Cope, 2019-04-01 With issue twenty four of 1650 1850 this annual enters its second quarter century with a new publisher a new look a new editorial board and a new commitment to intellectual and artistic exploration As the diversely inventive essays in this first issue from the Bucknell University Press demonstrate the energy and open mindedness that made 1650 1850 a success continue to intensify This first Bucknell issue includes a special feature that explores the use of sacred space in what was once incautiously called the age of reason A suite of book reviews renews the 1650 1850 legacy of full length and unbridled evaluation of the best in contemporary Enlightenment scholarship These lively and informative reviews celebrate the many years that book review editor Baerbel Czennia has served 1650 1850 and also make for an able handoff to Samara Anne Cahill of Nanyang Technological University who will edit the book review section beginning with our next volume Most important of all this issue serves as an invitation to scholars to offer their most creative and thoughtful work for consideration for publication in 1650 1850 About the annual journal 1650 1850 1650 1850 publishes essays and reviews from and about a wide range of academic disciplines literature both in English and other languages philosophy art history history religion and science Interdisciplinary in scope and approach 1650 1850 emphasizes aesthetic manifestations and applications of ideas and encourages studies that move between the arts and the sciences between the hard and the humane disciplines The editors encourage proposals for special features that bring together five to seven essays on focused themes within its historical range from the Interregnum to the end of the first generation of Romantic writers While also being open to more specialized or particular studies that match up with the general themes and goals of the journal 1650 1850 is in the first instance a journal about the artful presentation of ideas that welcomes good writing from its contributors First published in 1994 1650 1850 is currently in its 24th volume ISSN 1065 3112 Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press The Secularization of Early Modern England Charles John Sommerville, 1992 This study overcomes the ambiguity and daunting scale of the subject of secularization by using the insights of anthropology and sociology and by examining an earlier period than usually considered Concentrating not only on a decline of religious belief which is the last aspect of secularization this study shows that a transformation of England s cultural grammar had to precede that loosening of belief and that this was largely accomplished between 1500 and 1700 Only when definitions of space and time changed and language and technology were transformed as well as art and play could a secular world view be sustained As aspects of daily life became divorced from religious values and controls religious culture was supplanted by religious faith a reasoned rather than an unquestioned belief in the supernatural Sommerville shows that this process was more political and theological than economic or social Birth of the Leviathan Thomas Ertman, 1997-01-13 Ertman presents a new theory to explain the variation in political regimes and state infrastructures in pre

The Oxford Handbook of Daniel Defoe Nicholas Seager,J. A. Sinnreich,2014-05-29 Reveals the key factors that have contributed to the development and execution of successful military and political strategies throughout history Political Journalism in London, 1695-1720 Ashley Marshall,2020 A major history of the evolution of political journalism in the late Stuart and early Hanoverian period The Routledge Research Companion to Digital Medieval Literature Jennifer Boyle,Helen Burgess,2017-11-22 Working across literature history theory and practice this volume offers insight into the specific digital tools and interfaces as well as the modalities theories and forms central to some of the most exciting new research and critical scholarly and artistic production in medieval and pre modern studies Addressing more general themes and topics such as digitization media studies digital humanities and big data the new essays in this companion also focus on more than twenty five keywords such as access code virtual interactivity and network A useful website hosts examples links and materials relevant to the book Corruption, Party, and Government in Britain, 1702-1713 Aaron Graham,2015 Corruption Party and Government in Britain 1702 1713 offers an innovative and original reinterpretation of state formation in eighteenth century Britain reconceptualising it as a political and fundamentally partisan process Focussing on the supply of funds to the army during the War of the Spanish Succession 1702 13 it demonstrates that public officials faced multiple incompatible demands but that political partisanship helped to prioritise them and to hammer out settlements that embodied a version of the national interest These decisions were then transmitted to agents in overseas through a mixture of personal incentives and partisan loyalties which built trust and turned these informal networks into instruments of public policy However the process of building trust and supplying funds laid officials and agents open to accusations of embezzlement fraud and financial misappropriation In particular although successive financial officials ran entrepreneurial private financial ventures that enabled the army overseas to avoid dangerous financial shortfalls they found it necessary to cover the costs and risks by receiving illegal gratifications from the regiments Reconstructing these transactions in detail Corruption Party and Government in Britain 1702 1713 demonstrates that these corrupt payments advanced the public service and thus that corruption was as much a dispute over ends as means Ultimately this volume demonstrates that state formation in eighteenth century Britain was a contested process of interest aggregation in which common partisan aims helped to negotiate compromises between various irreconcilable public priorities and private interests within the frameworks provided by formal institutions and then collaboratively imposed through overlapping and intersecting networks of formal and informal agents The Fountain of Privilege Hilton L. Root,2024-06-04 The Fountain of Privilege applies contemporary economic and political theory to answer long standing historical questions about modernization In particular it contrasts political stability in Georgian England with the collapse of the Old Regime in France Why did a century of economic expansion rupture France s political foundations while leaving those of Britain intact Comparing the political and financial institutions of the two states Hilton Root argues that the French monarchy s tight control of markets created unresolvable social conflicts whereas England s broader power base permitted the wider distribution of economic favors resulting in more flexible and efficient markets This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1994 William III and the Godly Revolution Tony Claydon,1996 This is the first extensive account of royal propaganda in England between 1689 and 1702 It demonstrates that the regime of William III did not rely upon legal or constitutional rhetoric as it attempted to legitimate itself after the Glorious Revolution but rather used a protestant providential and biblically based language of courtly reformation This language presented the king as a divinely protected godly magistrate who could both defend the true church against its popish enemies and restore the original piety and virtue of the elect English nation Concentrating upon a range of hitherto understudied sources especially sermons and public prayers the book demonstrates the vigour with which these ideas were broadcast by an imaginative group of propagandists enabling the king to cope with central political difficulties the need to attract support for wars with France and the need to work with Parliament
