Road Funds and Road Maintenance Asian Development Bank, 2003 Singling out roads as an important factor in economic development this report presents the findings of a regional technical assistance inquiry carried out to examine the problem of road funding in Asia with the aim of proposing case specific solutions Particular attention is paid to the data collected during road assessments performed in the Kyrgyz Republic Pakistan Uzbekistan and Vietnam Also discussed are a number of possible strategies for combating road maintenance neglect across Asia Planning, Housing and Infrastructure for Smart Villages Hemanta Doloi, Ray Green, Sally Donovan, 2018-12-07 Some 7.3 billion people currently live on the planet Of these 3.4 billion live in rural areas In just a few regions Latin America the Middle East and North Africa less than 50 per cent of poverty is now located in rural areas But for the rest of the world's regions between 55 per cent and 80 per cent of the poor continue to live in the countryside Progress is being made but much of the knowhow needed is not disseminated outside of a small coterie of professionals who work in the area With urban development attracting a great deal of attention lately poorer rural areas deserve the same and new knowledge for empowerment of rural communities is urgently needed This book provides an overview of current thinking and practices that have emerged over the last thirty years for uplifting rural communities in developing economies Drawing on a body of knowledge across a spectrum of relevant disciplines this book provides a range of innovative ideas for rural planning housing and infrastructure development Governments in many emerging economies where rural poverty is often most acute have attempted to improve livelihoods Approaches and techniques that have been used for urban development are often not applicable to rural communities Studies show that money allocated for rural development is often not effectively spent due to distance lack of infrastructure lack of education poverty and other factors Meanwhile the gap in development between the city and country continues to grow sometimes leading to social and political instability in both developing and developed countries This book seeks to provide a guidebook for meeting such challenges Through in depth enquiry of global practices and thinking about rural development and selected case studies the authors argue that careful consideration must be given to incorporating issues of resilience resourcefulness and the involvement of communities at grassroots levels in realising the transformation of rural settlements into Smart Villages

ECMT Round Tables Transport Infrastructure Charges and Capacity Choice Self-financing Road Maintenance and Construction European Conference of Ministers of Transport,OECD,2007-03-15 The Round Table analyses the opportunities for setting infrastructure service prices so that they also provide guidance for the supply of services Guidance Note: Road Transport Subsector Risk Assessment Asian Development Bank,2010-08-01 The road transport subsector tends to be vulnerable to risks This is due to large budgets that often comprise a sizable percentage of a country s national budget 20% 30% an unclear strategic vision nontransparent policy decisions that lead to inappropriate priorities procurement contracts for goods and services that lend themselves to corruption and political interference Additional factors include weak business processes and control systems weak capacity of subsector agencies and fragile links across agencies and stakeholders This guidance note aims to explain key features of the road transport subsector and identify entry points for mapping governance risks Infrastructure and Productivity in Asia J. Kidd,F. Richter,2005-02-11 There is a feeling that Asia is at a crossroad and is facing a new crisis The earlier crisis of 1997 98 showed that effective systems were missing Afterwards governments foreign investors and foreign managers initiated more holistic infrastructures but corruption poorly connecting systems and a lack of transparent management have ensured that these are under performing In this book well informed authors offer insights on Asia s political educational and physical infrastructures and indicate the routes leading to better integrated futures Journal of Economic Literature

Azerbaijan Mahir Humbatov, Nikita Singla, 2016-12-12 As the world makes great strides on the path to development the gap between infrastructure needs and the resources governments possess to meet those needs is ever growing on account of governments razor thin budgets rapid urbanization and population growth Asia's overall infrastructure investment needs are estimated at USD 9 trillion till 2030 68% of which is for new capacity and 32% for maintaining and replacing existing infrastructure The average annual infrastructure investment during this period is about USD 750 billion As countries move up the value chain and urban populations expand demand for transport logistics and utilities will only continue to grow increasing the burden on public funds If cash flushed investors have an appetite for Asia's infrastructure projects what is keeping them at bay For infrastructure development statistics show that Asian nations have been turning to Public Private Partnerships PPP which seemed to be one of the main tools to attract financing and keep pace with rapid growth Although the PPP models are established in several Asian countries such as Singapore South Korea and Japan others are relatively immature Indonesia China and India in particular have announced ambitious infrastructure programs with governments developing mechanisms to encourage PPP investment and address barriers to PPP development The new game changers of the 21st century India and China are showing aggressive signs of opening their domestic markets to international investors While PPPs hold significant potential for Asia they also present formidable challenges Case studies of PPP markets in Australia China India Indonesia Japan Korea Malaysia Singapore and Thailand provide an Asian perspective enabling recommendations for Azerbaijan The Azerbaijani government has achieved great progress over the last decade in integrating the country into the global economic marketplace and increasing foreign investment mainly due to its oil resources Now the government's focus is on diversifying the economy outside the oil sector Azerbaijan is facing increasing demand for investment in infrastructure development overstressing the government's budget There is need for not only private sector investment but also private sector knowledge and expertise The traditional approach of the government for infrastructure development of any kind has been to use the state's own budget or privatization The first is markedly insufficient to meet the country's needs while the latter only works in a sound legal and financial framework and is not appropriate for all public service delivery projects So there is a need to see if the time is ripe for public private partnerships PPPs may not be the ultimate solution but they can help address many of the issues systemic to the region in the field of infrastructure development All it needs is a systematic approach undertaken through joint efforts of private and public sectors

Mongolia Asian Development Bank,2012-02-01 Mongolia's growth is set to accelerate in the next decade as its vast mining resources start to be put into large scale production This has greatly improved its prospects for prosperity and poverty reduction However to realize its full potential Mongolia will need to transform its society economy and administration This report discusses how the context of road sector policy and road infrastructure investments will change and the ways the sector can best prepare to fulfill its new role Given the country's road infrastructure needs the road sector will be expected to implement massive highway investments in a short time and then to consistently maintain the new highways at a high standard However Mongolia's current small scale road sector will unlikely have the capacity to scale up and deliver upon such expectations without extensively modernizing its financing mechanisms business processes organization and education systems This report therefore argues that Mongolia's government needs to implement a comprehensive capacity development program for the road sector for about 5 years This study looks into the sector's financial dimension the techniques and processes followed for road maintenance and construction and the role of human resources management and education It tries to understand why sector performance improvement has been slow even though many sector issues and apparent solutions have been considered in the past Reflecting on lessons from international experience it outlines a range of policy options for decision makers and proposes an agenda until 2016
