Emerging Perspectives on Translanguaging in Multilingual University Classrooms Vimbai Mbirimi-Hungwe, Taurai Hungwe, Solly Matshonisa Seeletse, 2020-09-16 This collection highlights research conducted by academics from the fields of science and English language studies The contributions gathered here bring out the importance of using a translanguaging approach to teaching subject content The volume responds to the generally agreed custom among academics that translanguaging should only be used by language teachers and lecturers The practical descriptions of how translanguaging has been and can be used in science and maths classrooms show that translanguaging pedagogy should not be a tool to be used by language lecturers only The volume shows that there are emerging perspectives with regards to teaching maths and science where translingual pedagogy can be used as a vehicle towards assisting students to understand difficult academic concepts Tourism and Coastal Development in Japan Lesley Crowe-Delaney, 2021-02-12 This book explores contemporary tourism and coastal developments in Hyogo Japan the nation's only non peninsular prefecture bordering two oceans In striking detail Dr Lesley Crowe Delaney skillfully contextualizes tourism industry and policy illustrates coastal urban and rural development dichotomies discusses hegemonic devices of nationalism nature authenticity and tradition as embedded in tourism strategies and highlights the nuances of Japan's distinctive administrative systems and specific approaches to tourism Crowe Delaney reveals the strains placed on coastal communities when fisheries tourism sustainable development and national policies intersect offering readers an enlightening discourse of the potency of tourism as a rejuvenation tool Addressing Methodological Challenges in Interpreting Studies Research Claudio Bendazzoli, Claudia Monacelli, 2016-06-22 Using interaction as a fundamental springboard Addressing Methodological Challenges in Interpreting Studies Research showcases the major breakthrough in interpreting studies made by investigating community interpreting and the inherent high degree of participant interaction The book adds a reflexive twist and espouses the notion of the analyst as not separate from the context under study After looking at dialogue interpreters cast away from the carpeted walls of sound proof booths and deprived of the spotlighted lectern podium position at high level fora it has become clear that the interpreter's invisibility not to mention their neutrality is uppermost in the minds of both users and providers in terms of expectations Among all the participants in any mediated communicative situation it is the interpreter who is exceedingly visible and potentially most influential in shaping and coordinating the ongoing exchanges The book proposes that a similar view be applied to researchers engaged in interpreting research especially in empirical investigations Different forms of interaction between researchers and the data in their studies are inevitable This applies to every stage of their work ranging from all the pre analysis activities to the analysis itself and the post analysis stage in which results are disseminated in the research community and possibly the target population This volume will stand to benefit all those who work with researching language issues not only because of the various approaches covered in the volume but also because of the ways in which they are reframed as a result of shifting contextual constraints Seeing the City Nanke Verloo, Luca Bertolini, 2025-10-01 The city is a complex object Some researchers look at its shape others at its people animals ecology policy infrastructures buildings history art or technical networks Some researchers analyse processes of in or exclusion gentrification or social mobility others biological evolution traffic flows or spatial development Many combine these topics or add still more topics beyond this list Some projects cross the boundaries of research and practice and engage in action research while others pursue knowledge for the sake of curiosity This volume embraces this variety of perspectives and provides an essential collection of methodologies for studying the city from multiple interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary perspectives We start by recognizing that the complexity of the urban environment cannot be understood from a single vantage point We therefore offer multiple methodologies in order to gather and analyse data about the city and provide ways to connect and integrate these approaches The contributors form a talented network of urban scholars and practitioners at the forefront of their fields They offer hands on methodological techniques and skills for data collection and analysis Furthermore they reveal honest and insightful reflections from behind the scenes All methodologies are illustrated with examples drawn from the authors own research applying them in the city of Amsterdam In this way the volume also offers a rich collection of Amsterdam based research and outcomes that may inform local urban practitioners and policy makers Altogether the volume offers indispensable tools for and aims to educate a new generation of interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary minded urban scholars and practitioners
