Rook,Robert Ward,2021      Rook and Ward on Sexual Offences Peter Rook,Robert Ward,2014-03-24      Rook & Ward on Sexual Offences ,1990      Rook & Ward on Sexual Offences Peter F. G. Rook,Robert Ward,1997 A comprehensive reference text on the subject of sexual offences this volume includes all statutory and Common Law offences all evidential issues video links for children s evidence and sentencing issues Two new chapters on DNA evidence are featured in this second edition of the text explaining the scientific background and how to present the statistical issues in court      Sentencing Rape Graeme Brown,2020-05-14 This book presents an in depth comparative study of sentencing practice for rape in six common law jurisdictions England and Wales Scotland Ireland Canada New Zealand and South Africa It provides a thorough review of the medical literature on the physical and psychological effects of rape the legal and philosophical literature on the seriousness of the offence and the victim s role in sentencing Given the increasingly common practice of perpetrators using mobile and online technologies to film or photograph the commission of sexual offences the book examines recent socio legal research on technology facilitated sexual violence and considers the implications for sentencing By building on recent scholarship on judicial decision making in sentencing and case law comprising over 250 decisions of the relevant appellate courts the book explores and critically analyses judicial approaches to rape sentencing The analysis is undertaken with a view to suggesting possible reforms to rape sentencing in non guideline jurisdictions In so doing this book seeks to establish general principles for sentencing rape assisting in the imposition of proportionate sentences This book will be of interest to judges and practising lawyers to those researching criminal law criminal justice criminology and gender studies and to policy makers including sentencing councils and commissions in common law jurisdictions worldwide      Closing the Justice Gap for Adult and Child Sexual Assault Anne Cossins,2020-10-21 This book examines the justice gap and trial process for sexual assault against both adults and children in two jurisdictions England and Wales and New South Wales Australia Drawing on decades of research it investigates the reality of the policing and prosecution of sexual assault offences often seen as one of the hardest crimes to prosecute across two similar jurisdictions Despite the introduction of the many reform options detailed in the book satisfactory outcomes for victims and the public are still difficult to obtain Cossins takes a new approach by examining the nature and effects of adversarialism on vulnerable witnesses jury decision making and the structures of power within the trial process to show how and at what points that process is weighted against complainants of sexual assault in order to make evidence based suggestions for reform She argues that this justice gap is a result of a moralisticadversarial culture which fosters myths and misconceptions about rape and child sexual assault thus requiring the prosecution to prove a complainant s moral worthiness She argues this culture can only be eliminated by a radical replacement of the adversarial system with a trauma informed system By reviewing the relevant psychological literature this book documents the triggers for re traumatisation within an adversarial trial and discusses the reform measures that would be necessary to transform the sexual assault trial from one where the complainant s moral worthiness is on trial to a fully functioning trauma informed system It speaks to students and academics across subjects including law criminology gender studies and psychology and practitioners in law and victim services as well as policy makers

Coercive Control and the Criminal Law Cassandra Wiener,2022-12-30 This book considers how a phenomenon as complex as coercive control can be criminalised The recognition and ensuing criminalisation of coercive control in the UK and Ireland has been the focus of considerable international attention It has generated complex questions about the best way to criminalise domestic abuse This work reviews recent domestic abuse criminal law reform in the UK and Ireland In particular it defines coercive control and explains why using traditional criminal law approaches to prosecute it does not work Laws passed in England and Wales versus Scotland represent two different approaches to translating coercive control into a criminal offence This volume explains how and why the jurisdictions have taken different approaches and examines the advantages and disadvantages of each As jurisdictions around the world review what steps need to be taken to improve national criminal justice responses to domestic abuse the question of what works and why at the intersection of domestic abuse and the criminal law has never been more important As such the book will be a vital resource for lawyers policy makers and activists with an interest in domestic abuse law reform

Sex and the contract Vincenzo Zeno-Zencovich,2015-10-01 DOI 10 13134 978 88 97524 45 8

The New Philosophy of Criminal Law Chad Flanders,Zachary Hoskins,2015-12-16 There is no more vivid example of a state s power over its citizens than the criminal law By criminalizing various behaviours the state sets boundaries on what we can and cannot do And the criminal law is in many ways unique in the harshness of its sanctions But traditional criminal law theory has for too long focussed on the questions what is a crime and what is the justification of punishment The significance of the criminal law extends beyond these questions indeed critical philosophical questions underlie all aspects of the criminal justice system The criminal law engages us not just as offenders or potential offenders but also as victims suspects judges and jurors prosecutors and defenders and as citizens The authors in this volume go beyond traditional questions to challenge our conventional understandings of the criminal law In doing so they draw from a number of disciplines including philosophy history and social science

Criminalizing Sex Stuart P. Green, 2020-04-15 This book explores the idea that the proper role of criminal law in a liberal state is to protect individuals in their right not to be subjected to sexual contact against their will while also safeguarding their right to engage in private consensual sexual conduct in which they do wish to participate Although consistent in the abstract these dual aims frequently come into conflict in practice as is explored in the context of a wide range of offenses

Criminal Sentencing as Practical Wisdom Graeme Brown, 2017-06-01 How do judges sentence In particular how important is judicial discretion in sentencing Sentencing guidelines are often said to promote consistency but is consistency in sentencing achievable or even desirable Whilst the passing of a sentence is arguably the most public stage of the criminal justice process there have been few attempts to examine judicial perceptions of and attitudes towards the sentencing process Through interviews with Scottish judges and by presenting a comprehensive review and analysis of recent scholarship on sentencing including a comparative study of UK Irish and Commonwealth sentencing jurisprudence this book explores these issues to present a systematic theory of sentencing Through an integration of the concept of equity as particularised justice the Aristotelian concept of phronesis or practical wisdom the concept of value pluralism and the focus of appellate courts throughout the Commonwealth on sentencing by way of instinctive synthesis it is argued that judicial sentencing methodology is best viewed in terms of a phronetic synthesis of the relevant facts and circumstances of the particular case The author concludes that sentencing is best conceptualised as a form of case orientated concrete and intuitive decision making one that seeks individualisation through judicial recognition of the profoundly contextualised nature of the process

Managing Fear Bernadette McSherry, 2013-10-23 Managing Fear examines the growing use of risk assessment as it relates to preventive detention and supervision schemes for offenders perceived to be at a high risk of re offending individuals with severe mental illness and suspected terrorists It outlines a number of legislative regimes in common law countries that have broadened civil as opposed to criminal powers of detention and supervision Drawing on the disciplines of criminology and social psychology it explores how and why such schemes reflect a move towards curtailing liberty before harm results rather than after a crime has occurred Human rights and ethical issues concerning the role of mental health practitioners in assessing risk for the purposes of preventive detention and supervision are explored and regimes that require evidence from mental health practitioners are compared with those that rely on decision makers notions of reasonable belief concerning the risk of harm Case studies are used to exemplify some of the issues relating to how governments have attempted to manage the fear of future harm This book aims to educate mental health practitioners in the law relating to preventive detention and supervision schemes and how the legal requirements differ from clinical assessment practices examine the reasons why there has been a recent renewal of preventive detention and supervision schemes in common law countries provide a comparative overview of existing preventive detention and supervision schemes and analyse the human rights implications and the ethics of using forensic risk assessment techniques for preventive detention and supervision schemes

Landmark Cases in Criminal Law Philip Handler, Henry Mares, Ian Williams, 2017-05-04 Criminal cases raise difficult normative and legal questions and are often a consequence of compelling human drama In this collection expert authors place leading cases in criminal law in their historical and legal contexts highlighting their significance both in the past and for the present The cases in this volume range from the fifteenth to the twenty first century Many of them are well known to modern criminal lawyers and students others are overlooked landmarks that deserve reconsideration The essays often based on extensive and original archival research range over a wide spectrum of criminal law covering procedure and doctrine statute and common law individual offences and general principles Together the essays explore common themes including the scope of criminal law and criminalisation the role of the jury and the causes of change in criminal law Cases & Materials on Criminal Law Mike Molan, 2009-01-13 The range of thoughtfully selected materials and authoritative commentary ensures that this book provides a completely up to date collection of materials and analysis on this difficult and challenging area of law

Privacy, Technology, and the Criminal Process Andrew Roberts, Joe Purshouse, Jason Bosland, 2023-07-28 This collection considers the implications for privacy of the utilisation of new technologies in the criminal process In most modern liberal democratic states privacy is considered a basic right Many national constitutions and almost all international human rights instruments include some guarantee of privacy Yet privacy interests appear to have had relatively little influence on criminal justice policy making The threat that technology poses to these interests demands critical re evaluation of current law policy and practice This is provided by the contributions to this volume They offer legal criminological philosophical and comparative perspectives The book will be of interest to legal and criminological scholars and postgraduate students Its interdisciplinary methodology and focus on the intersection between law and technology make it also relevant for philosophers and those interested in science and technology studies
