Christianity and the Roman Empire Ralph Martin Novak, 2001-02-01 The rise of Christianity during the first four centuries of the common era was the pivotal development in Western history and profoundly influenced the later direction of all world history Yet for all that has been written on early Christian history the primary sources for this history are widely scattered difficult to find and generally unknown to lay persons and to historians not specially trained in the field In Christianity and the Roman Empire Ralph Novak interweaves these primary sources with a narrative text and constructs a single continuous account of these crucial centuries The primary sources are selected to emphasize the manner in which the government and the people of the Roman Empire perceived Christians socially and politically the ways in which these perceptions influenced the treatment of Christians within the Roman Empire and the manner in which Christians established their political and religious dominance of the Roman Empire after Constantine the Great came to power in the early fourth century CE Ralph Martin Novak holds a Masters Degree in Roman History from the University of Chicago For

The Stratified Leadership Model of the First-Century Christian Church Barton S. Garratt Edsall,2025-07-29 This research work aims to present a solution to the problem of withering Christian congregations present in modern Christian churches by way of expounding the doctrine that Jesus or his apostles promoted as displayed in the four canonical Gospels the Acts of the Apostles or the New Testament epistles This study presents factual information showing that the doctrine and arrangement of leaders that developed within the first century church may have been overlooked and lost by the wayside of history in favor of established traditions Paul declared his purpose for visiting the church believers in Rome was not to collect money or build houses of worship but so that their lives might manifest spiritual fruit Following that example improving the spiritual quality of their people s lives should be the primary goal of all Christian ministers The majority of this work will conduct a careful exegesis of selected passages from the New Testament which focus on the leadership model utilized by the first century church This study presents in detail the stratified leadership model of the early times in such a fashion that any modern church might replicate its design

Faith or Gullibility? David Rex Holt,2016-06-07 Faith or Gullibility was originally written in answer to the author s many friends who asked why he was no longer attending church but as time passed and his studies revealed more and more anomalies in religious beliefs around the world it became very obvious that religious deception was rampant in all doctrines This was nowhere more obvious than in the political environments in which those doctrines were originally conceived where necessity demanded some sort of unified stance by different groups of people Much more than today where technology can provide answers in past centuries naturally gifted leaders needed convincing stories to persuade the masses to act in harmony to achieve the best outcomes and so those people were in that environment lauded as prophets and even credited with what became known as divine inspiration although in actual fact their leading was nothing more than intelligent use of their own intellects Nowhere was this more evident than in cases where their prophecies directly contradicted the laws of physics under the name of miracles A principal problem with this was that when those so called prophets expounded their ideas scientific knowledge was almost non-existent so that rank and file people readily accepted them and passed them down from generation to generation often by word of mouth because illiteracy was far more prevalent than it is in modern developed countries. However with increased knowledge human wisdom the sagacious application of knowledge has increased exponentially beyond all reckoning amongst open minded people of all religions to the point where it is no longer possible to justify those outdated beliefs when they are rationalised against the immutable laws of physics. This is particularly so when one considers that the entire universe and in fact many universes were all made without a single physical law being broken. As studies become more and more logical it becomes more and more apparent that the main reason for religious beliefs whatever they may be is insecurity where human nature cannot accept that life is a finite thing. People cling tenaciously to any doctrine that promises any sort of immortality whether it makes any sense or not and so the purpose of this book increasingly became changed from a mere answer to personal questions to an in depth study of religious mythology and deception.
