and his contemporaries. Their essays, all appearing in print for the first time, are presented in two groupings: a theater history and practice section in which contributors examine matters related to performance in Shakespeare's time and our own, and a performance criticism section in which contributors treat modern productions on stage and screen. In the theater history and practice section, Roslyn L. Knutson explores the 1599-1600 repertory of the Admiral's Men and the Chamberlain's Men, who performed in rival playhouses.
