Look At Me Now And Here I Am Writings And Lectures 1911 1945:

Look at Me Now and Here I Am Gertrude Stein, 2004 This volume of Gertrude Stein's writings attempts to dispel the obscurity and misunderstanding that surround her work by presenting for the first time in this country many of her lectures which clearly explain her philosophies and include her portraits of people and objects to encourage readers to make their own assessment of her literary importance Short Form American Poetry Will Montgomery, 2020-06-18 Reading a century of American poetry through the prism of short form this book analyses the centrality of an aesthetic of brevity to American modernist verse The Idiom of the Time Rod Mengham, 2010-08-26 In this 1982 study Dr Mengham sets out to uncover the systematic basis of the quality of secretiveness in Green's writing The Oxford Companion to Twentieth-century Literature in English Jenny Stringer, 1996 Survey of twentieth century English language writers and writing from around the world celebrating all major genres with entries on literary movements periodicals more than 400 individual works and articles on approximately 2 400 authors The Bloomsbury Companion to Modernist Literature Ulrika Maude, Mark Nixon, 2018-11-01 In this book leading international scholars explore the major ideas and debates that have made the study of modernist literature one of the most vibrant areas of literary studies today The Bloomsbury Companion to Modernist Literature offers a comprehensive guide to current research in the field covering topics including The modernist everyday emotion myth geographies and language scepticism Modernist literature and the arts music the visual arts cinema and popular culture Textual and archival approaches manuscripts genetic criticism and modernist magazines Modernist literature and science sexology neurology psychology technology and the theory of relativity The geopolitics of modernism globalization politics and economics Resources keywords and an annotated bibliography Theory for Ethnomusicology Harris Berger, Ruth Stone, 2019-05-31 Theory for Ethnomusicology Histories Conversations Insights Second Edition is a foundational work for courses in ethnomusicological theory The book examines key intellectual movements and topic areas in social and cultural theory and explores the way they have been taken up in ethnomusicological research New co author Harris M Berger and Ruth M Stone investigate the discipline's past present and future reflecting on contemporary concerns while cataloging significant developments since the publication of the first edition in 2008 A dozen contributors approach a broad range of theoretical topics alive in ethnomusicology Each chapter examines ethnographic and historical works from within ethnomusicology showcasing the unique contributions scholars in the field have made to wider transdisciplinary dialogs while illuminating the field's relevance and pointing the way toward new horizons of research New to this edition Every chapter in the book is completely new with richer and more comprehensive discussions New chapters have been added on gender and sexuality sound and voice studies performance and critical improvisation studies and theories of participation New text boxes and notes make connections among the chapters emphasizing points of contact and conflict among intellectual movements Out of Time? Elena Backhausen, Benjamin Wihstutz, Noa Winter, 2023-07-10 Out of Time has many different meanings amongst them outmoded out of step under time pressure no time left or simply delayed In the disability context it may also refer to resistant attitudes of living in crip time that contradict time as a linear process with a more or less predictable future According to Alison Kafer crip time bends the clock to meet disabled bodies and minds What does this mean in the disability arts What new concepts of accessibility crip futures and crip resistance can be staged or created by disability performance And how does the notion of out of time connect crip time with pandemic time in disability performance The collective volume seeks to respond to these questions by exploring crip time in disability performance as both a concept and a phenomenon The book tackles the topic from two angles on the one hand from a theoretical point of view that connects performance analysis with crip and performance theory on the other hand from a practice based perspective of disability artists who develop new concepts and dramaturgies of crip time based on their own lived experiences and observations in the field of the performing and disability arts The book gathers different types of text genres forms and styles that mirror the diversity of their authors Besides theoretical and academic chapters on disability performance the book also includes essays poems dramatic texts and choreographic concepts that reflect upon the alternative knowledge in the disability arts

The Labors of Modernism Mary Wilson, 2016-12-05 In The Labors of Modernism Mary Wilson analyzes the unrecognized role of domestic servants in the experimental forms and narratives of Modernist fiction by

Virginia Woolf Gertrude Stein Nella Larsen and Jean Rhys Examining issues of class gender and race in a transatlantic Modernist context Wilson brings attention to the place where servants enter literature the threshold In tracking their movements across the architectural borders separating indoors and outdoors and across the physical doorways between rooms Wilson illuminates the ways in which the servants who open doors symbolize larger social limits and exclusions as well as states of consciousness The relationship between female servants and their female employers is of particular importance in the work of female authors for whom the home and the novel are especially interconnected sites of authorization and domestication Modernist fiction Wilson shows uses domestic service to tame and interrogate not only issues of class but also the overlapping distinctions of racial and ethnic identities As Woolf Stein Larsen and Rhys use the novel to interrogate the limitations of gendered domestic ideologies they find they must deploy these same ideologies to manage the servant characters whose labor maintains the domestic spaces they find limiting Thus the position of servants in these texts forces the reader to recognize servants not just as characters but as conditions for the production of literature and of the homes in which literature is created general readers Reviews and Essays of Austin Clarke Austin Clarke, 1995 Austin Clarke is widely regarded as one of 20th century Ireland's most important poets. In this selection of nearly fifty essays and reviews written over Clarke's long career, he demonstrates that he is an astute and provocative literary critic as well. Having grown up in Dublin when the excitement of the Irish Literary Revival was still running high, Clarke knew many of the principal figures of that movement personally, and his readings of Yeats, Joyce, Synge, O'Casey, Lady Gregory, George Moore, and others enjoy the advantages of an insider's point of view. Moreover, committed in his own poetry to the basic assumption that fuelled the Literary Revival—that the most productive course for Irish literature lay in the direction not of England but of Ireland—Clarke, in his criticism, provides a way of understanding and judging the Revival's major writers in terms of their relationships to Ireland's rich literary and cultural traditions. At the same time, these essays call attention to a number of distinctly Irish but often overlooked writers working on the margins of the revival. As Yeats observed more than once, the Irish, for all the contributions that they have made to modern fiction, poetry, and drama, have fallen somewhat short in the genre of literary criticism. Austin Clarke's essays and reviews, many of which were written under a pseudonym and so not attributed to Clarke for years, go a long way towards filling that gap.

Pitch of Poetry Charles Bernstein, 2016-03-21 Bernstein, a leading voice in American literary theory, writes an irreverent guide to modernist and contemporary poetics.

Veteran Poetics Kate McLoughlin, 2018-05-24 In this first full-length study of the war veteran in literature, Kate McLoughlin draws new critical attention to a figure central to national life. Offering fresh readings of canonical and non-canonical works, she shows how authors from William Wordsworth to J.K. Rowling have deployed veterans to explore questions that are simultaneously personal, political, and philosophical: What does a community owe to those who serve it? What can be recovered from the past? Do people stay the same over time? Are there right times of life at which to do certain things? Is there value in experience? How can wisdom be shared? Veteran Poetics features veterans who travel in time, cause havoc with their reappearances, solve murders, refuse to stop talking about the wars they have been in, and refuse to say a word about them. Through this last trait, they also prompt consideration of possible critical responses to silence.

After Live Daniel Sack, 2015-08-20 An exploration of how live events—theater, dance, and installation art—stage encounters between the present and a radically ambivalent future.
