Christology, Hermeneutics, and Hebrews Jon C. Laansma, Daniel J. Treier, 2012-03-01 This book discusses the history of the interpretation of the Letter to the Hebrews across the last two millennia Beginning with the Patristic period essays go on to examine the responses of Thomas Aquinas Martin Luther John Calvin as well as more recent figures such as Karl Barth and contemporary global interpreters The premise behind the work is to move study of Hebrews away from the perennial arguments about its authorship and provenance and to instead engage with it from a theological perspective focusing upon the text's reception history Consequently the issue of the Christological message in Hebrews is at the forefront and is considered both in terms of the interpreter's context and historical setting At the end of the book the investigations are summarised and responded to by leading scholars Harold Attridge Donald A Hagner and Kathryn Greene McCreight providing a fitting conclusion to a radical academic project

Modern intellectual enquiry has often been reluctant to engage theology as an enriching or useful form of visual analysis but critics are increasingly revisiting religious narratives and Christian thought in pursuit of understanding our present day visual culture. In this book an international group of contributors demonstrate how theology is often implicit within artworks and how regardless of a viewer's personal faith it can become implicit in a viewer's visual encounter. Their observations include deliberate juxtaposition of Christian symbols, imaginative play with theologies, the validation of non-confessional or secular public engagement and inversions of biblical interpretation. Case studies such as an interactive Easter glow sticks as sacrament and visualisation of the Bible's polyphonic voices enrich this discussion. Together they call for a greater interpretative generosity and more nuance around theology's cultural contexts in the modern era. By engaging with theology, culture and the visual art, this collection offers a fresh lens through which to see the interaction of religion and art. As such it will be of great use to those working in Religion and the Arts, Visual Art, Material Religion, Theology, Aesthetics and Cultural Studies.

Systematic Mariology Peter Damian Fehlner OFM Conv., 2023-08-14 This second volume of Collected Essays Systematic Mariology contains Peter Damian Fehlner's essays on several central Marian topics and disputes. Written over the span of more than twenty years, these essays represent Fehlner's most complete studies on the question of Mary's participation with Christ in the redemption, her role with the Holy Spirit in the mediation of grace and her place in the sacramental economy flowing from the Eucharist. Fehlner provides theological resolutions to these inquiries by establishing Mary's predestination as the Immaculate Mother of God and Spouse of the Holy Spirit in the eternal plan of the Father. This flows into a theological vision of the divine missions that is Trinitarian, christological and pneumatological. This triple viewpoint opens upon a theological account of divine action and perfect creaturely reaction because it is framed within an ecclesiology that decodes Mary's virginal and divine maternity as the Great Sign of the perfection and promise of the church through Christ, her spouse in the love of the Holy Spirit.
