Teaching Literature Rhetorically Jennifer Fletcher, 2023-10-10 English language arts teachers often find themselves defending their discipline and the practical values it has When will I read this again is an all too common question heard in classrooms Author Jennifer Fletcher faced the same questions and more In Teaching Literature Rhetorically Transferable Literacy Skills for 21st Century Students she shows you how to help your students develop transferable literacy skills that allow them to succeed not just in their English language arts classes but in their future lives and careers The book is built around eight high utility literacy skills and practices that will help students communicate effectively and with confidence as they navigate important transitions in their lives Integrating skills and knowledge from texts Reading closely and critically Assessing rhetorical situations Negotiating different perspectives Developing and supporting a line of reasoning Analyzing genres Communicating with self and others in mind Reading and writing with passion Teaching Literature Rhetorically offers readers writing prompts readings discussion questions graphic organizers as well as examples of student work and activities for helping students to understand key rhetorical concepts As Fletcher writes in her introduction rhetorical thinking promotes the transfer of learning the single most important goal we can have as teachers if we hope to have a positive impact on our students lives This book will help teachers everywhere do just that

Rhetoric's Questions, Reading and Interpretation Peter Mack, 2017-08-20 This book aims to help readers interpret and reflect on their reading more effectively It presents doctrines of ancient and renaissance rhetoric an education in how to write well as questions or categories for interpreting one's reading. The first chapter presents the questions. Later chapters use rhetorical theory to bring out the implications of and suggest possible answers to the questions about occasion and audience. Chapter 2 structure and disposition. 3 narrative. 4 argument. 5 further elements of content such as descriptions, comparisons, proverbs, and moral axioms, dialogue, and examples. 6 and style. 7 Chapter eight describes ways of gathering material, formulating arguments, and writing about the texts one reads. The conclusion considers the wider implications of taking a rhetorical approach to reading. The investigation of rhetoric's questions is interspersed with analyses of texts by Chaucer, Sidney, Shakespeare, Fielding, and Rushdie using the questions. The text is intended for university students of literature, especially English literature and rhetoric, and their teachers.

Writing Rhetorically Jennifer Fletcher, 2023-10-10. In Writing Rhetorically: Fostering Responsive Thinkers and Communicators, author Jennifer Fletcher aims to cultivate independent learners through rhetorical thinking. She provides teachers with strategies and frameworks for writing instruction that can be applied across multiple subjects and lesson plans. Students learn to discover their own questions, design their own inquiry process, develop their own positions and purposes, make their own choices about content and form, and contribute to conversations that matter to them. Inside this book, Fletcher helps remove some of the scaffolding and explains how to put in practice some methods which can successfully foster Inquiry, Invention, and Rhetorical Thinking. Writing for Transfer: Paraphrasing, Summary, Synthesis, and Citation Skills, Research Skills and Processes, Evidence-Based Reasoning, Rhetorical Decision Making. Rhetorical decision making helps students develop the skills, knowledge, and mindsets needed for transfer of learning, the ability to adapt and apply learning in new settings. The more choices students make as writers, the better prepared they are to analyze and respond to diverse rhetorical situations. Writing Rhetorically shows teachers what it looks like to dig into real texts with students and novice writers and how it develops them for lifelong learning.

Rhetorical Poetics Donald Rice, Peter Schofer, 1983. The current renewed interest in rhetoric, particularly as it relates to the art of literary interpretation, has returned tropes to their central position in the reading process. In this incisive volume, Donald Rice and Peter Schofer provide a sound and systematic redefinition of the major tropes and demonstrate how every act of reading is necessarily rooted in those tropological operations. The implications of their study are far-reaching. By identifying the rhetorical steps that must be followed in explicating any literary work, Rice and Schofer provide the reader with a clear guide to fiction of all genres and periods. Anyone involved in literary interpretation and looking for a model that promises a heightened appreciation and grasp of figurative texts will welcome the resulting volume.

Readings in Rhetorical Fieldwork Samantha Senda-Cook, Aaron Hess, Michael Middleton, Danielle Endres, 2018-09-05. Readings in Rhetorical Fieldwork compiles foundational articles highlighting the development of fieldwork in rhetorical criticism. Presenting a wide variety of approaches, the volume begins with a section establishing the starting points for the development of fieldwork in rhetorical criticism and then examines five topics: Space, Public Memory, Publics and Counterpublics, Advocacy and Activism, and Science, Technology, and Medicine.

Within these sections readers evaluate a full spectrum of methods from interviews to oral histories to participant observation. This volume is invaluable for advanced undergraduate and graduate students of rhetorical criticism, rhetorical fieldwork, and qualitative methods looking for a comprehensive overview of the development of rhetorical fieldwork. Understanding Rhetoric Eamon M. Cunningham, 2020-01-01. Understanding Rhetoric: A Guide to Critical Reading and Argumentation is a composition textbook that outlines three essential skills: rhetoric, argument, and source-based writing, geared towards newcomers and advanced students alike. Though comprehensive in its coverage, the book's focus is a simple one: how to move beyond a gut reaction while reading to an articulation of what is effective and what is not, while explicitly answering the most important question of "Why?" This text gets at this central concern in two fundamental ways. First, the text teaches composition as a cumulative process, coaching you how to question, challenge, and expand on not just the readings you hold in your hands but also how to interrogate the internal processes of writing and thinking. The book's blend of composition methods details the cross point of product and process to turn reading and writing from a matter of coming up with answers to questions to learning what type of questions need to be asked in the first place. The right questions, the text argues, are fundamentally rhetorical in nature. Second, the content of the practice-based chapters is framed into a larger mesh of intellectual history to show how the writing and thinking you are doing today is continuous with a long history of writing instruction that goes back to the ancient world. This book provides equal representation from classical and contemporary theory with the recognition that theory cannot be fully grasped without practice and practice cannot be fully understood without its theoretical antecedent. After all, you can't write outside the box until you know where the box is and what it looks like. Digital Reading and Writing in Composition Studies Mary R. Lamb, Jennifer M. Parrott, 2019-03-13. As digital reading has become more productive and active, the lines between reading and writing become more blurred. This book offers both an exploration of collaborative reading and pedagogical strategies for teaching reading and writing that reflect the realities of digital literacies. This edited scholarly collection offers strategies for teaching reading and writing that highlight the possibilities, opportunities, and complexities of digital literacies. Part 1 explores reading and writing that happen digitally and offers frameworks for thinking about this process. Part 2 focuses on strategies for the classroom by applying reading theories, design principles, and rhetorical concepts to instruction. Part 3 introduces various disciplinary implications for this blended approach to writing instruction. What is emerging is new theories and practices of reading in both print and digital spaces, theories that account for how diverse student readers encounter and engage digital texts. This collection contributes to this work by offering strategies for sustaining reading and cultivating writing in this landscape of changing digital literacies. The book is essential for the professional development of beginning teachers who will appreciate the historical and bibliographic overview as well as classroom strategies, and for busy veteran teachers who will gain updated knowledge and a renewed commitment to teaching an array of literacy skills. It will be ideal for graduate seminars in composition theory and pedagogy, both undergraduate and graduate and teacher education courses and will be key reading for scholars in rhetoric and composition interested in composition history assessment communication studies and literature pedagogy Writing Spaces:

Readings on Writings, Vol. 1 Charles Lowe, Pavel Zemliansky, Volumes in Writing Spaces Readings on Writing offer multiple perspectives on a wide range of topics about writing much like the model made famous by Wendy Bishop's The Subject Is series In each chapter authors present their unique views insights and strategies for writing by addressing the undergraduate reader directly Drawing on their own experiences these teachers as writers invite students to join in the larger conversation about developing nearly every aspect of the craft of writing Consequently each essay functions as a standalone text that can easily complement other selected readings in writing or writing intensive courses across the disciplines at any level Reading and Writing Instruction in the Twenty-First Century Ellen C. Carillo, 2021-08-02

Robert Scholes passed away on December 9 2016 leaving behind an intellectual legacy focused broadly on textuality Scholes's work had a significant impact on a range of fields including literary studies composition and rhetoric education media studies and the digital humanities among others In Reading and Writing Instruction in the Twenty First Century contemporary scholars explore and extend the continued relevance of Scholes's work for those in English and writing studies In this volume Scholes's scholarship is included alongside original essays providing a resource for those considering everything from the place of the English major in the twenty first century to best practices for helping students navigate misinformation and disinformation Reading and Writing Instruction in the Twenty First Century not only keeps Scholes's legacy alive but carries it on through a commitment in Scholes's 1998 own words to offer our students the cultural equipment they are going to need when they leave us Contributors Angela Christie Paul T Corrigan Lyn e Lewis Gaillet Doug Hesse Alice S Horning Emily J Isaacs Christopher La Casse Robert Lest n Kelsey McNiff Thomas P Miller Jessica Rivera Mueller Christian Smith Kenny Smith Teaching Students to Read Like Detectives Douglas Fisher, Nancy

Frey, 2011-10-10 Prompt students to become the sophisticated readers writers and thinkers they need to be to achieve higher learning The authors explore the important relationship between text learner and learning With an array of methods and assignments to establish critical literacy in a discussion based and reflective classroom you'll encourage students to find meaning and cultivate thinking from even the most challenging expository texts Securing a Place for Reading in Composition Ellen C. Carillo, 2015-01-15 Securing a Place for Reading in Composition addresses the dissonance between the need to prepare students to read not just write complex texts and the lack of recent scholarship on reading writing connections Author Ellen C Carillo argues that including attention to reading practices is crucial for developing more comprehensive literacy pedagogies Students who can read actively and reflectively will be able to work successfully with the range of complex texts they will encounter throughout their post secondary academic careers and beyond Considering the role of reading within composition from both historical and contemporary perspectives Carillo makes recommendations for the productive integration of reading instruction into first year writing courses She details a mindful reading framework wherein instructors help students cultivate a repertoire of approaches upon which they consistently reflect as they apply them to various texts This metacognitive frame allows students to become knowledgeable and deliberate about how they read and gives them the opportunity to develop the skills useful for moving among reading approaches in mindful ways thus preparing them to actively and productively read in courses and contexts outside first year composition Securing a Place for Reading in Composition also explores how the field of composition might begin to effectively address reading including conducting research on reading revising outcome statements and revisiting the core courses in graduate programs It will be of great interest to writing program administrators and other compositionists and their graduate students Reconnecting Reading and Writing Alice S. Horning, Elizabeth W. Kraemer, 2013-09-06 Reconnecting Reading and Writing explores the ways in which reading can and should have a strong role in the teaching of writing in college Reconnecting Reading and Writing draws on broad perspectives from history and international work to show how and why reading should be reunited with writing in college and high school classrooms It presents an overview of relevant research on reading and how it can best be used to support and enhance writing instruction Reception Histories Steven Mailloux, 2018-09-05 In his earlier Rhetorical Power Steven Mailloux presented an innovative and challenging strategy for combining critical theory and cultural studies That book has stimulated wide ranging discussion and debate among diverse audiences students and specialists in American studies speech communications rhetoric composition law education biblical studies and especially literary theory and cultural criticism Reception Histories marks a further development of Mailloux's influential critical project as he demonstrates how rhetorical hermeneutics uses rhetoric to practice theory by doing history Reception Histories works out in detail what rhetorical hermeneutics means in terms of poststructuralist theory Part One nineteenth century U S cultural studies Part Two and the contemporary history of curricular reform within the so called Culture Wars Part Three Mailloux situates defends and elaborates the theory he first proposed in Rhetorical Power and he exemplifies it with a new series of provocative reception histories He also both critiques and reconceptualizes the version of reader response criticism he developed in his first book Interpretive Conventions Throughout Reception Histories Mailloux demonstrates his distinctive blend of neopragmatism and cultural rhetoric study By tracing the rhetorical paths of thought this book offers a new way to read the current volatile debates over higher education and contributes its own original proposals for shaping the future of the humanities The Ashgate Research Companion to The Sidneys, 1500-1700 Mary Ellen Lamb, 2017-02-17 Presented in two volumes The Ashgate Research Companion to The Sidneys 1500 1700 assesses the current state of scholarship on members of the Sidney family and their impact as historical and or literary figures in the period 1500 1700 Volume 2 Literature begins with an exploration of the Sidneys books and manuscripts and how they circulated followed by an overview of the contributions of family members Sir Philip Sidney Mary Sidney Herbert Countess of Pembroke Lady Mary

Wroth Robert Sidney Earl of Leicester and William Herbert Earl of Pembroke in the genres of prose romance drama poetry psalms and prose These essays outline major controversies and areas for further research as well as conducting literary analysis

The Rhetoric of Emotions Robert Perinbanayagam, 2017-07-05 Kenneth Burke founder of the critical method of dramatism believed that motives and attitudes are constantly generated by individuals as they encounter social situations and material objects in the course of their everyday lives In The Rhetoric of Emotions Robert Perinbanayagam proposes that by analysing individuals experiences especially through their interaction with creative outlets we can come to a deeper understanding of how the human mind systematically approaches the emotive process The author maintains that individuals use spoken language and all other forms of symbolism including art and literature to elicit social cooperation and emotional understanding both in regard to the world around them and within themselves Rhetoric and culture are mechanisms for managing values behaviour and emotions In order to ground this philosophical viewpoint Perinbanayagam strategically discusses famous novels and paintings to show how individuals construct emotional responses to the rhetorical objects at their disposal In addition to the ideas of Burke and George Herbert Mead the ideas of Max Weber Georg Simmel Charles Sanders Peirce Edmund Husserl Alfred Schutz and Erving Goffman are also reflected in this provocative analysis

Reading Rhetorically Plus Mywritinglab -- Access Card Package John C. Bean, Virginia A. Chappell, Alice M. Gillam, 2014-12-23 Offering concise yet thorough treatment of academic reading and writing in college Reading Rhetorically 4th ed shows students how to analyze texts by recognizing rhetorical strategies and genre conventions and how to incorporate other writers texts into their own research based papers Four important features of this text 1 Its emphasis on academic writing as a process in which writers engage with other texts 2 Its emphasis on reading as an interactive process of composing meaning 3 Its treatment rhetorical analysis as both an academic genre that sharpens students reading acuity and as a tool for academic research 4 Its analytical framework for understanding and critiquing how visual texts interact with verbal texts This brief rhetoric teaches students how to see texts positioned in a conversation with other texts how to recognize a text s rhetorical aims and persuasive strategies and how to analyze texts for both content and method

Teaching Arguments Jennifer Fletcher, 2023-10-10 No matter where students lives lead after graduation one of the most essential tools we can teach them is how to comprehend analyze and respond to arguments Students need to know how writers and speakers choices are shaped by elements of the rhetorical situation including audience occasion and purpose In Teaching Arguments Rhetorical Comprehension Critique and Response Jennifer Fletcher provides teachers with engaging classroom activities writing prompts graphic organizers and student samples to help students at all levels read write listen speak and think rhetorically Fletcher believes that with appropriate scaffolding and encouragement all students can learn a rhetorical approach to argument and gain access to rigorous academic content Teaching Arguments opens the door and helps them pay closer attention to the acts of meaning around them to notice persuasive strategies that might not be apparent at first glance When we analyze and develop arguments we have to consider more than just the printed words on the page We have to evaluate multiple perspectives the tension between belief and doubt the interplay of reason character and emotion the dynamics of occasion audience and purpose and how our own identities shape what we read and write Rhetoric teaches us how to do these things Teaching Arguments will help students learn to move beyond a superficial response to texts so they can analyze and craft sophisticated persuasive arguments a major cornerstone for being not just college and career ready but ready for the challenges of the world
