Why Volunteer?

Read for comprehension below.

In the current political climate, funding for many nonprofit organizations that support the arts, healthcare, the elderly, the environment, and the poor may be cut back. Local nonprofits are in need of more help than ever, because less funding means they can't hire as many employees or purchase necessary resources to do their community work. For many organizations, raising money (fundraising, or asking for donations) is a big source of their income, and volunteers can help encourage people to donate.

Volunteering also helps people in ways that extend far beyond money or praise for a job well done. First, it helps build empathy (understanding the feelings of others) and compassion (caring about others and wanting to help them) for others, which is important because it allows you to understand the different life experiences of people in your school, community, country, and even worldwide. Having empathy and compassion for others helps people feel generosity toward them, which is a desire to give help without expecting anything in return. These things are important to a thriving community of any size, because when we can understand the needs of others, that leads to wanting to help them, too. Volunteering is also a great way to develop communication, leadership, and cooperative skills by working with others toward a common goal or for a greater good.

How to be an awesome volunteer:

Keep it simple - It's okay to start small by asking how you can help out at school or in your neighborhood.

Make it a family affair - Get your parents, siblings, and other family members involved in volunteering for a local nonprofit - There are tons of events in every community, such as cleaning up local waterways, or donating and distributing food to a food bank. This is a great way for families to hang out together, invest in helping others, and have some fun.

Know that even seemingly boring tasks like stuffing envelopes is important work for a greater cause.

Tag team classmates, teachers, and your principal to pitch in for others.
