New Deal, New Landscape Tara Mitchell Mielnik, 2012-11-19 Tara Mitchell Mielnik fills a significant gap in the history of the New Deal South by examining the lives of the men of South Carolina's Civilian Conservation Corps CCC who from 1933 to 1942 built sixteen state parks all of which still exist today Enhanced with revealing interviews with former state CCC members Mielnik's illustrated account provides a unique exploration into the Great Depression in the Palmetto State and the role that South Carolina's state parks continue to play as architectural legacies of a monumental New Deal program In 1933 thousands of unemployed young men and World War I veterans were given the opportunity to work when Emergency Conservation Work ECW one of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's New Deal programs came to South Carolina Renamed the Civilian Conservation Corps in 1937 the program was responsible for planting millions of trees in reforestation projects augmenting firefighting activities stringing much needed telephone lines for fire prevention throughout the state and terracing farmland and other soil conservation projects The most visible legacies of the CCC in South Carolina are many of the state's national forests recreational areas and parks Prior to the work of the CCC South Carolina had no state parks but from 1933 to 1942 the CCC built sixteen Mielnik's briskly paced and informative study gives voice to the young men who labored in the South Carolina CCC and honors the legacy of the parks they built and the conservation and public recreation values these sites fostered for modern South Carolina

Understories Jake Kosek, 2006-12-08 A lively engaging ethnography that demonstrates how a volatile politics of race class and nation animates the infamously violent struggles over forests in the U S Southwest Nature's New Deal Neil M. Maher, 2008 Neil M Maher examines the history of one of Franklin D Roosevelt's boldest and most successful experiments the Civilian Conservation Corps describing it as a turning point both in national politics and in the emergence of modern environmentalism Historical Dictionary of the Great Depression, 1929-1940 James S. Olson, 2001-09-30 Today when most Americans think of the Great Depression they imagine desperate hoboes riding the rails in search of work unemployed men selling pencils to indifferent crowds bootleggers hustling illegal booze to secrecy shrouded speakeasies FDR smiling or Judy Garland skipping along the yellow brick road Hard times have become an abstraction But there was a time when economic suffering was real when hunger stalked the land and Americans tried to forget their troubles in movie theaters or in front of a radio From the stock market crash of October 1929 to Germany's invasion of Norway France and the Low Countries in 1940 the Great Depression blanketed the world economy Its impact was particularly deep and direct in the United States This was the era when the federal government became a major player in the national economy and Americans bestowed the responsibility for maintaining full employment and stable prices on Congress and the White House making the Depression years a major watershed in U S history In more than 500 essays this book provides a ready reference to those hard times covering the diplomacy popular culture intellectual life economic problems public policy issues and prominent individuals of the era The Politics and Civics of National Service Melissa Bass, 2013-01-03 In 1933 President Franklin D Roosevelt created America's first domestic national service program the Civilian Conservation Corps CCC As part of this program the largest and most highly esteemed of its kind nearly three million unemployed men worked to rehabilitate protect and build the nation's natural resources It demonstrated what citizens and government could accomplish together Yet despite its success the CCC was short lived While more controversial programs such as President Johnson's Volunteers in Service to America VISTA and President Clinton's AmeriCorps survived why did CCC die And why given the hard won continuation and expansion of AmeriCorps is national service an option for fewer Americans today than at its start nearly eighty years ago In The Politics and Civics of National Service Melissa Bass focuses on the history current relevance and impact of domestic civilian national service She explains why such service has yet to be deeply institutionalized in the United States while military and higher education have solidified their roles as American institutions civilian national service is still not recognized as a long term policy option Bass argues that only by examining these programs over time can we understand national service s successes and limitations both in terms of its political support and its civics lessons The Politics and Civics of National Service furthers our understanding of American political development by comparing programs founded during three distinct political eras the New Deal the Great Society and the early Clinton years and tracing them over time To a remarkable extent the CCC VISTA and AmeriCorps reflect the policymaking ethos and political controversies of their times illuminating principles that hold well beyond the field of national service By emphasizing these programs effects on citizenship and civic engagement The Politics and Civics of National Ser Hard Work and a Good Deal Sommer,2009-07 The Civilian Conservation Corps born out of Franklin D Roosevelt s New Deal at the height of the Great Depression supplied jobs to more than 77 000 Minnesotans in need Their work left a lasting legacy visible today in Minnesota s thriving forests state park amenities and soil conservation practices Hundreds of interviews complement oral historian Barbara Sommer s lively text with personal accounts that animate the history of the CCC in Minnesota as camps were created and projects tackled throughout the state The boys look back often fondly at this program which for many was their introduction to the workforce and to life away from home Accolades for Hard Work and a Good Deal Winner of the 2009 Minnesota Book Award in the Minnesota Category Winner of the 2009 Northeast Minnesota Book Award in the General Nonfiction Category Winner of the 2009 Award of Merit from the American Association for State and Local History AASLH Beyond Little Rock John A. Kirk, Minnijean Brown Trickey, 2007-10-01 Based on extensive archival work private paper collections and oral history this book includes eight of John Kirk s essays two of which have never been published before Together these essays locate the dramatic events of the crisis within the larger story of the African American struggle for freedom and equality in Arkansas Examining key episodes in state history from before the New Deal to the present Kirk covers a wide range of topics that include the historiography of the school crisis the impact of the New Deal early African American politics and mass mobilization race gender and the civil rights movement the role of white liberals in the struggle and the intersections of race and city planning policy Kirk unearths many previously neglected individuals organizations and episodes and provides a thought provoking analytical framework for understanding them Americans and Their Forests Michael Williams, 1992-06-26 Dr Williams begins by exploring the role of the forest in American culture the symbols themes and concepts for example pioneer woodsman lumberjack wilderness generated by contact with the vast land of trees He considers the Indian use of the forest describing the ways in which native tribes altered it primarily through fire to promote a subsistence economy Roosevelt Wild Life Bulletins [on Forestry] Syracuse University.
