Maslow, 1954 A More Perfect Union Linda Sargent Wood, 2012-08-01 In 1962 when the Cold War threatened to ignite in the Cuban Missile Crisis when more nuclear test bombs were detonated than in any other year in history Rachel Carson released her own bombshell Silent Spring to challenge society's use of pesticides To counter the use of chemicals and bombs the naturalist articulated a holistic vision She wrote about a web of life that connected humans to the world around them and argued that actions taken in one place had consequences elsewhere Thousands accepted her message joined environmental groups flocked to Earth Day celebrations and lobbied for legislative regulation Carson was not the only intellectual to offer holistic answers to society's problems. This book uncovers a sensibility in post World War II American culture that both tested the logic of the Cold War and fed some of the twentieth century's most powerful social movements from civil rights to environmentalism to the counterculture. The study examines important leaders and institutions that embraced and put into practice a holistic vision for a peaceful, healthful and just world: nature writer Rachel Carson, structural engineer R Buckminster Fuller, civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr, Jesuit priest and paleontologist Pierre Teilhard de Chardin, humanistic psychologist Abraham Maslow and the Esalen Institute and its founders Michael Murphy and Dick Price. Each looked to whole systems instead of parts and focused on connections, interdependencies and integration to create a better world. Though the 60s dreams of creating a more perfect world were tempered by economic inequalities, political corruption and deep social divisions, this holistic sensibility continues to influence American culture today. Maslow's hierarchy of needs. An introduction Kevin John McGuire, 2012-07-12 Research Paper undergraduate from the year 2011 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade 1 3 University of applied sciences Munich language English abstract It would appear that the discussion of methods to motivate employees has become a never ending topic under those responsible for company personnel The question of how to get employees fully engaged with the goals of the company appears to remain a central issue in human resource management The difficulty might be in the continuing adjustment necessary in a changing company Keeping the employees involved in the frequently changing goals is more important than ever before in company management Sustained success of the company is only possible when the workers are included in the strategic planning But what means are available in the modern workplace to ensure that the employees remain satisfied and motivated One can consider Abraham Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs which was developed in the 40s and 50s in the USA His theory remains valid today for understanding human motivation management training and personal development Indeed Maslow's ideas surrounding the Hierarchy of Needs may be applicable The responsibility of employers to provide a workplace environment that encourages employees to fulfill their own potential self actualization is today more relevant than ever To visualize his theory and to illustrate the hierarchy needs Maslow developed a pyramid which was published in 1954 in his book Motivation and Personality Administrative Thinkers D.
