also railroad towns a World War II relocation center a promoter's swindle and a failed socialist colony Some excellent attractions remain One of the best preserved stamp mills in the West is in Skidoo Smelters homes stores and the remarkable wooden American Hotel can be found in Cerro Gordo which the author calls California's best true ghost town Seasoned back roads traveler Philip Varney who has visited nearly a hundred ghost towns in the area provides a down to earth and helpful guide to more than sixty of the best in Southern California and nearby Inyo and Kern counties He defines a ghost town as a town with a population markedly decreased from its peak one whose initial reason for settlement no longer keeps people there It can be completely deserted have a resident or two or retain genuine signs of vitality but Varney has eliminated those towns he considers either too populated or too empty of significant remains The sites are grouped in four chapters in Inyo County Death Valley the Mojave Desert and Kern River and the regions surrounding Los Angeles and San Diego Each chapter provides a map of the region a ranking of sites as major secondary and minor information on road conditions trip suggestions and tips on the use of particular topographic maps for readers interested in more detailed exploration Each entry includes directions to a town a brief history of that town and notes on its special points of interest Current photographs provide a valuable record of the sometimes fragile sites Southern California's Best Ghost Towns will be welcomed both by those who enjoy traveling off the beaten path and by those who enjoy the history of the American West

American Heritage History of the Pioneers Richard M. Ketchum, 2015-10-12 America's story is made up of many elements but through it have coursed two main streams that have nourished and carried a people forward to a destiny that was beyond all imagining when the story began One of these is an idea that goes back to the rim of recorded time It was first a dim gnawing hope that the future lay in a magic land off to the west Once that land was found it drew people to it like a magnet It is easy to say that it was gold or precious stones or land that led them on for it was all of these Yet it was more and here was the second great stream of American history There was something that literally drove people westward goading them across the endless mountains through steep passes across searing plains and desert into the face of terrors known and those unguessed It was vision It was courage It was at times the sheer joy of overcoming fantastic obstacles And it was also the conviction that what they were doing was different from anything that had happened before that nothing would ever be quite the same again and that the world would be a better place for what they had accomplished Eastward I go only by force Henry David Thoreau said but westward I go free The sleep of 100 centuries was stirred up in that surge toward the sunset for out of it emerged not only a new people and a new nation but a force that changed the globe
