Traces the development of autobiography among Mexican Americans as a personal and communicative response to the threat of cultural extinction after the US conquered the northern provinces of Mexico in 1848 Explores how the writers perceived their society and the place of individuals in it The quotations include translations Paper edition unseen 17 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR The Problems of ethnic female Adolescents as portrayed in Toni Morrison's "The Bluest Eye", Maxine Hong Kingston's "The Woman Warrior", Sandra Cisneros' "The House on Mango Street" Anna Watorczyk,2005-09-26 Inhaltsangabe Abstract African American Chinese American and Mexican American female adolescents are representatives of minority groups in the United States The three groups of ethnic girls were assigned derogative stereotypes by many Euro American writers who did not portray their characters authentically The modern female ethnic authors undertake the battle with stereotypes that are the main source of girls problems They attempt to convince the reader that the lives of young girls cannot be interpreted according to offending images imposed on them This thesis aims to draw attention to the problems encountered by female ethnic adolescents in Toni Morrison s The Bluest Eye 1970 Maxine Hong Kingston s The Woman Warrior 1976 Sandra Cisneros The House on Mango Street 1984 and to portray their survival or collapse in American society Each of the books presented in the present study is a masterpiece of great literary value Toni Morrison was awarded the Nobel Prize for literature in 1993 Sandra Cisneros was the winner of the 1985 Before Columbus American Book Award Maxine Kingston won the National Book Critics Award with The Woman Warrior which was designated as non fiction in 1976 All of these books contribute significantly to the study of ethnic female adolescents The books chosen for the purpose of this thesis portray girls in an adolescent period The adolescents presented in this study are aged between ten and twenty one and are socially economically and politically dependent on their parents or guardians To further complicate matters the experiences of girls of colour are more complex than those encountered by white adolescents As the typical conflicts within the family problems with gender sexual development education and friends are juxtaposed with issues of racism and very often a lower social status In the light of these facts it does not come as a surprise that many ethnic adolescent girls have problems finding their self The first section of the initial chapter of this thesis takes into consideration the stereotypical image of Euro American adolescent girl as it often serves as a contradiction of the popular images of ethnic girls Furthermore the chapter examines stereotypes of African American Chinese American and Mexican American adolescents Despite their variety the stereotypes are the cause of girls victimisation in society The five following chapters analyse the problems more often The Desert is No Lady Vera Norwood,Janice J. identities outside of gendered racialized and xenophobic rhetoric Lost Homelands Audrey Goodman, 2022-02-08 Before the 1930s landscapes of the American Southwest represented the migrant's dream of a stable and bountiful homeland. Around the time of the Great Depression however the Southwest suddenly became integrated into a much larger economic and cultural system. Audrey Goodman examines how since that time these southwestern landscapes have come to reveal the resulting fragmentation of identity and community. Through analyzing a variety of texts and images Goodman illuminates the ways that modern forces such as militarization, environmental degradation, internal migration, and an increased border patrol presence have shattered the perception of a secure homeland in the Southwest. The deceptive natural beauty of the Southwest deserts shields a dark history of trauma and decimation that has remained as a shadow on the region's psyche. The first to really synthesize such wide-ranging material about the effects of the atomic age in the Southwest, Goodman realizes the value of combined visual and verbal art and uses it to put forth her own original ideas about reconstructing a new sense of homeland. Lost Homelands reminds us of the adversity and dislocation suffered by people of the Southwest by looking at the ways that artists, photographers, filmmakers, and writers have grappled with these problems for decades. In assessing the ruination of the region however, Goodman argues that those same artists and writers have begun to reassemble a new sense of homeland from these fragments.

Containing roughly 850 entries about Spanish language literature throughout the world, this expansive work provides coverage of the varied countries, ethnicities, time periods, literary movements, and genres of these writings. Providing a thorough introduction to Spanish language literature worldwide and across time is a tall order. However, World Literature in Spanish: An Encyclopedia contains roughly 850 entries on both major and minor authors, themes, genres, and topics of Spanish literature from the Middle Ages to the present day, affording an amazingly comprehensive reference collection in a single work. This encyclopedia describes the growing diversity within national borders, the increasing interdependence among nations, and the myriad impacts of Spanish literature across the globe. All countries that produce literature in Spanish in Europe, Africa, the Americas, and Asia are represented, covering both canonical authors and emerging contemporary writers and trends. Underrepresented writings such as texts by women, writers, queer, and Afro-Hispanic texts, children's literature, and works on relevant but less studied topics such as sports and nationalism also appear. While writings throughout the centuries are covered, those of the 20th and 21st centuries receive special consideration.
