Competition Evan Brier, 2024-04-16 Novel Competition describes the literary and institutional struggle to make American novels matter between 1965 and 1999 As corporations took over the book business Hollywood movies popular music and other forms of mass produced culture competed with novels as never before for a form of prestige that had mostly been attached to novels in previous decades In the context of this competition developments like the emergence of Rolling Stone magazine regional publishers Black studies programs and New Hollywood became key events in the life of the American

novel Novels by Truman Capote Ann Beattie Toni Cade Bambara Cynthia Ozick and Larry McMurtry among many others are recast as prescient reports on and formal responses to a world suddenly less hospitable to old claims about the novel's value This book brings to light the story of the novel's perceived decline and the surprising ways American fiction transformed in its wake

Non-literary Fiction Esther Gabara, 2022-12-06 Explores a new form of fiction that emerged in late twentieth century visual art across the Americas With Non literary Fiction Esther Gabara examines how contemporary art produced across the Americas has reacted to the rising tide of neoliberal regimes focusing on the crucial role of fiction in daily politics Gabara argues that these fictions depart from familiar literary narrative structures and emerge in the new mediums and practices that have revolutionized contemporary art Each chapter details how fiction is created through visual art forms in performance and body art posters mail art found objects and installations For Gabara these fictions comprise a type of art that asks viewers to collaborate in the creation of the work and helps them to withstand the brutal restrictions imposed by dominant neoliberal regimes During repressive regimes of the 1960s and 1970s and free trade agreements of the 1990s artists and critics consistently said no to economic privatization political deregulation and reactionary social logic as they rejected inherited notions of visual literary and political representation Through close analyses of artworks and writings by leading figures of these two generations including Indigenous thinkers Gabara shows how negation allows for the creation of fiction outside textual forms of literature
