McWayne,Fabienne Doucet,Susan M. Sheridan,2019-05-09 This book explores family school partnerships and how they can be most effectively leveraged to ensure academic success for students from socioculturally diverse backgrounds It presents an innovative framework for building collaborative learning partnerships with culturally diverse families for improved student achievement and more meaningful ties between schools and their communities It promotes understanding of familial and communal knowledge and recognizing families resilience in addressing academic social and linguistic barriers Chapters reimagine family school partnerships within a context of shared power and authority examine a spectrum of interventions that support culture based modes of learning and emphasize the potential for transformative learning to occur when students out of school lives are understood and meaningfully leveraged in school Chapters also discuss how to foster bridges between parents and teachers provide teachers with access to the rich cognitive and cultural resources of families and enable all parties to begin viewing families as truly equal partners in children s education The book concludes with a commentary chapter that identifies necessary areas for further research Topics featured in this volume include The contribution of racial and ethnic socialization to family school partnerships during early childhood Fathers and their role in family school partnerships The importance of Indigenous family engagement in systems of education Home school partnerships and mixed status immigrant families in the United States Family school partnership research with the migrant and seasonal farm working community The role of humility in working with families across international contexts Interventions that promote home to school links Ethnocultural Diversity and the Home to School Link is a must have resource for researchers professionals and graduate students in education child and school psychology educational policy and politics family studies developmental psychology sociology of education and anthropology

Handbook of Early Literacy Research Susan B. Neuman, David K. Dickinson, 2011-10-10 The field of early literacy has seen significant recent advances in theory research and practice These volumes bring together leading authorities to report on current findings integrate insights from different disciplinary perspectives and explore ways to provide children with the strongest possible literacy foundations in the first 6 years of life The Handbook first addresses broad questions about the nature of emergent literacy summarizing current knowledge on cognitive pathways biological underpinnings and the importance of cultural contexts Chapters in subsequent sections examine various strands of knowledge and skills that emerge as children become literate as well as the role played by experiences with peers and families Particular attention is devoted to the challenges involved in making schools work for all children including members of linguistic and ethnic minority groups and children living in poverty Finally approaches to instruction assessment and early intervention are described and up to date research on their effectiveness is presented
