Nowotny, 2012-12-06 BERNW ARD JOERGES AND HELGA NOWOTNY YET ANOTHER TURN The thing that doesn't fit is the thing that's most interesting Richard Feynman This volume was originally conceived as a contribution to yet another turn not captured by one of the many adjectives that have served to describe the collective meandering of the scholarly community in search of direction It was meant to mark the millennial turn a seemingly purely chronological event but one in search for great meanings and invested with loaded significances The editors wanted to seize the opportunity of the moment in order to pause and reflect on the sociology and history of social studies of science and technology The moment came and went and the new millennium barely nine months later thrust its historical marker upon the world through a horrendous and cruel shock in an unforeseen and unforeseeable way Since then the world appears more vulnerable and volatile fragmented and fraught with uncertainty The universal values bequeathed by the Enlightenment are either refused or appear refuted The dream of a universal civilization which has accompanied the unfolding of the existing multiple modernities in their historically unique trajectories has been discarded and its promises in tatters New Frontiers in International Communication Theory Mehdi Semati, 2004-10-26 New Frontiers in International Communication Theory offers a wide ranging assessment of the present state of the field of international communication and charts new directions for theory and research It brings together renowned and emerging scholars who challenge the field to move beyond the limits of existing formulations approaches and trajectories providing an alternative and a supplement to traditional approaches in analysis and study In rethinking the central problematics of the field exploring established and new tools and models of inquiry and articulating new research agendas this interdisciplinary collection anticipates the future of international communication studies The Postzionism Debates Laurence J. The Art of Being Free Mark Reinhardt, 2019-06-30

The art of being free is an essential part of democracy It involves Mark Reinhardt believes bringing into being the multiple spaces in and practices through which individuals and groups help to constitute their lives their selves their worlds Americans are presently witnessing a contraction of officially sanctioned spaces for citizen action It is now crucial Reinhardt argues to identify ways of opening new spaces for the direct practice of democratic politics Reinhardt treats the writings of Alexis de Tocqueville Karl Marx and Hannah Arendt as exemplary sources for an expansion of political possibility These writers indicate where and how the new spaces can be brought into being and they reveal acts of making space as some of the prime moments of politics Reinhardt s extended readings of these writers never previously treated together are quite unlike the familiar understandings of their thought Taking liberties he brings the literary and political sensibility usually associated with postmodernism to a sympathetic if critical encounter with eminently modern thinkers The result is a strong and idiosyncratic book accessible and stylish that mixes acute readings of canonical thinkers with more practical applications and illustrations Reinhardt combines attention to textual detail and nuance with concern for contemporary politics discussing as an unusually inventive example the AIDS activist group ACT UP

Real Toads in Imaginary Gardens Maureen Whitebrook, 1995 Maureen Whitebrook argues that literature through both its form and its content can expose and criticize liberal theory and point beyond it to a new political theory She describes how literary political criticism might be done and demonstrates such criticism in four essays that expose the connections between specific political and literary texts Fiction Whitebrook concludes does a better job than liberal political theory of examining the relationship between the individual and the State

McManus,2005-06-03 Fictive Theories is a significant and innovative intervention in key debates in political theory concerning the ways theory should be philosophically grounded and the task that political theory should set itself Susan McManus argues that political theory has been grounded in controlling fictions from fictions of human nature to morals laws that function to close possibility Starting by interrogating the often hidden work of fictions in political theories she argues that all theorizing is a form of world creating Rather than hiding the fictions at work in political theory McManus argues that theory should become self consciously fictive and that there are political and ethical advantages to so doing She then develops a uniquely deconstructive and utopian understanding of the project of political theory grounded in the fictive a creative and future oriented imagination Rather than seeking to provide blueprints of how a polity should be organized fictive theories seek to fabricate futures through the anticipatory articulation of possibility Drawing on a rich range of thinkers from the traditions of political theory Hobbes Rousseau Kant deconstructive theory Roland Barthes Jacques Derrida and utopian studies Ernst Bloch this book will be of interest to researchers teachers and students in the fields of political theory utopian studies literary theory and cultural studies

Kupferman,2012-08-11 Schooling in the region known as Micronesia is today a normalized ubiquitous and largely unexamined habit As a result many of its effects have also gone unnoticed and unchallenged By interrogating the processes of normalization and governmentality that circulate and operate through schooling in the region through the deployment of Foucaultian conceptions of power knowledge and subjectivity this work destabilizes conventional notions of schooling s neutrality self evident benefit and its role as the key to contemporary notions of so called political economic and social development This work aims to disquiet the idea that school today is both rooted in some distant past and a force for decolonization and the postcolonial moment Instead through a genealogy of schooling the author argues that school as it is currently practiced in the region is the product of the present emerging from the mid 1960s shift in US policy in the islands the very moment when the US was trying to simultaneously prepare the islands for putative self determination while producing ever increasing colonial relations through the practice of schooling The work goes on to conduct a genealogy of the various subjectivities produced through this present schooling practice notably the student the teacher and the child parent family It concludes by offering a counter discourse to the normalized narrative of schooling and suggests that what is displaced and foreclosed on by that narrative in fact holds a possible key to meaningful decolonization and self determination
