I. Atroshenko, Judith Collins, 1985 Archaeology and the Pan-European Romanesque T. O'Keefe, 2015-03-02 Romanesque is the style name given to the art and architecture of Europe in the eleventh and twelfth centuries First used in the early nineteenth century to express the perceived indebtedness of the visual artistic and architectural cultures of this period to their Classical antecedents the term has survived two centuries of increasingly sophisticated readings of the relevant medieval buildings and objet d art The study of Romanesque as a stylistic phenomenon is now almost exclusively the preserve of art historians particularly in the English speaking world Here the Romanesque is subjected to a long overdue theoretically informed archaeological inquiry The ideological foundations and epistemological boundaries of Romanesque scholarship are critiqued and the constructs of Romanesque and Europe are deconstructed and alternative strategies for interpreting Romanesque s constituent material are mapped out This book should at the very least illuminate the need for debate Romanesque Art in Europe Gustav K nstler, 1969

Romanesque and the Past John McNeill, Richard Plant, 2024-11-01 The nineteen papers collected in this volume explore a notable phenomenon that of retrospection in the art and architecture of Romanesque Europe They arise from a conference organized by the British Archaeological Association in 2010 and reflect its interest in how and why the past manifested itself in the visual culture of the 11th and 12th centuries This took many forms from the casual re use of ancient material to a specific desire to re present or emulate earlier objects and buildings Central to it is a concern for the revival of Roman and early medieval forms spolia selective quotation archaism and the construction of histories The individual essays presented here cover a wide range of topics and media the significance of consecration ceremonies in the creation of architectural memory the rise of pictorial concepts in 12th century chronicles the creation of history in the Paris of Hugh of St Victor and the appeal of the works of Bernward of Hildesheim and of Hrabanus Maurus in the centuries after their deaths There are studies of buildings and the ideological purpose behind them at Tarragona Ripoll Cluny Pannonhalma Hungary La Roccelletta Calabria and Old St Peter s comparative studies of Trier Villenauve and Glastonbury and of Bury St Edmunds Rievaulx and Canterbury and wide ranging papers on the tantalizing evidence for an engagement with an overseas past in Ireland an Anglo Saxon past in England and a Milanese past among the aisleless cruciform churches of Augustinian Europe The volume concludes with an assessment of the very concept of Romanesque

The Regional and Transregional in Romanesque Europe John McNeill, Richard Plant, 2021-11-29 The Regional and Transregional in Romanesque Europe considers the historiography and usefulness of regional categories and in so doing explores the strength durability mutability and geographical scope of regional and transregional phenomena in the Romanesque period This book addresses the complex question of the significance of regions in the creation of Romanesque particularly in relation to transregional and pan European artistic styles and approaches The categorization of Romanesque by region was a cornerstone of 19th and 20th century scholarship albeit one vulnerable to the application of anachronistic concepts of regional identity Individual chapters explore the generation and reception of forms the conditions that give rise to the development of transregional styles and the agencies that cut across territorial boundaries There are studies of regional styles in Aquitaine Castile Sicily Hungary and Scandinavia workshops in Worms and the Welsh Marches the transregional nature of liturgical furnishings the cultural geography of the new monastic orders metalworking in Hildesheim and the valley of the Meuse and the links which connect Piemonte with Conques The Regional and Transregional in Romanesque Europe offers a new vision of regions in the creation of Romanesque relevant to archaeologists art historians and historians alike

Carolingian and Romanesque Architecture, 800 to 1200 Kenneth John Conant, 1993-01-01 Professor Conant s detailed studies of Santiago de Compostela and of the abbey church at Cluny fit him for this account of building in the period of the round arch which preceeded Gothic In this volume he shows how at the instigation of the monasteries during the little renaissance of Charlemagne Roman methods of construction were revived and fused with local traditions to produce a distinctive Carolingian manner and how such monuments as the Palatine Chapel at Aachen already contained hints of the nobler and more mature Romanesque style which was to become international professor Conant extends his survey to cover the regions of medieval France Spain Portugal the Holy Land Italy Germany Northern Europe and Britain

Romanesque Renaissance Konrad Adriaan Ottenheym, 2021-01-11 In early modern times scholars and architects investigated age old buildings in order to look for useful sources of inspiration They too occasionally misinterpreted younger buildings as proofs of majestic Roman or other ancient glory such as the buildings of the Carolingian

Ottonian and Stauffer emperors But even if the correct age of a certain building was known buildings from c 800 1200 were sometimes regarded as Antique architecture since the concept of Antiquity was far more stretched than our modern periodisation allows This was a Europe wide phenomenon The results are rather diverse in style but they all share an intellectual and artistic strategy a conscious revival of an ancient architecture whatever the date and origin of these models Contributors Barbara Arciszewska Lex Bosman Ian Campbell Eliana Carrara Bianca de Divitiis Krista De Jonge Emanuela Ferretti Emanuela Garofalo Stefaan Grieten Hubertus G nther Stephan Hoppe Sanne Maekelberg Kristoffer Neville Marco Rosario Nobile Konrad Ottenheim Stefano Piazza and Richard Schofield Romanesque Art Victoria Charles,Klaus Carl,2023-12-28 In art history the term Romanesque art distinguishes the period between the beginning of the 11th and the end of the 12th century This era showed a great diversity of regional schools each with their own unique style In architecture as well as in sculpture Romanesque art is marked by raw forms Through its rich iconography and captivating text this work reclaims the importance of this art which is today often overshadowed by the later Gothic style A journey through Romanesque art Victoria Charles,Klaus H. Romanesque Patrons and Processes Jordi Camps,Manuel Castiñeiras,John McNeill,Richard Plant,2018-03-09 The twenty five papers in this volume arise from a conference jointly organised by the British Archaeological Association and the Museu Nacional d Art de Catalunya in Barcelona They explore the making of art and architecture in Latin Europe and the Mediterranean between c 1000 and c 1250 with a particular focus on questions of patronage design and instrumentality No previous studies of patterns of artistic production during the Romanesque period rival the breadth of coverage encompassed by this volume both in terms of geographical origin and media and in terms of historical approach Topics range from case studies on Santiago de Compostela the Armenian Cathedral in Jerusalem and the Winchester Bible to reflections on textuality and donor literacy the culture of abbatial patronage at Saint Michel de Cuxa and the re invention of slab relief sculpture around 1100 The volume also includes papers that attempt to recover the procedures that coloured interaction between artists and patrons a serious theme in a collection that opens with Function condition and process in eleventh century Anglo Norman church architecture and ends with a consideration of The death of the patron Medieval East Central Europe in a Comparative Perspective Gerhard Jaritz,Katalin Szende,2016-05-12 Medieval East Central Europe in a Comparative Perspective draws together the new perspectives concerning the relevance of East Central Europe for current historiography

by placing the region in various comparative contexts The chapters compare conditions within East Central Europe as well as between East Central Europe the rest of the continent and beyond Including 15 original chapters from an interdisciplinary team of contributors this collection begins by posing the question What is East Central Europe with three specialists offering different interpretations and presenting new conclusions The book is then grouped into five parts which examine political practice religion urban experience and art and literature The contributors question and explain the reasons for similarities and differences in governance and strategies for handling allies enemies or subjects in particular ways They point out themes and structures from town planning to religious orders that did not function according to political boundaries and for which the inclusion of East Central European territories was systemic The volume offers a new interpretation of medieval East Central Europe beyond its traditional limits in space and time and beyond the established conceptual schemes It will be essential reading for students and scholars of medieval East Central Europe Romanesque Architecture in Western Europe
