Masked Gods Frank Waters, 1962      Masked Gods. Navaho and Pueblo Ceremonialism. (Second Edition. Illustrations and Calligraphy by Ralph Douglass.). Frank Waters, 1950      Landscapes of the Sacred Belden C. Lane, 2002 This substantially expanded edition of Belden C Lane's Landscapes of the Sacred includes a new introductory chapter that offers three new interpretive models for understanding American sacred space Lane maintains his approach of interspersing shorter and more personal pieces among full length essays that explore how Native American early French and Spanish Puritan New England and Catholic Worker traditions have each expressed the connection between spirituality and place A new section at the end of the book includes three chapters that address methodological issues in the study of spirituality the symbol making process of religious experience and the tension between place and placelessness in Christian spirituality

River Flowing from the Sunrise James M. Aton, Robert S. McPherson, 2000-12-15 The authors recount twelve millennia of history along the lower San Juan River much of it the story of mostly unsuccessful human attempts to make a living from the river's arid and fickle environment From the Anasazi to government dam builders from Navajo to Mormon herders and farmers from scientific explorers to busted miners the San Juan has attracted more attention and fueled more hopes than such a remote unpromising and muddy stream would seem to merit      Trials of the Visionary Mind John Weir

Perry, 1999-01-01 A comprehensive summary of the author's revolutionary approach to psychosis      American Indian Environments Christopher Vecsey, Robert W. Venables, 1980-12-01 Reflecting a variety of disciplines approaches and viewpoints this collection of ten essays by both Indians and non Indians covers a wide range of historical periods areas and topics concerning the changes in Indian environmental experiences Subjects include the role of the environment in religions white practices of land use and the exploitation of energy resources on reservations the historical background of sovereignty its philosophy and legality and the plight of various uprooted Indians and the resulting clashes between Indian groups themselves as they compete for scarce resources From the Canadian Subarctic to Ontario's Grassy Narrows from the Iroquois to the Navajo American Indian Environments is an important contribution to understanding the Indians attitude toward and dependence upon their environment and their continued struggles with non Indians over it      America's Religions Peter W. Williams, 2008 A panoramic introduction to religion in America newly revised and updated      Walks In Literary Santa Fe Barbara Harrelson, 2007-04-13 In Walks in Literary Santa Fe you will explore the storytelling traditions and cultural history of New Mexico and familiar landmarks This guidebook reveals the stories of historical and legendary figures that have lived in and written about the Land of Enchantment and its storied capital city An entertaining reference on regional literature and culture for residents and visitors alike this volume includes a Southwest literary timeline Southwest literature bibliography a list of New Mexico's literary classics plus contact details for local literary organizations booksellers and publishers along with information on regional writers retreats and conferences      Science, Religion and Society Arri

Eisen, Gary Laderman, 2015-03-04 This unique encyclopedia explores the historical and contemporary controversies between science and religion. It is designed to offer multicultural and multi religious views and provide wide ranging perspectives. Science Religion and Society covers all aspects of the religion and science dichotomy from humanities to social sciences to natural sciences and includes articles by theologians religion scholars physicians scientists historians and psychologists among others. The first section General Overviews contains essays that provide a road map for exploring the major challenges and questions in science and religion. Following this the Historical Perspectives section grounds these major questions in the past and demonstrates how they have developed into the six broad areas of contemporary research and discussion that follow. These sections Creation the Cosmos and Origins of the Universe Ecology Evolution and the Natural World Consciousness Mind and the Brain Healers and Healing Dying and Death and Genetics and Religion organize the questions and research that are the foundation of the enormous interest and controversy in science and religion today. CREATIVE ARTS

THERAPIES APPROACHES IN ADOPTION AND FOSTER CARE: Donna J. Betts, 2003-01-01 This volume presents perspectives of creative arts therapies approaches in adoption and foster care. Creative arts therapists will find this collection to be of particular relevance but the intention is to also introduce this subject to a wide range of clinicians including those in the associated professions of social work counseling psychology psychiatry nursing teaching and related fields. The chapters refer specifically to the development and contemporary application of creative arts therapies approaches in adoption and foster care. The chapters reflect the ways in which creative arts therapies can be applied in different settings and represent the spectrum of ideas in current practice. The first seven chapters focus on adoption and present theoretical perspectives on adoption adjustment that include psychodynamic attachment social role family systems stress and coping object relations trauma cognitive behavioral and biological perspectives. A variety of psychological constructs are explored such as trust attachment abandonment rejection self esteem identity integration grief and loss. These chapters also reflect types of work with specific adoption populations including international and transracial. Individual group and family therapy formats are outlined. Approaches to treatment including art drama music play and sand tray therapy are presented predominantly in case study format. In some cases diagnosis and assessment are discussed. In Part Two the five chapters that focus on foster care explore the creative arts therapist's role in the social system attachment and foster care research issues such as self esteem boundaries guilt shame loss ambivalence aggression splitting rejection trauma themes of abuse and neglect resilience and behavioral and emotional disturbances. Five chapters exploring transcultural and transracial issues are the focus of Part Three. This book will help meet a demand for ideas and practical information about this topic on the part of an audience reaching beyond the creative arts therapies. Comparative Theories of Nonduality Milton Scarborough, 2011-10-20 It is a commonplace that while Asia is nondualistic the West because of its uncritical reliance on Greek derived intellectual standards is dualistic. Dualism is a deep seated habit of thinking and acting in all spheres of life through the prism of binary opposites leads to paralyzing practical and theoretical difficulties Asia can provide no assistance for the foreseeable future because the West finds Asian nondualism especially that of Mahayana Buddhism too alien and nihilistic On the other hand postmodern thought which purports to deliver us from the dualisms embedded in modernity turns out to be merely a pseudo postmodernism This book's novel idea is that the West already contains within one of its more marginalized roots that of ancient Hebrew culture a pre philosophical form of nondualism which makes possible a new form of nondualism one to which the West can subscribe This new nondualism inspired by Buddhism but not identical to it is an epistemological ontological metaphysical and praxical middle way both for the West and also between East and West     Snake Drake

Stutesman,2005-11-15 Richly illustrated and written in an engaging style Snake is an invaluable resource for snake enthusiasts and scholars as well as for all who love admire or fear this fascinating and enduring animal     The Hoop and the Tree Chris Hoffman,2021-04-06

The tree is the vertical dimension of aspiration deepening individual growth and spiritual development The hoop is the circular representation of our relationship with humanity and the earth Using examples from Native American and other ancient traditions as well as modern psychology and systems science Chris Hoffman shows readers how to develop both parts of the whole to help people lead lives of balance and fulfillment     Medicine Women Jim

Kristofic,2019-04-15 In this detailed history Jim Kristofic traces the story of Ganado Mission on the Navajo Indian Reservation     The Navajo and Pueblo Silversmiths John Adair,1944 Probably no Native American handicrafts are more widely admired than Navajo weaving and Navajo and Pueblo silver work This book which is now in its third large printing contains the most important and complete account of Indian jewelry fashioned by the Navajo the Zuni the Hopi and other Pueblo peoples With the care of a meticulous and thorough scholar the author has told the story of his several years investigation of jewelry making among the Southwestern Indians says The Dallas Times Herald So richly decorative are the plates he uses that the conscientious narrative is surrounded by an atmosphere of genuinely exciting visual experience John Adair is a trained ethnologist who has lived and worked among these Indians To prepare his book Mr Adair made an exhaustive examination of the principal museum collections of Navajo and Pueblo silver work both early and modern in Santa Fe Colorado Springs Chicago New York and Philadelphia He visited trading posts in the Indian country and examined and photographed silver on the pawn racks and in important private collections He lived for a time among the Navajo watched them make their jewelry and actually learned to work silver himself in the hogan of one of the leading artisans Tom Burnsides Many of the photographs he made at the time are used as illustrations in this book He spent months among the Indians in New Mexico and Arizona and became personally acquainted with many of their silversmiths Later as field worker for the Indian Arts and Crafts Board he studied the economics of Navajo and Pueblo silversmithing and still later he became manager of the Navajo Arts and Crafts Guild a tribal enterprise The Navajo and Pueblo Silversmiths provides a full history of the craft and the actual names and localities of the pioneer craftsmen who introduced the art of the silversmith to their people Despite its present high stage of development with its many subtle and often exquisite designs the art of working silver is not an ancient one among the Navajo and Pueblo Indians There are men still living today who remember the very first silversmiths Mr Adair gives full details as he observed them of the methods and techniques of manufacture over a primitive forge with homemade tools He tells both of the fine pieces made for trade among the Indians themselves and of the newer cheaper types of jewelry produced for sale to tourists He discusses standards and qualities of Indian silver and describes the work of the Indian schools in helping preserve traditional design in the fine silver of today His excellent photographs of some of the most notable pieces old and new provide examples for evaluation This volume therefore will serve the layman the ethnologist and the dealer alike as a guide to proper values in Indian silver jewelry and will provide the basis for authoritative knowledge and appreciation of a highly skilled creative art

Pueblo Vincent Scully, 1989-05-05 The vast and beautiful landscape of the American Southwest has long haunted artists and writers seeking to understand the mysteries of the deep affinity between the land and the Native Americans who have lived on it for centuries In this pioneering study art historian Vincent Scully explores the inhabitants understanding of the natural world in an entirely original way by observing and analyzing the complex yet visible relationships between the landscape of mountain and desert the ancient ruins and the pueblos and the ceremonial dances that take place with them Scully sees these intricate dances as the most profound works of art yet produced on the American continent as human action entwined with the natural world and framed by architectural forms in which the Pueblos express their belief in the unity of all earthly things Scully's observations presented in lively prose and exciting photographs are based on his own personal experiences of the Southwest on his exploration of the region of the Rio Grande and the Hopi mesas on his witnessing of the dances and ceremonies of the Pueblos and others and on his research into their culture and history He draws on the vast literature inspired by the Native Americans from early exploration narratives to the writing of D H Lawrence to recent scholarship to enrich and support his unique approach to the subject To this second edition Scully has added a new preface that raises issues of preservation and development He has also written an extensive postscript that reassesses the relationship between nature and culture in Native American tradition and its relevance to contemporary architecture and landscape Coming to Pueblo architecture as he does from a provocative study of sacred architecture in ancient Greece Scully has much to say that is both striking and moving of the Pueblo attitudes toward sacred places the arrangement of structures in space the lives of men and beasts and man's relation to rain earth vegetation
