Malawi Tim Hughes, 2001 The Warm Heart of Africa Kevin M. Denny, 2011-08 The Warm Heart of Africa fifty years in the making is the story of Susan one of the first Peace Corps Volunteers It is also the story of Peter a ninety two year old African who became her salvation She meets him soon after attempting to quit the Peace Corps but failing Peter is at first reticent to talk of his past for fear of opening old wounds With time he learns to trust and slowly shares his stories with Susan beginning with My father was the first man to see Livingstone and he almost killed him Later he tells her how Yao slave traders invaded his village when he was six burning houses and killing the very old the very young and the weak those who would not endure the cruel march to the Indian Ocean He recalls the bitter memory of a slaver dragging his mother from his grasp to be sold for a sultan's harem never to be seen again He then shares with Susan how he and his father were auctioned at the slave market of Zanzibar and crammed into an Arab dhow sailing to Yemen to be sold once again his only consolation being that his father was still with him Two days in a frigate fired a shot across the bow and Arabs began throwing their cargo into the sea in the grim hope of out sailing the frigate Peter too small to be of notice watched in hiding as an ugly Arab hurled his father into the sea Then a cannon shot from the frigate demasted the dhow hurling him into the sea Unable to swim he survived by clutching the splintered mast until he was plucked from the sea by men in blue coat who brought him back to their frigate where he took his first step in his twenty one years in the service of the Queen As major domo to a young officer Horace Smith Dorrien he would come to see battle against Zulus Afrikaners Pathans Boers and Sepoys before returning home to start a life in the service of God a story he slowly and painfully shares with Susan like him a stranger in a strange land The author met Peter and was Susan The Warm Heart Kenneth Ross, 2024-09-17 Kenneth R Ross is Professor of Theology and Dean of Postgraduate Studies at Zomba Theological University He is also Extraordinary Professor at the University of Pretoria Honorary Fellow at the Edinburgh University School of Divinity Senior Research Associate at Gordon Conwell Theological Seminary Boston USA Series Editor of the Edinburgh Companions to Global Christianity Edinburgh University Press and Associate Minister at Bernvu CCAP He is the author of many books and articles on World Christianity including the forthcoming co authored volume Hope in Times of Crisis Reimagining Ecumenical

THE PRESIDENT FOR LIFE PANDEMIC IN AFRICA Bhikithemba Richard Mngomezulu, 2013-06-29 Dictatorship contrary to the general belief is not an African invention The history of this practice dates back to the Roman Empire where the extraordinary magistrate and the ordinary magistrate wielded uncontrolled power in society Sadly post colonial Africa is replete with examples of African leaders who subsequently adopted the dictatorial approach to governance after independence almost becoming law unto themselves Consequently the president for life phenomenon has invariably become one of the defining features of the African continent even in the modern era of democracy Some African leaders assume positions of power and then use state institutions to prolong their stay in office against the wishes of the people and contrary to constitutional imperatives This book was inspired by the general trend in Africa where an increasing number of African leaders refuse or only grudgingly agree to vacate their positions as presidents when their term of office expires The key question addressed in the book is why do African leaders hold on to power beyond their constitutional mandate The book distinguishes between the first and second generation of African leaders and argues that each generation has its reasons for clinging on to power It argues that while many of the first generation leaders stayed beyond their constitutional mandate out of a sense of entitlement for leading the independence struggles the second generation of leaders were mostly animated by greed and insecurity Using five countries as case studies Kenya Zimbabwe Nigeria Zambia and Malawi the book demonstrates the frequency of this tendency and highlights its impacts on the countries in question

Malawi and Scotland Together in the Talking Place Since 1859 Kenneth R. Ross, 2013 This pioneering and fascinating book is the first to tell the story of the remarkably enduring bonds between Malawi and Scotland from the time of David Livingstone to the flourishing cultural economic and religious relationships of the present day Why should there be any significant relationship between one small nation on Europe's north western seaboard and another in the interior of Africa How did it reach the stage where in 2012 Fiona Hyslop Cabinet Secretary for Culture and External Affairs in the Scottish Government could describe Malawi as Scotland's sister nation This book attempts an answer Stewart's Quotable Africa Julia Stewart,2012-10-02 The African continent is home to spectacularly expressive human beings rebellious anti colonial and opposition leaders eloquent novelists political and social activists comical geniuses pensive and philosophical poets and intellectuals as well as a few raving dictators And the body of proverbial wisdom from Africa alone could fill many volumes Despite being eminently quotable Africa is not so readily quoted Stewart s Quotable Africa covers the whole of Africa north to south and east to west and includes memorable statements from hundreds of speakers including Nelson Mandela Doris Lessing Chinua Achebe Julius Nyerere Kofi Annan among others as well as biblical passages and proverbs Julia Stewart has spent over a decade collecting the 5000 plus quotes found in this book all of them either by Africans or about African subjects Sankofa: Appreciating the Past in Planning the Future of Early Childhood Education, Care and Development in Africa UNESCO,2023-04-01 Preach the Word Myles MacBean,2019-11-11 How should we help equip the church leaders of Africa today There remains a well documented lack of theologically sound Bible centric preaching in Sub Saharan Africa The majority of sermons are preached by untrained or undertrained church leaders Following a practical theology praxis this book develops a conceptual framework for the evaluation of existing alternative approaches to grassroots preacher training It also proposes broad principles for effective preacher training and offers a practical solution The 20th century had seen the Christian church in Africa grow 36 fold to 360 million This amazing growth is arguably the largest religious change in human history in such a short period It has shifted the focus of Christianity from North to South This rapid growth is debatably considered by some missiologists and theologians to have resulted in an African church a mile wide and an inch deep That is a church of great size but lacking in spiritual depth The rapid growth has led to insufficient numbers of trained leaders being available to oversee their congregations Most leaders are unpaid Untrained or undertrained leaders have an inadequate knowledge of scripture and lack understanding of its interpretation They also lack the skills they need to communicate its truths Even so they preach up to 90% of the sermons in rural Africa Despite a tremendous hunger for training among many of those preachers traditional college based theological education cannot keep up with the demand for trained pastors and preachers in an affordable or culturally appropriate manner
