Historical Dictionary of the World Bank Sarah Tenney, Anne C. Salda, 2013-10-30 When it was founded back in 1944 no one could possibly have foreseen how the World Bank known more formally as the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development IBRD would flourish Today with 188 members it is by far the largest lender for projects in agriculture health infrastructure and many other fields in developing countries around the world with a budget of billions of dollars and a staff of more than 9 000 and its advice is usually heeded by both the developing countries which borrow from it and the advanced ones which contribute This second edition of the Historical Dictionary of the World Bank shows the substantial progress the Bank has made this mainly through the dictionary section with concise entries on its component institutions related organizations its achievements in various fields some of the major projects and member countries and its various presidents The introduction explains how the Bank works while the chronology traces the major events over nearly 70 years Meanwhile the list of acronyms reminds us just who the main players are And the bibliography directs readers to useful

Murphy, Harm J. de Blij, 2009-01-27 Taking us from our hominid ancestors to the megacities of today Human Geography brings a new emphasis to the political and economic issues of human geography Turkmenistan Zvi Lerman, Karen McConnell Brooks, 2001-01-01 This study on Turkmenistan is the latest addition to a long and growing series of World Bank publications on land reform and farm restructuring in the former socialist countries of Europe and Central Asia The present report combines an analysis of the 1998 farm survey overview of general agricultural policies and sectoral performance Survey results are preceded by a sectoral review and a description of emerging legal framework for land reform and farm restructuring Private Agriculture in Armenia Zvi Lerman, Astghik Mirzakhian, 2001-01-01 This book details and analyzes an extensive farm survey of Armenian land reform Zvi Lerman and Astghik Mirzakhian two principal contributors to the design of the study present their invaluable insight into the rapid land reform strategy implemented in Armenia Unique among the former Soviet Republics the entire agricultural sector of this country shifted from collective large scale farm enterprises to individual production in 1992 The authors pay special attention to the commercialization of private farms and their access to supply and marketing channels outside the old state controlled system Family incomes from farming and off farm sources are discussed as well as problems of rural social services and social infrastructure The authors demonstrate how official statistical measures and record keeping practices in Armenia do not adequately account for this dramatic transition Regional analysis of the nationally determined contributions in the Near East and North Africa Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2022-03-07 This report provides a unique sector specific synthesis of the agriculture water and land use sectors in the nationally determined contributions from Near East and North Africa It summarizes the substantial contributions already put forward by countries opportunities for further action and the gaps barriers and needs that will need to be addressed if the region is to raise mitigation and adaptation ambitions The findings of this report will help member countries to reflect on their progress in advancing toward nationally determined contributions priorities for agriculture water and land use and associated national climate goals including related targets under the Sustainable Development Goals The analysis also helps to make clear the links between the nationally determined contributions from the region and the ongoing work of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change in support of the Koronivia Joint Work on Agriculture KJWA Finally the report serves as a guide to the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations as well as other international actors of the support that will be required to help countries in the region move forward to implement agriculture water and land use priorities in their NDCs and ensure that future commitments from the sector are quantifiable verifiable and sufficiently ambitious Human Geography Erin Hogan Fouberg, Alexander B. Murphy, Harm J. De Blij, 2015 Farm Sector Restructuring in Belarus Csaba Csáki, Zvi Lerman, Serge? Sotnikov, 2000 Agriculture remains the main source of employment and livelihood for the large rural population of many transition countries especially among the former Soviet republics Accordingly the World Bank continuously monitors the progress of land reform and farm restructuring in the region because of the potential impact of these processes on rural development and poverty alleviation in rural areas The present study on Belarus is the latest addition to a long and growing series of World Bank publications on land reform and farm restructuring in the former socialist countries of Europe and Central Asia The unique features of all these publications is their reliance on first hand empirical information collected through extensive farm surveys of various rural constituencies Analysis of survey findings enables the World Bank to base its policy dialogue with governments in the region on solid empirical facts making the Bank s recommendations more credible and relevant The survey findings in this volume will provide a platform for useful policy discussions with this country s government and supply international donors that are active there with essential information to design their strategic programs
