A Biographical Dictionary of Modern Chinese Writers 卞,1994 Historical Dictionary of the People's Republic of China Lawrence R. Sullivan,2007-05-23 When the Chinese Communist Party CCP seized power in October 1949 China was one of the poorest nations in the world In fact it was so weak it had been conquered by Japan a country one tenth its size a decade earlier Now more than fifty years later the People s Republic of China PRC is an emerging economic political and military superpower with the world s fastest growing economy and largest population 1.3 billion in 2005 A member of the United Nations Security Council since the early 1970s and a nuclear power China wields enormous influence in the world community The second edition of the Historical Dictionary of the People s Republic of China contains more than 400 cross referenced dictionary entries on individual topics spanning China s political economic and social system along with short biographies on important figures—from politicians to writers and movie directors—who have shaped Chinese history during the period of Communist rule from 1949 to 2006 Supplementing the entries are a chronology an introduction charts outlining the structure of the Chinese government and a bibliography of works in English making this a superb resource for college and high school students needing a quick reference on contemporary China

Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff,Staff Bowker, Ed,2004 Socialist Cosmopolitanism Nicolai Volland,2017-03-28 Socialist Cosmopolitanism offers an innovative interpretation of literary works from the Mao era that reads Chinese socialist literature as world literature As Nicolai Volland demonstrates after 1949 China engaged with the world beyond its borders in a variety of ways and on many levels politically economically and culturally Far from rejecting the worldliness of earlier eras the young People s Republic developed its own cosmopolitanism Rather than a radical break with the past Chinese socialist literature should be seen as an integral and important chapter in China s long search to find a place within world literature Socialist Cosmopolitanism revisits a range of genres from poetry and land reform novels to science fiction and children s literature and shows how Chinese writers and readers alike saw their own literary production as part of a much larger literary universe This literary space reaching from Beijing to Berlin from Prague to Pyongyang from Warsaw to Moscow to Hanoi allowed authors and texts to travel reinventing the meaning of world literature Chinese socialist literature was not driven solely by politics but by an ambitious but ultimately doomed attempt to Modern Selfhood in Translation Limin Chi, 2018-09-03 This book examines the development of Chinese translation practice in relation to the rise of ideas of modern selfhood in China from the 1890s to the 1920s The key translations produced by late Qing and early Republican Chinese intellectuals over the three decades in question reflect a preoccupation with new personality ideals informed by foreign models and the healthy development of modern individuality in the face of crises compounded by feelings of cultural inadequacy The book clarifies how these translated works supplied the meanings for new terms and concepts that signify modern human experience and sheds light on the ways in which they taught readers to internalize the idea of the modern as personal experience Through their selection of source texts and their adoption of different translation strategies the translators chosen as case studies championed a progressive view of the world one that was open minded and humanistic The late Qing construction of modern Chinese identity instigated under the imperative of national salvation in the aftermath of the First Sino Japanese War wielded a far reaching influence on the New Culture discourse This book argues that the New Culture translations being largely explorations of modern self consciousness helped to produce an egalitarian cosmopolitan view of modern being This was a view favoured by the majority of mainland intellectuals in the post Maoist 1980s and which has since become an important topic in mainland scholarship International Books in Print, 1995 Barbara Hopkinson,[Anonymus AC01401231],1995
