Romantic Journey The Story Thomas Cook:

The Romantic Journey Edmund Swinglehurst, 1974 The Art of Travel Philip Dodd, 2013-08-21 First published in 1982
The Art of Travel is the first collection of critical essays to be devoted to British travel writing. It attempts to give a sense of the wealth of such writing, to map some of its forms and conventions and implicitly to claim a place for travel writing in any revised definition of literature. For this collection, travel includes sea voyages, European tours, commissioned enquiries into social conditions and urban writing. Travel writing ranges from works such as Sea and Sardinia by D. H. Lawrence, whose status as a novelist guarantees his travel books some attention, through the essays and books of Victorian middle-class travellers into working-class London to the work of V. S. Naipaul, a contemporary writer who has increasingly preferred the travel book to the novel.

Thomas Cook Jill Hamilton, 2005-01-20 Biography of Thomas Cook Time, Innovation and Mobilities Peter Frank Peters, 2006-07-13
In social theory and sociology, time and travel in technological cultures is one of the new and challenging research topics in the mobilities turn. Yet surprisingly, contemporary practices of mobility have till now seen only limited theorization within these disciplines. By analyzing historic and contextualized transit practices, this revealing book argues that travel cannot now simply be reduced to getting from A to B; it is an integrated part of everyday life. In this area, researching how problems can be identified as dilemmas and reformulated as design problems helps create a new vocabulary, one which will not only change the agenda in the debate on mobility problems in the public domain but will also suggest new ways of theorizing mobility innovations. In this fascinating book, author Peters develops a conceptual framework to study contemporary transit practices and evaluate innovation strategies, gives new insights regarding historic and contemporary design strategies and regarding innovations related to travel in technological cultures, gives special attention to electronic timespaces and ICT-based mobility innovations, investigates cases of travel in technological cultures: car travel, air travel and cycling in Dutch towns. An original and provocative contribution to the emerging field of mobilities, this book will become an essential resource for advanced undergraduate, postgraduate researchers and practitioners in the fields of sociology, geography, spatial planning, policy and transportation studies.

The Delicious History of the Holiday Fred Inglis, 2005-11-28
Our holidays lie near the heart of our emotional life, enjoyed for a fortnight, fed on imagination for eleven months of the year What we want from our holidays tells a lot about who we are and what we wish we were In this charming account Fred Inglis traces the rise of the holiday from its early roots in the Grand Tour through the coming of Thomas Cook and his Blackpool packages to sex tourism and the hippie trail to Kathmandu He celebrates the bodily pleasures of generations of tourists from Edwardian banquets in Paris to fish and chips on the beach from the Bright Young Things on the Riviera to the chosen hardships of the sea the desert wastes and the mountain tops He considers the ideals and the spiritual aspirations which are part of what we look for in a holiday but he also warns of a darker current how we have increasingly destroyed what we take most pleasure in and how the dealings between those who have much and those who have little can seldom however good our intentions avoid the taint of exploitation Tourism and Dictatorship S. Train Tracks Gayle Letherby, Gillian Reynolds, 2020-08-25 This book provides an in depth exploration of trains and train travel Letherby and Reynolds have conducted extensive research with all those concerned with trains from leisure travelers and enthusiasts to railway workers and commuters Overturning conventional wisdom they show that the train has a social life in and of itself and is not simply a way to get from A to B The book also looks at the depiction of train travel through cultural media such as music films books and art The authors consider the personal politics of train travel and political discussion surrounding the railways as well as the relationship trains have to leisure and work The media often paints a gloomy picture of the railways and there is a general view that the romance of train travel ended with the steam locomotive Letherby and Reynolds show that this is far from the case

Acts of supremacy J. S. Bratton, Richard Cave, Brendan Gregory, Michael Pickering, 2021-06-15 Imperialist discourse interacted with regional and class discourses Imperialism s incorporation of Welsh Scots and Irish identities was both necessary to its own success and one of its most powerful functions in terms of the control of British society Most cultures have a place for the concept of heroism and for the heroic figure in narrative fiction stage heroes are part of the drama s definition of self the exploration and understanding of personal identity Theatrical and quasi theatrical presentations whether in music hall clubroom Shakespeare Memorial Theatre or the streets and ceremonial spaces of the capital contributed to that much discussed national mood This book examines the theatre as the locus for nineteenth century discourses of power and the use of stereotype in productions of the Shakespearean history canon It discusses the development of the working class and naval hero myth of Jack Tar the portrayal of Ireland and the Irish and the portrayal of British India on the spectacular exhibition stage The racial implications of the ubiquitous black face minstrelsy are focused upon The ideology cluster which made up the imperial mindset had the capacity to re arrange and re interpret history and to influence the portrayal of the tragic or comic potential of personal dilemmas Though the British may have prided themselves on having preceded America in the abolition of slavery and thus outpacing Brother Jonathan in humanitarian philanthropy abnegation of hierarchisation and the acceptance of equality of status between black and white ethnic groups was not part of that achievement

A New Race of Men Michael Fry, 2013-10-03 War opened and closed Scotland's greatest century a pitiless part in the defeat of Napoleon in 1815 a huge blood sacrifice for the sake of victory from 1914 In between came the greatest contributions to the progress and happiness of the rest of mankind that the Scots have ever made in everything from the combine harvester to the mackintosh to anaesthesia It was a supremely successful achieving society yet one not without deep flaws in its urban poverty its destruction of the environment its religious intolerance its moral hypocrisy its crushing of Highland culture Michael Fry shows with an emphasis always on the human story how a succession of deep crises undermined the usually tranquil and prosperous surface of life in Victorian Scotland to leave a legacy of paradox that the modern nation has even today yet to overcome

Viewing the Islamic Orient Pallavi Pandit Laisram, 2014-07-11
The Islamic Orient studies the travel accounts of four British travelers during the nineteenth century Through a critical analysis of these works the author examines and questions Edward Said's concept of Orientalism and Orientalist discourse his argument that the orientalist view had such a strong influence on westerners that they invariably perceived the orient through the lens of orientalism On the contrary the author argues no single factor had an overwhelming influence on them She shows that westerners often struggled with their own conceptions of the orient and being away for long periods from their homelands were in fact able to stand between cultures and view them both as insiders and outsiders The literary devices used to examine these writings are structure characterization satire landscape description and word choice as also the social and political milieu of the writers The major influences in the author's analysis are Said Foucault Abdel Malek and Marie Louise Pratt
