This second edition of No other Way To Tell It defines the form analyses its codes and conventions and reviews contrasting histories in America and British practice taking into account new developments since the first edition These include television's radically new ecology with factual formats a growth area Docudrama in film has also burgeoned recently partly because the industries themselves have grown closer and partly because of continued interest in the lives of the famous and of those in the news International co-production now exploits many different screening opportunities and possibilities with the result that docudrama has become a cinematic as well as televisual staple Docudrama is not only popular with audiences it also causes constant flurries of commentary and controversy Concerns about borders and boundaries a questioning of documentary's claim to represent the real doubts about the popular audience's ability to cope with new approaches to the ideas of witness testimony and confession authenticity and truth all fuel the debate This new edition situates docudrama and its ongoing debates within a newly vibrant and still highly contentious field of practice This book will interest readers academic and general with an interest in fact based drama in film theatre and television     Managing Media Firms and Industries Gregory Ferrell Lowe, Charles Brown, 2015-08-20 This volume provides rich insight into the nature and practice of media management Contributions assess the degree to which management of media firms requires a unique set of skills highlighting similarities and differences of media firms compared with other industries in terms of management practices HR development and operational aspects Success and limitations of research on media management theory is evaluated both drawing on management theory and examining insights from other disciplines Dimensions for future research are considered along with practical implications for media managers and corporate structures The book serves as a valuable reference for researchers advanced students and practitioners in media industries     New Challenges for Documentary Alan Rosenthal, John Corner, 2005-05-13 The first edition of this book provided a major stimulus for teaching about documentary film and television and fresh encouragement for critical thinking about practice This second edition brings together many new contributions both from academics and filmmakers reflecting shifts both in documentary production itself and in ways of discussing it Once again the emphasis has been on clear and provocative writing sympathetic to the practical challenges of documentary filmmaking but making connections with a range of work in media and communications analysis With its wide range of contributors and the international scope of its agenda this will be essential reading for general filmmakers and documentary students both of academic and practical inclinations     A Companion to the Biopic Deborah Cartmell, Ashley D.

Polasek, 2020-01-15 The most comprehensive reference text of theoretical and historical discourse on the biopic film The biopic often viewed as the most reviled of all film genres traces its origins to the early silent era over a century ago Receiving little critical attention biopics are regularly dismissed as superficial formulaic and disrespectful of history Film critics literary scholars and historians tend to believe that biopics should be artistic yet accurate true to life representations of their subjects Moviegoing audiences however do not seem to hold similar views biopics continue to be popular commercially viable films Even the genre's most ardent detractors will admit that these films are often very watchable particularly due to the performance of the lead actor It is increasingly common for stars of biographical films to garner critical praise and awards driving a growing interest in scholarship in the genre A Companion to the Biopic is the first global and authoritative reference on the subject Offering theoretical historical thematic and performance based approaches this unique volume brings together the work of top scholars to discuss the coverage of the lives of authors politicians royalty criminals and pop stars through the biopic film Chapters explore evolving attitudes and divergent perspectives on the genre with topics such as the connections between biopics and literary melodramas the influence financial concerns have on aesthetic social or moral principles the merger of historical narratives with Hollywood biographies stereotypes and criticisms of the biopic genre and more This volume Provides a systematic in depth analysis of the biopic and considers how the choice of historical subject reflects contemporary issues Places emphasis on films that portray race and gender issues Explores the uneven boundaries of the genre by addressing what is and is not a biopic as well as the ways in which films simultaneously embrace and defy historical authenticity Examines the distinction between reality and the real in biographical films Offers a chronological survey of biopics from the beginning of the 20th century A Companion to the Biopic is a valuable resource for researchers scholars and students of history film studies and English literature as well as those in disciplines that examine interpretations of historical figures

Rethinking Documentary: New Perspectives And Practices Austin, Thomas, de Jong, Wilma, 2008-05-01 Because of the huge boom in documentary making there s been a similar growth in the number of courses in documentary studies This book brings together some of the leading scholars and practitioners in this area to provide a textbook and research tool Chinese Films in Focus II Chris Berry, 2019-07-25

Chinese cinema continues to go from strength to strength After art house hits like Chen Kaige's Yellow Earth 1984 and Wong Kar wai's In the Mood for Love 2000 the Oscar winning success of Ang Lee's Crouching Tiger Hidden Dragon 2000 disproved the old myth that subtitled films could not succeed at the multiplex Chinese Films in Focus II updates and expands the original Chinese Films in Focus 25 New Takes with fourteen brand new essays to offer thirty four fresh and insightful readings of key individual films The new edition addresses films from mainland China Taiwan Hong Kong and other parts of the Chinese diaspora and the historical coverage ranges from the 1930s to the present The essays by leading authorities on Chinese cinema as well as up and coming scholars are concise accessible rich and on the cutting edge of current research Each contributor outlines existing writing and presents an original perspective on the film making this volume a rich resource for classroom use scholarly research and general reading for anyone wanting to understand more about the historical development and rich variety of Chinese cinema Contributors Annette Aw Chris Berry Yomi Braester Felicia Chan Esther Cheung Robert Chi Rey Chow Mary Farquhar Carolyn FitzGerald Ping Fu Kristine Harris Margaret Hillenbrand Brian Hu Tan See Kam Haiyan Lee Vivian Lee Helen Hok Sze Leung David Leiwei Li Song Hwee Lim Kam Louie Fran Martin Jason McGrath Corrado Neri Jonathan Noble Beremoce Reynaud Cui Shuqin Julian Stringer Janice Tong Yiman Wang Faye Hui Xiao Gang Gary Xu Audrey Yue Yingjin Zhang John Zou The Editor Chris Berry is Professor of Film and Television at Goldsmiths University of London Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film 3-Volume Set Ian Aitken, 2013-10-18

The Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film is a fully international reference work on the history of the documentary film from the Lumi re brothers Workers Leaving the Lumi re Factory 1885 to Michael Moore's Fahrenheit 911 2004 This Encyclopedia provides a resource that critically analyzes that history in all its aspects Not only does this Encyclopedia examine individual films and the careers of individual film makers it also provides overview articles of national and regional documentary film history It explains concepts and themes in the study of documentary film the techniques used in making films and the institutions that support their production appreciation and preservation Double-Takes David R. Jarraway, 2013-05-25 Over the past forty years Canadian literature has found its way to the silver screen with increasing regularity Beginning with the adaptation of Margaret Laurence's A Jest of God to the Hollywood film Rachel Rachel in 1966 Canadian writing would appear to have found a doubly successful life for itself at the movies from the critically acclaimed Kamouraska and The Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz in the 1970s through to the award winning Love and Human Remains and The English Patient in the 1990s With the more recent notoriety surrounding the Oscar nominated Away from Her and the screen appearances of The Stone Angel and Fugitive Pieces this seems like an appropriate time for a collection of essays to reflect on the intersection between literary publication in Canada and its various screen transformations This volume discusses and debates several double edged issues the extent to which the literary artefact extends its artfulness to the film artefact the degree to which literary communities stand to gain or lose in contact with film communities and perhaps most of all the measure by which a viable relation between fiction and film can be said to exist in Canada and where that double life precisely manifests itself if at all This book is published in English     Encyclopedia of Journalism Christopher H. spectacle of excess Annette Hill's research draws on interviews with television producers on the market of reality TV and audience research with over fifteen thousand participants during a fifteen year period Key themes in the book include the phenomenon of reality TV as a new kind of inter generic space the rise of reality entertainment formats and producer intervention audiences fans and anti fans the spectacle of reality and sports entertainment and the ways real people and celebrities perform themselves in cross media content Reality TV explores how this form of popular entertainment invites audiences to riff on reality to debate and reject reality claims making it ideal for students of media and cultural studies seeking a broader understanding of how media connects with trends in society and culture

Representing the Eighteenth Century in Film and Television, 2000-2015 Karen Bloom Gevirtz, 2017-07-06 This book analyzes early twenty first century film and television's fascination with representing the Anglo American eighteenth century Grounded in cultural studies film studies and adaptation theory the book examines how these works represented the eighteenth century to assuage anxieties about values systems and institutions at the start of a new millennium The first two chapters reveal how films like Gulliver's Travels 2010 or the remake of Poldark 2015 use history to establish the direct relationship between the eighteenth century and the twenty first The final chapters examine pairs of productions for how they address and legitimate different aspects of contemporary ideology such as attitudes toward race and gender or the connection between technological and social progress

A new genre for television? Justin Hardy, 2025-05-27 In A New Genre for Television filmmaker Justin Hardy argues the dramatised history documentaries broadcast by British public service channels in the 2000s constituted a distinct television genre Offering a vital distinction between docudramas and drama documentaries Hardy contributes to the field of television history through exclusive interviews with key figures from BBC and Channel 4 many of whom have never been publicly interviewed before and envisions a future model for the portrayal of national histories on screen

Criticism, Crisis, and Contemporary Narrative Paul Crosthwaite, 2011-01-05 The etymological affinity between criticism and crisis has never been more resonant than it is today when social life is increasingly understood as defined by a succession of overlapping global crises financial and economic crises environmental crises geopolitical crises terrorist crises public health crises But what is the role of literary and cultural criticism in conceptualizing this atmosphere of perpetual crisis If as Paul de Man maintained criticism necessarily exists in a state of crisis in what ways is this condition intensified at a time when the social formations within which criticism operates and the cultural artefacts that it takes as its objects are themselves pervaded by actual and imagined states of emergency This book the first sustained response to these questions demonstrates the capacity of critical thought working in dialogue with key narrative texts to provide penetrating insights into a contemporary landscape of global manufactured risk Written by an international team of specialist scholars the essays in the collection draw on a wide variety of contemporary theoretical fictional and cinematic sources ranging from Giorgio Agamben Jacques Derrida and Fredric Jameson to Cormac McCarthy Ian McEwan and Lauren Beukes to Ghost and the James Bond and National Treasure series Appearing in the midst of a phase of extraordinary turbulence in the fabric of our interconnected and interdependent world the book makes a landmark intervention in debates concerning the cultural ramifications of globalization     The Reenactment in Contemporary Screen Culture Megan Carrigy, 2021-06-03 During the first decades of the 21st century a critical re assessment of the reenactment as a form of historical representation has taken place in the disciplines of history art history and performance studies Engagement with the reenactment in film and media studies has come almost entirely from the field of documentary studies and has focused almost exclusively on non fiction even though reenactments are being employed across fiction and non fiction film and television genres Working with an eclectic collection of case studies from Milk Monster Boys Don t Cry and The Battle of Orgreave to CSI and the video of police assaulting Rodney King this book examines the relationship between the status of theatricality in the reenactment and the ways in which its relationships to reference are performed Carrigy shows that while the practice of reenactment predates technically reproducible media and continues to exist in both live and mediated forms it has been thoroughly transformed through its incorporation within forms of technical media
