Highway Quality Compendium, 2007      Road Network Upgrading and Overland Trade Expansion in Sub-Saharan Africa Piet Buys, Uwe Deichmann, David Wheeler, 2006 Recent research suggests that isolation from regional and international markets has contributed significantly to poverty in many Sub Saharan African countries Numerous empirical studies identify poor transport infrastructure and border restrictions as significant deterrents to trade expansion In response the African Development Bank has proposed an integrated network of functional roads for the subcontinent Drawing on new econometric results the authors quantify the trade expansion potential and costs of such a network They use spatial network analysis techniques to identify a network of primary roads connecting all Sub Saharan capitals and other cities with populations over 500 000 The authors estimate current overland trade flows in the network using econometrically estimated gravity model parameters road transport quality indicators actual road distances and estimates of economic scale for cities in the network Then they simulate the effect of feasible continental upgrading by setting network transport quality at a level that is functional but less highly developed than existing roads in countries like South Africa and Botswana The authors assess the costs of upgrading with econometric evidence from a large World Bank database of road project costs in Africa Using a standard approach to forecast error estimation they derive a range of potential benefits and costs Their baseline results indicate that continental network upgrading would expand overland trade by about 250 billion over 15 years with major direct and indirect benefits for the rural poor Financing the program would require about 20 billion for initial upgrading and 1 billion annually for maintenance The authors conclude with a discussion of supporting institutional arrangements and the potential cost of implementing them      Quality Control in Road Construction Michel Ruban, 2002-01-01 A translation and fully updated version of the French title Contrôles de qualité en construction routière 1987 This book presents the total panorama of the methods and means available to the various interveners      Frontier Research: Road and Traffic Engineering Teik-Hua Law, Baohua Guo, 2022-11-01 This book contains selected papers resulting from the 2020 International Conference on Road and Traffic Engineering CRTE 2020 covering Road Engineering and Traffic Engineering aiming to provide an academic and technical communication platform for scholars and engineers engaged in scientific research and engineering practice in the field of Road Engineering and Materials Traffic Engineering and Management and Transportation Engineering By sharing the research status of scientific research achievements and cutting edge technologies it helps scholars and engineers all over the world to comprehend the academic development trends and broaden research ideas So as to strengthen international academic research academic topics exchange and discussion and promote the industrialization cooperation of academic achievements      The Development Dimension Road and Rail Infrastructure in Asia Investing in Quality OECD, 2018-10-06 Road and Rail Infrastructure in Asia Investing in Quality discusses the challenges facing the region and possible policy options including those previously or currently used in services across urban and rural locations Connect places and people to jobs and opportunities and services Target lagging areas and marginalized groups through well designed place based policies as well as thoughtful urban planning and design Using this framework the report provides policy recommendations differentiated by four types of place that differ in both their economic characteristics and the challenges that they face multi-district metro areas single district metro areas non-metro urban areas and non-metro rural areas In addition to its eight chapters Time to ACT Realizing Indonesia's Urban Potential includes four spotlights on strengthening the disaster resilience of Indonesian cities the nexus between urbanization and human capital the invisible crisis of wastewater management and the potential for smart cities in Indonesia If Indonesia continues to urbanize in line with global historical standards more than 70 percent of its population will be living in towns and cities by the time the country celebrates the centenary of its independence in 2045 Accordingly how Indonesia manages this continued expansion of its urban population and the mounting congestion forces that expansion brings will do much to determine whether the country reaches the upper rungs of the global ladder of prosperity inclusiveness and livability
