Masaki Fujihata Geometric Love:

Provocative Plastics Susan Lambert, 2021-01-07 Plastics have now been our most used materials for over fifty years This book adopts a new approach exploring plastics contribution from two perspectives as a medium for making and their value in societal use The first approach examines the multivalent nature of plastics materiality and their impact on creativity through the work of artists designers and manufacturers The second perspective explores attitudes to plastics and the different value systems applied to them through current research undertaken by design materials and socio cultural historians The book addresses the environmental impact of plastics and elucidates the ways in which they can and must be part of the solution The individual viewpoints are provocative and controversial but together they present a balanced and scholarly un picking of the debate that surrounds this ubiquitous group of materials The book is essential reading for a wide academic readership interested in the Arts and Humanities especially Design and Design History Anthropology and Cultural Material and Social Histories Big Data—A New Medium? Natasha Lushetich, 2020-11-26 Drawing on a range of methods from across science and technology studies digital humanities and digital arts this book presents a comprehensive view of the big data phenomenon Big data architectures are increasingly transforming political questions into technical management by determining classificatory systems in the social educational and healthcare realms Data and their multiple arborisations have become new epistemic landscapes They have also become new existential terrains The fundamental question is can big data be seen as a new medium in the way photography or film were when they first appeared No new medium is ever truly new It s always remediation of older media What is new is the medium s re articulation of the difference between here and there before and after yours and mine knowable and unknowable possible and impossible This transdisciplinary volume incorporating cultural and media theory art philosophy history and political philosophy is a key resource for readers interested in digital humanities cultural and media studies 3D Printing for Artists, Designers and Makers Stephen Hoskins, 2018-02-08 Fully revised and with a new chapter and international case studies this second edition of the best selling book traces how artists and designers continue to adapt and incorporate 3D printing technology into their work and explains how the creative industries are directly interfacing with this new technology Covering a broad range of applied art practice from fine art and furniture design to film making Stephen Hoskins introduces some of his groundbreaking research from the Centre for Fine Print Research along with an updated history of 3D print technology a new chapter on fashion and animation and new case studies featuring artists working with metal plastic ceramic and other materials A fascinating investigation into how the applied arts continue to adapt to new technologies and a forecast of what developments we might expect in the future this book is essential reading for students researchers studying contemporary art and design and professionals involved in the creative industries Design & Applied Arts Index , 1989 Media art history Hans-Peter Schwarz, 1997 Media Art History defines the position of multimedia art now The catalogue section shows how mass media
