Rescue of Sturgeon Species in the Ural River Basin Viktor Lagutov, 2008-10-22 While almost every aspect of society nature interactions can be treated as an environmental security issue the threats to human societies originating from inadequate freshwater management constitute one of the most widespread and pressing problems For thousands of years rivers and river valleys have been the cradle of human civilizations Rivers have provided not only food and freshwater but also shelter and means of transportation and they are still an essential component in every national and regional economy In turn growing needs of human societies accompanied by growing abilities have caused significant river alterations and ecosystem changes that have resulted in river contamination biodiversity loss and general riverine ecosystem degradation The extinction of sturgeon species is one of the most eloquent examples of the negative and irreversible influence of human society on river ecosystems The sturgeon sometimes called the living fossil or living dinosaur of the fish world is known to have lived since the time of the dinosaurs for at least 250 million years and is currently on the verge of extinction solely due to anthropogenic impacts

Environmental Security in Watersheds: The Sea of Azov Viktor Lagutov, 2011-10-23 Watersheds supplying crucial ecosystem services to humans seem to be a logical territorial unit to integrate societal benefits and environmental needs in order to evaluate the sustainability of natural resource use patterns Based on this belief the book is an attempt to initiate a comprehensive environmental security assessment in the basin of the Azov Sea shared by Russia and Ukraine Though the region provides a variety of essential services and plays a strategic role in national and international development plans it has been excluded from most regional environmental discussions At the same time there is an alarming degradation rate of basin freshwater ecosystems that has occurred due to overutilization of certain prioritized services e g transportation The collapse of neglected services e g fishery and freshwater supply poses serious threats to the national economies as well as the local population and to mitigate these threats priority in water management should be given to securing sustainability of the regional freshwater ecosystems In addition to the review of the current status of Azov ecosystem services the authors analyze likely future availability and challenges The relevant experience derived from basin management of the Black Sea and other similar basins is also discussed

Action Plan for the Conservation of Sturgeons (Acipenseridae) in the Danube River Basin Jürg Bloesch, 2006-01-01 Six species of sturgeons are native to the Danube River Basin The need for conservation action is urgent given that recent observations in the Lower Danube indicate that all sturgeon populations are near extinction Due to the high commercial value of sturgeon products in particular caviar the pressure from poaching and illegal trade remains intense These species will not survive unless fishing practices are greatly addressed and both migration routes and habitats for all life cycle stages are protected Through national action and international co ordination this action plan aims to secure viable populations of all Danube sturgeon species by sustainable management and restoration of their natural habitats and migratory corridors Sturgeon biodiversity and conservation Vadim J. The Analysis of Performance Art Anthony Howell,A. Howell,2013-11-05 This finely illustrated book offers a simple yet comprehensive grammar of a new discipline Performance Art first became popular in the fifties when artists began creating happenings Since then the artist as a performer has challenged many of the accepted rules of the theatre and radically altered our notion of what constitutes visual art This is the first publication to outline the essential characteristics of the field and to put forward a method for teaching the subject as a discipline distinct from dance drama painting or sculpture Taking the theory of primary and secondary colours as his model Anthony Howell posits three primaries of action and shows how these may be mixed to obtain a secondary range of actions Based on a taught course the system is designed for practical use in the studio and is also entertaining to explore Examples are cited from leading performance groups and practitioners such as Bobbie Baker Orlan Stelarc Annie Sprinkle Robert Wilson Goat Island and Station House Opera This volume however is not just an illustrated grammar of action it also shows how the syntax of that grammar has psychoanalytic repercussions This enables the performer to relate the system to lived experience ensuring a realisation that meaning is being dealt with through these actions and that the system set forth is more than a dry structuring of the characteristics of movement Freud s notion of transference and Lacan s understanding of repetition are compared to a performer s usage of the same terms Thus the book provides a psychoanalytic critique of performance at the same time as it outlines an efficient method for creating live work on both fine art and theatre courses

Serbia Laurence Mitchell,2010 2001 eds written by Laurence Mitchell Serbia and the Balkan Front, 1914 James Lyon,2015-07-30 Winner of the 2015 Norman B Tomlinson Jr Book Prize Serbia and the Balkan Front 1914 is the first history of the Great War to address in depth the crucial events of 1914 as they played out on the Balkan Front James Lyon demonstrates how blame for the war s outbreak can be placed squarely on Austria Hungary s expansionist plans and internal political tensions Serbian nationalism South Slav aspirations the unresolved Eastern Question and a political assassination sponsored by renegade elements within Serbia s security services In doing so he portrays the background and events of the Sarajevo Assassination and the subsequent military campaigns and diplomacy on the Balkan Front during 1914 The book details the first battle of the First World War the first Allied victory and the massive military humiliations Austria Hungary suffered at the hands of tiny Serbia while discussing the oversized strategic role Serbia played for the Allies during 1914 Lyon challenges existing historiography that contends the Habsburg Army was ill prepared for war and shows that the Dual

Monarchy was in fact superior in manpower and technology to the Serbian Army thus laying blame on Austria Hungary's military leadership rather than on its state of readiness Based on archival sources from Belgrade Sarajevo and Vienna and using never before seen material to discuss secret negotiations between Turkey and Belgrade to carve up Albania Serbia's desertion epidemic its near surrender to Austria Hungary in November 1914 and how Serbia became the first belligerent to openly proclaim its war aims Serbia and the Balkan Front 1914 enriches our understanding of the outbreak of the war and Serbia's role in modern Europe It is of great importance to students and scholars of the history of the First World War as well as military diplomatic and modern European history

Theatre of Conscience 1939-53 Peter Billingham, 2013-12-16 Theatres of Conscience offers an invaluable and essential insight into four touring British theatre companies whose work and contributions to post war British theatre have largely gone unnoticed Combining a rigorous scholarly evaluation of their work and their broadly ideological and ethical contribution to wider post war developments in British theatre Peter Billingham offers the reader a unique insight into four companies which motivated by enthusiasm principles and creative innovation sought to take the theatre of conscience to theatre less communities in wartime Britain and during the following decade Contemporaries of amongst others Joan Littlewood's Theatre Workshop the Pilgrim Players the Adelphi Players the Compass Players and the Century Theatre represent a significant but rather overlooked phase in the development of twentieth century British theatre
