comes an intensely moving debut collection set in the eye of life's storms In Corpus Christi Texas a town often hit by hurricanes parents children and lovers come together and fall apart bonded and battered by memories of loss that they feel as acutely as physical pain A car accident joins strangers linked by an intimate knowledge of madness A teenage boy remembers his father's act of sudden and self-righteous violence A hurricane party reunites a couple whom tragedy parted And in an unforgettable three story cycle an illness sets in profound relief a man's relationship with his mother and the odd shifting fidelity of truth to love Told in fresh lyrical voices and taut inventive styles these narratives explore the complex volatility of love and intimacy sorrow and renewal and expose how often these experiences feel like the opposite of themselves From the woman whose young son's uncanny rapport with snakes illuminates her own missed opportunities to the man confronting his wife and her lover in a house full of illegal exotic birds all the characters here face moments of profound decision and recognition in which no choice is clearly or completely right Writing with tough humor deep humanity and a keen eye for the natural environment Bret Anthony Johnston creates a world where cataclysmic events cut people loose from their regular lives floating and spiraling away from where we had been the day before Corpus Christi is an extraordinarily ambitious debut It marks the arrival of an important exquisitely talented voice to American fiction

Scribner's Best of the Fiction Workshops, 1998 New Stories from the South Shannon Ravenel, 2001-09-14 Stories by writers with Southern backgrounds deal with the modern problems of life in the South Scribner's Best of the Fiction Workshops, 1999 John Kulka, 1999 The Habit of Art Anthony V. Ardiszone, 2005-09-29 The scientist has the habit of science the artist the habit of art Flannery O'Connor This collection of stories contains some of the best new short fiction from America The stories display a wide range of styles settings and themes In addition to being among the country s most talented prize winning writers the authors gathered in The Habit of Art also share a common bond as former members of the fiction workshop at Indiana University which celebrates its first 25 years with the publication of this book Short Story,1999 Dictionary of Literary Biography Yearbook 1999 Matthew Joseph Bruccoli,George Garrett,Richard Layman,2000-05 Updates entries already published and supplements the Dictionary of Literary Biography series with entries on newly prominent writers This Is Not Chick Lit Elizabeth Merrick,2006-08-01 Chick lit A genre of fiction that often recycles the following plot Girl in big city desperately searches for Mr Right in between dieting and shopping for shoes Girl gets dumped sometimes repeatedly Girl finds Prince Charming This Is Not Chick Lit is a celebration of America s most dynamic literary voices as well as a much needed reminder that for every stock protagonist with a designer handbag and three boyfriends there is a woman writer pushing the envelope of literary fiction with imagination humor and depth The original short stories in this collection touch on some of the same themes as chick lit the search for love and identity but they do so with extraordinary power creativity and range they are also political provocative and at turns utterly surprising Featuring marquee names as well as burgeoning talents This Is Not Chick Lit will nourish your heart and your mind Including these original stories The Thing Around Your Neck by Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie Two Days by Aimee Bender An Open Letter to Doctor X by Francine Prose Gabe by Holiday Reinhorn Documents of Passion Love by Carolyn Ferrell Volunteers Are Shining Stars by Curtis Sittenfeld Selling the General by Jennifer Egan The Seventy two Ounce Steak Challenge by Dika Lam Love Machine by Samantha Hunt Ava Bean by Jennifer S Davis Embrace by Roxana Robinson The Epiphany Branch by Mary Gordon Joan Jeanne La Pucelle Maid of Orl ans by Judy Budnitz Gabriella My Heart by Cristina Henr quez The Red Coat by Caitlin Macy The Matthew Effect by Binnie Kirshenbaum The Recipe by Lynne Tillman Meaning of Ends by Martha Witt Praise for This Is Not Chick Lit This Is Not Chick Lit is important not only for its content but for its title I ll know we re getting somewhere when equally talented male writers feel they have to separate themselves from the endless stream of fiction glorifying war hunting and sports by naming an anthology This Is Not a Guy Thing Gloria Steinem These voices diverse and almost eerily resonant offer us a refreshing breath of womanhood untamed ungroomed and unglossed Elle Diseases and Diagnoses Sander L. Gilman,2017-09-08 Diseases and Diagnoses discusses why such social problems as addiction sexually transmitted diseases racial predisposition for illness surgery and beauty and electrotherapy all of which concerned thinkers a hundred years ago are reappearing at a staggering rate and in diverse national contexts In the twentieth century such problems were viewed as only historical concerns Yet in the twenty first century we once again find ourselves confronting their implications In this fascinating volume Gilman looks at historical and contemporary debates about the stigma associated with biologically transmitted diseases He shows that there is no indisputable way to measure when a disease or therapy will reappear or how it may be perceived at any given moment in time Consequently Gilman focuses on the socio cultural and political implications that the reappearance of such diseases has had on contemporary society His approach is to show how culture embedded in cultural objects both feeds and is fed by the claims of medical science as for example the reappearance of race as a cultural as well as a medical category If the twentieth century was the age of physics in the latter part of the past century and certainly in the twenty first century biological concerns are recapturing central stage Achievements of the biological sciences are changing the public s sense of what constitutes cutting edge science and medicine None has captured the public imagination more effectively than the mapping of the human genome and the promise of genetic manipulation which fuel what Gilman calls a second age of biology Although not without controversy the role of genetics appears to be key Gilman puts contemporary debates in historical context showing how they feed social and cultural concerns as well as medical possibilities

If the Sky Falls Nicholas Montemarano,2005-10-01 If the Sky Falls is the debut short story collection from award winning fiction writer Nicholas Montemarano These eleven stories show why Jayne Anne Phillips has called Montemarano an American stylist capable of redeeming our darkest dreams Redemption in these intense and sometimes violent stories is found in the lyrical prose in the act of storytelling itself A young man tries to rescue his sister from her abusive lover and in the process must revisit his own family s violent history Note to Future Self a home healthcare worker pops pills and takes two men with cerebral palsy to a strip club The Usual Human Disabilities a man has a breakdown years after witnessing a brutal murder and doing nothing to help the victim The Other Man In The November Fifteen a man is taken from his home and tortured though he has no idea why when he returns home he finds a different kind of torture awaiting him Two of the stories Shift and the Pushcart Prize winning The Worst Degree of Unforgivable are stylistic tours de force But style in this collection is always at the service of story Montemarano s fiction maintains that rare balance between traditional storytelling and experimentation his work is innovative without being flashy sincere without being sentimental In an age of hype If the Sky Falls truly is the real thing an original and important achievement in the short story form

American Short Story since 1950 Kasia Boddy,2010-08-31 The American Short Story since 1950 offers a reappraisal and contextualisation of a critically underrated genre during a particularly rich period in its history It offers new readings of important stories by key writers including Flannery O'Connor, John Cheever, Donald Barthelme, Raymond Carver, Lorrie Moore, and Grace Paley. These readings are related throughout to the various contexts in which stories are written and published, including creative writing schools, story writing handbooks, mass market, and little magazines. New Stories from the South 2003 Shannon Ravenel, 2003-07-01. Many famous writers later: James Lee Burke, Barbara Kingsolver, Larry Brown, Tony Earley, William Gay. Ravenel still combs through over one hundred journals and magazines, regional and national, large and small, in search of the most talented authors coming out of the South. She still tracks down the newest voices before their breakouts, collecting the best renditions of the short story genre. New Stories from the South has become sine qua non in creative writing classes in Southern literature classes for any serious writer following the competition and above all for any lover of Southern literature. The stories in the eighteenth volume of NEW STORIES FROM THE SOUTH carry on that tradition. Among the eighteen writers making their mark in this year's volume are Michael Knight, Donald Hays, John Dufresne, ZZ Packer, and Chris Offutt. This year's preface is by the preeminent Southern humorist and NPR regular Roy Blount Jr. Each story is followed by the author's note about its origin. Readers will also find an updated list of magazines consulted by the editor and a complete list of all the stories selected each year since the series inception. Barnstorm Raphael Kadushin, 2005-02-28. Though the best American writers live everywhere now, a popular fiction persists: our strongest literary voices are strictly bi-coastal ones. Barnstorm sets out to disprove that cliché and to undermine another one as well: the sense of regional fiction as something quaint, slightly regressive, and full of local color. The stories in this collection capture our global reality with a ruthless, unaffected voice. Lorrie Moore's The Jewish Hunter is a dark romance that's by turns cynical and guileless. Mack Friedman catches the smoking feel of first love in his Setting the Lawn on Fire, and Jesse Lee Kercheval's Brazil is a raucous, ultimately mournful road trip. For Jane Hamilton, Wisconsin is a gorgeous but bittersweet homecoming, and for Kelly Cherry, in her achingly elegiac As It Is in Heaven, it's the hopeful new world juxtaposed with a bleak, tweedy England. Dwight Allen's The Green Suit evokes the young man edging toward adulthood in a New York that's as flamboyant as an opera, and Tenaya Darlington, in her A Patch of Skin, constructs a pure horror story because the horror of loneliness is something we all know. Together, Barnstorm's eclectic voices suggest that every coast now, even the Great Lakes shores, are at the very center of our best and truest national literature.
