

A Traveler's Look at AUSTRALIA

The first harbor in the world? That did British Capt. Arthur Phillip point the ship where on January 26, 1788, he founded the continent's first European settlement, Sydney Cove. Thousands of special events throughout 1988 will celebrate the bicentennial of this beginning and the achievement of Australia: a nation of wide open spaces, outgoing people, and strange, marvelous animals. The bicentennial's theme, "Living Together," honors Australia's diverse ethnic groups, including its first inhabitants, the Aborigines.

How it came to being Australia was the first of the world's great island nations. It was discovered by Dutch explorers in 1606, but it was not until 1788 that the first European settlement was founded. The continent was then a vast, empty land, and it was not until the 19th century that it began to develop as a nation.

Climate Australia's climate is diverse, ranging from tropical in the north to temperate in the south. The interior is mostly arid, while the coastal areas are more fertile. The weather can be very hot in the summer and very cold in the winter.
