Reineke, 2014-10-01 For Ren Girard human life revolves around mimetic desire which regularly manifests itself in acquisitive rivalry when we find ourselves wanting an object because another wants it also Noting that mimetic desire is driven by our sense of inadequacy or insufficiency Girard arrives at a profound insight our desire is not fundamentally directed toward the other's object but toward the other's being We perceive the other to possess a fullness of being we lack Mimetic desire devolves into violence when our quest after the being of the other remains unfulfilled So pervasive is mimetic desire that Girard describes it as an ontological illness In Intimate Domain Reineke argues that it is necessary to augment Girard's mimetic theory if we are to give a full account of the sickness he describes Attending to familial dynamics Girard has overlooked and reclaiming aspects of his early theorizing on sensory experience Reineke utilizes psychoanalytic theory to place Girard's mimetic theory on firmer ground Drawing on three exemplary narratives Proust's In Search of Lost Time

Sophocles's Antigone and Julia Kristeva's The Old Man and the Wolves the author explores familial relationships Together these narratives demonstrate that a corporeal hermeneutics founded in psychoanalytic theory can usefully augment Girard's insights thereby ensuring that mimetic theory remains a definitive resource for all who seek to understand humanity's ontological illness and identify a potential cure Inferno Allen Mandelbaum, Anthony Oldcorn, Charles Ross, 2023-04-28 This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1998 Monsters in Our Midst Robert Bloch, 1995-02 The author of Psycho has collected new stories of sadists and psychopaths from 17 authors including Ray Bradbury Lisa W Cantrell Ramsey Campbell John Coyne Lawrence Sanders Block Jonathan Carroll Ed Gorman and Charles L Grant Reprint Model Machines Long T. Recovering 1940s Horror Cinema Mario DeGiglio-Bellemare, Charlie Ellb , Kristopher Woofert, 2014-12-11

The 1940s is a lost decade in horror cinema undervalued and written out of most horror scholarship This collection revises reframes and deconstructs persistent critical binaries that have been put in place by scholarly discourse to label 1940s horror as somehow inferior to a classical period or canonical mode of horror in the 1930s especially as represented by the monster films of Universal Studios The book s four sections re evaluate the historical political economic and cultural factors informing 1940s horror cinema to introduce new theoretical frameworks and to open up space for scholarly discussion of 1940s horror genre hybridity periodization and aesthetics Chapters focused on Gothic and Grand Guignol traditions operating in forties horror cinema 1940s proto slasher films the independent horrors of the Poverty Row studios and critical reevaluations of neglected hybrid films such as The Vampire s Ghost 1945 and slippery auteurs such as Robert Siodmak and Sam Neufeld work to recover a decade of horror that has been framed as having fallen victim to repetition exhaustion and decline

History of Denver Jerome Smiley, 1903 History of Denver Jerome Constant Smiley, 1901 Virgin Mary and the Neutrino Isabelle Stengers, 2023-09-22

In Virgin Mary and the Neutrino first published in French in 2006 and here appearing in English for the first time Isabelle Stengers experiments with the possibility of addressing modern practices not as a block but through their divergence from each other Drawing on thinkers ranging from John Dewey to Gilles Deleuze she develops what she calls an ecology of practices into a capacious and heterogeneous perspective that is inclusive of cultural and political forces but not reducible to them Stengers first advocates for an approach to sciences that would emphasize the way each should be situated by the kind of relationships demanded by what it attempts to address This approach turns away from the disabling scientific nonscientific binary like the opposition between the neutrino and the Virgin Mary An ecology of practices instead stimulates an appetite for thinking reality not as an arbiter but as what we can relate to through the generation of diverging concerns and obligations

The Throne, the Lamb & the Dragon Paul Spilsbury, 2009-09-20

The book of Revelation has long intrigued puzzled and even frightened its readers Surely it is the most misunderstood book in the Bible And some faulty interpretations of Revelation are so entrenched in the consciousness of Christians that they are regarded as gospel truth and provide riveting plot lines for end time fiction But behind the ancient multimedia show that is Revelation lies a message both simple and profound It is told in a language and grammar of faith that was clearly understood by its first Christian audience Much as a music video would scarcely have been understood by first century citizens though it is immediately understood by youthful audiences today so we are puzzled by and misread Revelation Paul Spilsbury has studied Revelation in the company of its best interpreters those who have taken the time to enter the minds of the first century Christians for whom it was originally written And what has he found Within the central images of a throne a lamb and a dragon lies the answer the gospel clearly proclaimed the glory of God awesomely illumined the work of Christ memorably embodied the nature of evil hauntingly disclosed Here is a guide that will help us hear Revelation speak once again inspiring grateful worship and calling us to costly discipleship
