Readings in Classroom Learning and Perception Richard J. Mueller,Donald Ary,Charles McCormick,1974

Readings in Classroom Learning and Perception Richard J. Mueller,Donald Ary,Charles McCormick,1974     Principles of Classroom Learning and Perception Richard J. Mueller,2017-09-13 Originally published in 1974 this introductory text has been designed specifically for teachers in training and it presents the basic psychological principles governing learning perception motivation and the retention of knowledge at the time The text is carefully tailored for would be teachers in its clear and informal style and in its selective aspects of psychology which the teacher can use to advantage in his efforts to assist the child The book has an eclectic approach to psychological theory drawing upon the insights of behaviourism perceptualism and the Gestalt school as well as the developmental theories of Jean Piaget The author discusses in some detail theories concerning the nature of intelligence and the relationship between creativity and intelligence and he investigates the dynamics of social adjustment introducing the part that may be played by meditation in helping to solve some of the problems of emotional stress within the learning situation In his consideration of the management of learning the author lays much emphasis upon the importance of individual cognitive styles individualizing instruction and independent learning In one chapter Dr Mueller is concerned with factors in the measurement of personality and of performance in the classroom and he reflects upon the specific problem of objectivity in such assessment Finally some consideration is given to the problems and characteristics of the socially disadvantaged child and to the role of the teacher in helping to solve some of the learning problems of these children     Readings for Learning to Teach in the Secondary School Susan

Meece,2012-10-12 This book s two primary objectives are to present

theory and research on the role of learners achievement related perceptions in educational contexts and to discuss the implications of this research for educational practices Although contributors share the view that students perceptions exert important effects in achievement settings they differ in diverse ways including their theoretical orientation their choice of research methodology the perceptions they believe are of primary importance and the antecedents and consequences of these perceptions They discuss the current status of their ideas and provide a forward look at research and practice

Books and Pamphlets, Including Serials and Contributions to Periodicals Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1974-07     A Christian Approach to Education Herbert W. Byrne,Herbert W Byrne,1986-12     White Privilege and Racism: Perceptions and Actions Carole L. Lund,Scipio A. J. Colin,2010-04-19 White privilege is viewed by many as a birthright and is in essence an existentialist norm that is based upon the power and privilege of pigmentation Because it is the norm for the white race this privilege is virtually invisible but its racist byproducts are not It becomes common for white to believe falsely that their privilege was earned by hard work and intellectual superiority it becomes the center of their worldview The reality is that when they defend their pigmentary privilege what they are really saying is that peoples of color have earned their disadvantage This volume focuses on facilitating our understanding of the conceptual correlation between white privilege and racism and how these intertwined threads are manifested in selected areas of adult and continuing education practice Chapters include White Racist Ideology and the Myth of a Postracial Society The Nature of White Privilege in the Teaching and Training of Adults Racism and White Privilege in Adult Education Graduate Programs Admissions Retention and Currricula Whiteness at Work in Vocational Training in Australia White Privilege in Human Resource Development Immigration Racial Profiling and White Privilege Community Based Challenges and Practices for Adult Educators A Living Spiral of Understanding Community Based Adult Education The Intersections of White Privilege and Racism Moving Forward Together the contributors have assembled a volume to ignite the much needed discussion of linkages between the white racist ideology white privilege and white attitudes and behaviors behind that racism This is the 125th volume of the Jossey Bass higher education quarterly report series New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education Noted for its depth of coverage New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education is an indispensable series that explores issues of common interest to instructors administrators counselors and policymakers in a broad range of adult and continuing education settings such as colleges and universities extension programs businesses libraries and museums     Advances in Accounting Education Thomas G. Calderon,2020-10-05 AAE publishes empirical and non empirical research in Accounting Education Volume 24 addresses five key themes 1 research on student attitudes and behaviour 2 cases and pedagogical approaches in tax 3 financial reporting and introductory accounting 4 research about the CPA exam and 5 international perspectives     Research in Education ,1972     Readings in Educational Psychology Edgar Stones,2012 The papers in this volume relate to the nature and conditions of classroom learning with particular emphasis on the cognitive aspects They are concerned with the question of concept formation and stress the importance of the teacher's function in ensuring that the child really has assimilated the ideas and not merely the words for the concepts. The role of language is fundamental to this theme and the interaction of language thinking and learning is dealt with in the first section of the book. This section also provides a context within which subsequent discussions of classroom learning problems can be viewed. Some problems concerning the elaboration of a general theory of teaching are then examined with particular reference to possible methods of bridging the gap between research and implementation.

Distributed Instructional Leadership and Teachers' Perceptions of and Motivation for Instructional Improvement James E. Taylor, 2004      Choice, 1976      Challenging Perceptions in Primary Education Margaret Sangster, 2015-02-26 What are the beliefs that influence your professional practice? Have you ever thought about why you make the decisions you make as a teacher? What influences your teaching style? Beyond the technical skills and knowledge aspects of education, teachers and student teachers face questions which challenge their beliefs and approaches to their teaching and learning. This book contains a series of short articles which not only offer guidance on key topics but encourage the reader to engage in reflecting on their own practice. Questions explored include: Is learning through practical work worth the effort? What can we learn from comparisons with education in other countries? Is there a smarter way to use digital imagery in your teaching? What's the point of theory? Isn't teaching just a craft?
