The Georgic Mode in Twentieth-Century

American Literature Ethan Mannon,2024-02-02 The Georgic Mode in Twentieth Century American Literature The Satisfactions of Soil and Sweat explores environmental writing that foregrounds labor Ethan Mannon argues that Virgil s Georgics as well as the georgic mode in general exerted considerable influence upon some of America s best known writers including Robert Frost Willa Cather and Wendell Berry and that these and others worked to revise the mode to better fit their own contexts This book also outlines the contemporary value of the georgic literary tradition two thousand years of writing that begins with the premise that humans must use the world in order to survive and search for a balance between human needs and nature s productive capacity In the georgic mode authors found an adaptable discourse that enabled them to advocate for the protection and responsible use of productive lands present rural places and people in all of their complexity explore human relationships with laboring animals and advertise the sensory pleasures of rooted work

How Nature Works Sarah Besky, Alex Blanchette, 2019-10-15. We now live on a planet that is troubled, even overworked, in ways that compel us to reckon with inherited common sense about the relationship between human labor and nonhuman nature. In Paraguay, fast-growing soy plants are displacing both prior crops and people. In Malaysia, dispossessed farmers are training captive orangutans to earn their own meals. In India, a prized dairy cow suddenly refuses to give more milk. Built from these sorts of scenes and sites, where the ultimate subjects and agents of work are ambiguous, How Nature Works develops an anthropology of labor that is sharply attuned to the irreversible effects of climate change, extinction, and deforestation. The authors of this volume push ethnographic inquiry beyond the anthropocentric documentation of human work on nature in order to develop a language for thinking about how all labor is a collective ecological act.
