Road To Camlann:

Road to Camlann Rosemary Sutcliff,1994-11-01 Can the Fellowship of the Round Table survive Mordred's treachery After years of Arthur's fair rule evil has come to Camelot Mordred Arthur's illegitimate son is determined to destroy the Round Table and gain the throne for himself He will use whatever tools he can mutiny force even the rumors of a love between Lancelot and Queen Guenevere In the end there is only one place for the battle to be lost or won the bleak plain of Camlann where Arthur and his knights of the Round Table fight for their lives Sutcliff is superb in the fluency with which she re-creates a period her characters come alive and her style is intense and flowing in this grave and poignant conclusion Bulletin of the Center for Children's Books starred review Other than Malory I can think of no better introduction to the whole sweep of Arthurian stories School Library Journal starred review The Road to Camlann Rosemary Sutcliff,1986 The Road to Camlann Rosemary Sutcliff,1994-01 The evil Mordred plotting against his father King Arthur implicates the Queen and Sir Lancelot in treachery and brings about the downfall of Camelot and the Round Table The Best in Children's Books University of Chicago. Center for Children's Books,1986-08 Designed to aid adults parents teachers librarians in selecting from the best of recent children's literature this guide provides 1 400 reviews of books published between 1979 and 1984 This volume carries on the tradition established by Zena Sutherland's two earlier collections covering the periods from 1966 to 1972 and 1973 to 1978 Her 1973 edition of The Best in Children's Books was cited by the American School Board Journal as one of the outstanding books of the year in education The Battles of King Arthur Tony Sullivan,2022-07-20 The ninth century Historia Brittonum is the first source that mentions Arthur and lists twelve battles including the famous Badon Hill Much ink has been spilt debating the identity and location of Arthur This book will demonstrate that some of the battles can indeed be located with some confidence Rather than fit a specific theory as to his identity the battles are placed in the fragmenting provincial political and military context of the late fifth and early sixth century Britain At a time of rapid changes in cultural identity and a significant increase in Germanic material culture and migration These battles might be expected to be found along borders and in zones of potential conflict Yet this is not what is discovered In addition the simplistic idea of Romano Britons holding back invading Anglo Saxons is found wanting Instead we discover a far more nuanced political and cultural situation One with increasing evidence of continuation of land use and the indigenous population The most Romanised and urbanised regions of the south and east are the very areas that experienced the arrival of Germanic settlement The conclusion gives the reader a new insight into what sort of man Arthur was and the nature of the battles he fought Liminality, Transgression and Space Across the World Basak Tanulku,Simone Pekelsma,2024-03-05 This book analyses various forms of liminality and transgression in different geographies and demonstrates how and why various physical and symbolic boundaries create liminality and transgression Its focus is on comprehending the ways in which these borders and boundaries generate liminality and transgression rather than viewing them solely as issues It provides case studies from the past and present allowing readers to connect subjects periods and geographies It consists of theoretical and empirical chapters that demonstrate how borders and liminality are interconnected The book also benefits from the power of several visual essays by artists to complete the theoretical and empirical chapters which demonstrate different forms of liminality without need of much words The book will be of interest to researchers and students working in the fields of urban and rural studies urban sociology cities and communities urban and regional planning urban anthropology political science migration studies human geography cultural geography urban anthropology and visual arts
