Road To Asean10 Japanese Perspectives On Economic Integration:

Road to ASEAN-10; Japanese Perspectives on Economic Integration 山口洋行, 1999-12 This volume of essays by seven Japanese economists and political scientists examines the long term prospects of the ASEAN 10 economies and their relations with major trading partners Road to ASEAN-10; Japanese Perspectives on Economic Integration 山口洋行

山口洋行, 1999-12 This volume of essays by seven Japanese economists and political scientists examines the long term prospects of the ASEAN 10 economies and their relations with major trading partners Southeast Asia Transformed Chia Lin Sien, 2003 Southeast Asia with a total population of 520 million remains a region characterized by fragmentation diversity and considerable internal conflict despite the unifying influence of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN formed some thirty five years ago In the new millennium it has lost the distinction of being one of the worlds faster growing group of economies since the 1997 financial crisis While it has benefited from the winds of globalization it has now to cope with the painful adjustments to problems that stem from the inadequacies of good governance and structural changes The 2nd

ASEAN Reader Sharon Siddique, Sree Kumar, 2003-10-17 A sequel to the first ASEAN Reader Some of the classic readings from the original ASEAN reader have been incorporated into this new compilation but the majority of the readings cover events of the past decade 1993 2003 During this decade ASEAN as an organization was revamped and its membership increased from six to ten The Dimensions of Regional Trade Integration in Southeast Asia Zakir Hafez, 2021-10-01

This is the first comprehensive work on the free trade area of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN Free Trade Area AFTA The author argues that in practice the free trade area of ASEAN is a failure and that unless AFTA leaders take serious measures to improve it it will change from being not that useful into being completely useless Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint Asian Regionalism, Canadian and Indian Perspectives Charan D. Wadhwa, Yuen

Pau Woo, 2005 Canada and India are in many ways natural partners two middle powers sharing a common political and legal tradition derived from the British Commonwealth as well as a commitment to multiculturalism democracy and international institutions India's founding Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru had a personal friendship with Canadian Prime Ministers Trudeau and Pearson Despite this promising start bilateral relations never took flight a function of Cold War politics India's relative isolation through much of the post independence period the enormous distance between the two countries and deep disagreements over India's testing of nuclear weapons in 1974 and 1998 By the start of the new millennium India and Canada were ready to embark on a new phase in bilateral relations one defined not only by trade and investment interests but also by a contemporary understanding of their standing in the world and the potential contribution that both countries can make to issues of regional and global significance Indonesia and the ASEAN Free Trade Agreement Alexander C.

Chandra, 2008-01-01 Chandra provides a political economic analysis of the dynamic relationship between ASEAN economic integration and Indonesian nationalism This book is suitable for those interested in contemporary Southeast Asian affairs

Regionalism in the New Asia-Pacific Order Joseph A. Camilleri, 2003-01-01 Regionalism in the Asia Pacific is a complex and rapidly evolving phenomenon This volume explores the relationship between globalization and regionalization between states markets and civil society and between US hegemony and Asian aspirations European and East Asian Regionalism Jens-Uwe Wunderlich, 2020-10-15 Embedded in the evolving comparative regionalism literature this book offers a systematic analysis of the factors positively and negatively influencing regional institution building The ruptures caused by the Eurozone crises the coronavirus pandemic and by Brexit have renewed the interest in the impact of crises and critical junctures on regionalism here defined as regional institution building Drawing from critical juncture research and historical comparative analysis this volume uses the cases of European and East Asian regional institution building to systematically analyse institutional transformations during specific historical turning points and critical juncture moments Wunderlich's research offers an in depth analysis of the interrelated drivers spoilers and dissolvers of regional institution building processes in Europe and East Asia and addresses key questions including Under what conditions does regionalism take hold What is influencing the initial institutional design choices What is the impact of historical experiences and well entrenched norms and ideas What are the roles of regional leaders How do external factors influence regional institution building What turns a crisis into a critical juncture and are such junctures threats or opportunities What accounts for variations in institutional responses to crisis events across different regional settings This book will be a valuable resource for scholars of regionalism region building regional governance and international relations of Europe and East Asia Regionalism in Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling, 2006-09-27 This innovative text provides the reader with an historical analysis of Southeast Asia from the unusual perspective of regionalism A Selective Approach to Establishing a Human Rights Mechanism in Southeast Asia Hao Duy Phan, 2012-02-03 This book proposes a selective approach for states with more advanced human rights protection to establish a human rights court for Southeast Asia It argues the inclusive approach currently employed by ASEAN to set up a human rights body covering all member states cannot produce a strong regional human rights mechanism The mosaic of Southeast Asia reveals great diversity and high complexity in political regimes human rights practice and participation by regional states in the global legal human rights framework Cooperation among ASEAN members to protect and promote human rights remains limited The time honored principle of non interference and the ASEAN Way still predominate in relations within ASEAN These factors combine to explain why the ASEAN Intergovernmental Commission on Human Rights is unlikely to be strong and effective in changing and promoting regional human rights protection This book suggests a selective approach to establish a human rights court for Southeast Asia It posits that a group of nations within Southeast Asia may be more willing to consider the possibility of a stronger human rights mechanism It investigates the challenges to and the feasibility of such a proposal Furthermore it examines the design of the three existing regional human rights courts in Europe the Americas and Africa and compares the rationales for those institutional designs with the specific context of Southeast Asia A human rights court for all ASEAN members may not be possible at this time but a court for some nations in the region is feasible and worth exploring The path towards this goal is never an easy one however the region possesses the necessary conditions to gradually translate that goal into reality

Institutional Change in Southeast Asia Fredrik Sjöholm, Jose L. Tongzon, 2005 Institutional Change in Southeast Asia examines the institutional changes taking place in and challenges facing the region since 1997 The book focuses on determinants to the adjustments and on implementations of the reforms It also describes various differences in the reform process between countries in the region Southeast Asia's economic development over the last decades has been impressive Most of the region achieved consistently high growth rates accompanied by significant structural transformation and industrialization poverty alleviation and improvements in their overall standard of living as indicated by such social indicators as greater longevity more widespread delivery of basic education and lower infant mortality rates However the crisis that struck Southeast Asia in 1997 had severe economic social and political consequences in the region It also threw into doubt the future economic prosperity of the countries in Southeast Asia and raised intriguing questions about the quality of their institutions and their approach to economic development Sjöholm and Tongzon argue that the economies of Southeast Asia need to reform their institutions if the previous rapid development is to continue The institutional weaknesses have been addressed to different degrees and with different success in the affected countries Against the backdrop of Southeast Asia's importance in the world economy it is hardly possible to overestimate the need to understand this process of change

New Perspectives on U.S.-Japan Relations Curtis, Gerald L., 2000-12 How relevant today is an alliance that was forged between a powerful United States and a weak Japan in the context of a cold war struggle with the Soviet Union In what ways have the changes in the relative power positions of the two countries and the structural changes in the world economy created new challenges to the U S Japan relationship and how are the two countries responding to those challenges These are some of the important questions addressed by the eight Japanese and American authors of this volume Their focus ranges from issues of military relations trade and financial management and shifting security perspectives to the roles of the mass media in the bilateral relationship A truly binational effort the book brings together the thinking of some of the best trained younger political scientists to focus on the present and future of one of the most important bilateral relationships in the world

Japan's Road to Pluralism; Transforming Local Communities in the Global Era 山口, Menju Toshihiro, 2003-04 Profound changes are being hewn in Japanese communities as historical precedents proven models established guidelines and fixed rules are challenged and more appropriate alternatives sought In this volume seven sociologists show how fundamental structures have been undergoing change at the grassroots level in Japan because of decentralization and globalization Citizen activism in local governance is growing in response to new societal phenomena such as an increase in the foreign resident population and weakened local industries Along with decentralization many local authorities are promoting new measures to actively cope with the impact of globalization and to work with nongovernmental organizations and community businesses to meet the new needs of citizens This volume chronicles the practical and incremental changes in community level governance and how such change has redefined the duties of prefectures and local authorities clearly pointing toward Japan's new road to pluralism Contributors include Kanagawa Koji Research Institute for Regional Policy 21st Century Hyogo Project Association Kashiwazaki Chikako Department of Sociology Sophia University Nakamura Madoka Center for Policy Research Information National Institute for Research Advancement Tamura Shigeru Local Autonomy College Ministry of Home Affairs and Numao Ogura Namiko College of Economics Nihon University Furukawa Shun-ichi is professor of policy and planning sciences at Tsukuba University Menju Toshihiro is senior program officer at the Japan Center for International Exchange

Regionalism, Globalisation and International Order Jens-Uwe Wunderlich, 2016-03-23 New regionalism and globalization have been prominent themes in academic and political debates since the beginning of the 1990s Despite the considerable amount of scholarly attention that the new regionalism has received in recent years its full empirical and theoretical potential has yet to be fully investigated This illuminating study provides an overview of new avenues in theorizing regionalism and proposes a consolidated framework for analysis and comparison Offering a comparative historical perspective of European and Southeast Asian regionalism it presents new and imaginative insights into the theory and practice of regionalism and the links between regional developments globalization and international order Journal of Malaysian Studies, 2001
