Mikhail Afanasevich Bulgakov, 2006-03-08 The Master and Margarita Mikhail Bulgakov's Master & Margarita, Or, The Devil Comes to Moscow Jean Claude Van Itallie, 1995 THE STORY The devil his acrobatic cat and other colorful cronies come to Stalin's Moscow to wreak hilarious surreal havoc on the lives of writers critics and bureaucrats who have lost touch with their feelings Satan sends some to the madhouse Noplace Like Home Amy C. Singleton, 1997-01-01 Explores the way that four major works of Russian literature Gogol's Dead Souls Goncharov's Oblomov Zamyatin's We and Bulgakov's The Master and Margarita define a cultural self for the Russian people Focusing on the deep cultural currents that pull Russian society in contradictory ways Noplace Like Home also explores the writer's struggle to overcome these tensions through the creation of a literary utopia Yuri Lyubimov: Thirty Years at the Taganka Theatre B. Beumers, 2003-09-02 A study of Yuri Lyubimov's tempestuous career and his style of theatre This work traces the development of his ideas from his arrival at the Taganka Theatre in 1964 through to his expulsion in 1984 and his period of exile in the West until his return in 1989 to a much changed Russia Russian Literature and Its Demons Pamela Davidson, 2000 Merezhkovsky's bold claim that all Russian literature is to a certain degree a struggle with the temptation of demonism is undoubtedly justified And yet despite its evident centrality to Russian culture the unique and fascinating phenomenon of Russian literary demonism has so far received little critical attention This substantial collection fills the gap A comprehensive analytical introduction by the editor is followed by a series of fourteen essays written by eminent scholars in their fields The first part explores the main shaping contexts of literary demonism the Russian Orthodox and folk tradition the demonization of historical figures and views of art as intrinsically demonic The second part traces the development of a literary tradition of demonism in the works of authors ranging from Pushkin and Lermontov Gogol and Dostoevsky through to the poets and prose writers of modernism including Blok Akhmatova Bely Sologub Rozanov Zamyatin and through to the end of the 20th century The Image of Christ in Russian Literature John Givens, 2018-05-29 Vladimir Nabokov complained about the number of Dostoevsky's characters sinning their way to Jesus In truth Christ is an elusive figure not only in Dostoevsky's novels but in Russian literature as a whole The rise of the historical critical method of biblical criticism in the nineteenth century and the growth of secularism it stimulated made an earnest affirmation of Jesus in literature highly problematic If they affirmed Jesus too directly writers paradoxically risked diminishing him either by deploying faith explanations that no longer persuade in an age of skepticism or by reducing Christ to a mere argument in an ideological dispute The writers at the heart of this study understood that to reimage Christ for their age they had to make him known through indirect even negative ways lest what they say about him be mistaken for cliché doctrine or naïve apologetics The Christology of Dostoevsky Leo Tolstoy Mikhail Bulgakov and Boris Pasternak is thus apophatic because they deploy negative formulations saying what God is not in their writings about Jesus Professions of atheism in Dostoevsky and Tolstoy's non-divine Jesus are but separate negative paths toward truer discernment of Christ This first study in English of the image of Christ in Russian literature highlights the importance of apophaticism as a theological practice and a literary method in understanding the Russian Christ It also emphasizes the importance of skepticism in Russian literary attitudes toward Jesus on the part of writers whose private crucibles of doubt produced some of the most provocative and enduring images of Christ in world literature This important study will appeal to scholars and students of Orthodox Christianity and Russian literature as well as educated general readers interested in religion and nineteenth century Russian novels

Women's Works in Stalin's Time Beth Holmgren, 1993 Holmgren gives a superb comparative analysis of the literary legacy of the two memoirists Times Literary Supplement Beth Holmgren's book is a highly original and very productive critical appraisal of the work of Liukia Chukovskaia and Nadezhda Mandelstam The Russian Review This fine book with its copious informative notes and good bibliography will interest students of 20th century literature and theorists of autobiography feminist criticism and gender studies Choice a fascinating book that provides a powerful testament to the strength and endurance of women in a particularly ghastly period of history Signs impressive eloquently written an integrated comparative study of two very different female survivors of the Stalinist night Caryl Emerson a bold scholarly act The writing is excellent throughout Barbara Heldt Two extraordinary women writers are evoked as models of women's heroic roles in preserving Russian culture in Stalin's time A fresh and eloquent approach to the literature of the Stalinist age
