Empire of Conspiracy Timothy Melley, 2016-12-01 Why Timothy Melley asks have paranoia and conspiracy theory become such prominent features of postwar American culture In Empire of Conspiracy Melley explores the recent growth of anxieties about thought control assassination political indoctrination stalking surveillance and corporate and government plots At the heart of these developments he believes lies a widespread sense of crisis in the way Americans think about human autonomy and individuality Nothing reveals this crisis more than the remarkably consistent form of expression that Melley calls agency panic an intense fear that individuals can be shaped or controlled by powerful external forces Drawing on a broad range of forms that manifest this fear including fiction film television sociology political writing self help literature and cultural theory Melley provides a new understanding of the relation between postwar American literature popular culture and cultural theory Empire of Conspiracy offers insightful new readings of texts ranging from Joseph Heller s Catch 22 to the Unabomber

Manifesto from Vance Packard's Hidden Persuaders to recent addiction discourse and from the stalker novels of Margaret Atwood and Diane Johnson to the conspiracy fictions of Thomas Pynchon, William Burroughs, Don DeLillo and Kathy Acker. Throughout Melley finds recurrent anxieties about the power of large organizations to control human beings. These fears he contends indicate the continuing appeal of a form of individualism that is no longer wholly accurate or useful but that still underpins a national fantasy of freedom from social control.

The Last "Darky" Louis Chude-Sokei, 2006-01-16 Examines the use of Africa as a figure in the Harlem Renaissance and looks at the place of that movement within a wider Black modernism. The Bystander, 1918 Specters of Liberation Martin Beck Matuŋtik, Martin Joseph Matustik, Martin Joseph Matuŋtik, 1998-01-01 Advocates a new existential and political coalition among critical and postmodern social theorists and among critical gender, race and class theorists in dissent from the New World Order to raise specters of liberation and empower radical democratic change. Survey Practices and Landscape Photography Across the Globe Sophie Junge, Erin Hyde Nolan, 2022-12-05 This edited volume considers the many ways in which landscape seen and unseen is fundamental to placemaking, colonial settlement and identity formation. Collectively the book's authors map a constellation of interlocking photographic histories and survey practices decentering Europe as the origin of camera-based surveillance. The volume charts a conversation across continents connecting Europe, Africa, the Arab World, Asia and the Americas. It does not segregate places, histories and traditions but rather puts them in dialogue with one another, establishing solidarity across ever-shifting national, linguistic, racial, religious and ethnic. Refusing the neat organization of survey photographs into national or imperial narratives, these essays celebrate the messy, cross-cultural reverberations of landscape over the past 170 years. Considering the visual, social and historical networks in which these images circulate, this anthology connects the many entangled and political histories of photography in order to reframe survey practices and the multidimensionality of landscape as an international phenomenon. This book will be of interest to scholars in art history, history of photography and landscape history. A smaller English dictionary John Ogilvie, 1872

Comrades in Arms Tom Smith, 2020-02-03 Without question the East German National People's Army was a profoundly masculine institution that emphasized traditional ideals of stoicism, sacrifice and physical courage. Nonetheless, as this innovative study demonstrates, depictions of the military in the film and literature of the GDR were far more nuanced and ambivalent. Departing from past studies that have found in such portrayals an unchanging idealized masculinity, Comrades in
