The audience is diverse in age and attire, with men in suits and hats and women in long dresses and hats. In the background, a woman in a light blue dress stands on the stage, possibly a performer or a host. The theater has ornate architectural details, including a large green curtain on the left and a balcony with more seats. The overall style is that of a classic book cover illustration.

Roaring Days How Australia Grew Into A Nation Like No Other:

Growing Up in Country Australia Rick Morton, 2022-03-29 Black Inc's bestselling Growing Up series goes to the country. You will find in these pages a colourful and gripping pastiche that updates the experience outside Australia's cities and large regional centres. You will find despite the absolute variety in these essays that there is still something ineffable about life in the country. Rick Morton's Growing Up in Country Australia is a fresh modern look at country Australia. There are stories of joy, adventure, nostalgia, connection to nature and freedom, but also grimmer tales of drought, fires, mouse plagues and isolation. From the politics of the country school bus to the class divides between locals from shooting foxes with Dad to giving up meat as an adult from working on the family farm to selling up and moving to the city, the picture painted is diverse and unexpected. This is country Australia as you've never seen it before. With nearly forty stories by established and emerging authors from a wide range of backgrounds including First Nations and new migrants, Growing Up in Country Australia is a unique and revealing snapshot of rural life. Contributors include Holden Sheppard, Laura Jean McKay, Annabel Crabb, Sami Shah, Lech Blaine, Tony Armstrong, Bridie Jabour, Jes Layton, Lily Chan, Jay Carmichael and many others. From D W Thorpe Graeme Swann: The Breaks Are Off - My Autobiography Graeme Swann, 2011-10-13 Graeme Swann's transformation from international outsider to England's primary match winner and undisputed best spin bowler in the world has been remarkably rapid. Within two years of his 2008 Test debut, he had become his country's most reliable bowler, made the shortlist for the ICC's cricketer of the year award and claimed an Ashes sealing wicket. Yet the script took many twists and turns along the way. Drafted into the squad for the full tour of South Africa in 1999, 2000 Swann's meteoric rise received a jolt. While some liked the cut of his jib, others did not, and England coach Duncan Fletcher already had a foot in the latter camp when Swann missed the bus for the first of two times on that tour. Suddenly, he was judged on temperament and not talent. Although Swann candidly concedes he was nowhere near good enough for the top level at that stage in his career, his jettisoning back to county cricket for the next seven years following a solitary one-day international hinted at a career wasted. A clash with then Northamptonshire coach Kepler Wessels triggered his move to Nottinghamshire in 2005. A County Championship winner in his debut season, he was back in the England fold at the end of his third. Forever a flamboyant showman, he made up for lost time with two wickets in his first over against India; his habit of striking in his opening over a spell has become a party piece. You cannot keep the spotlight off him for long. Since moving into the top 10 of the world rankings for bowlers on the back of eight wickets in the Ashes, defining

Oval Test of 2009 he has not dropped outside it and has been widely tipped to be the decisive factor in the defence of the urn in Australia
