Nancy Lesko, 2000 Despite the trend toward gender studies in the social sciences studies of masculinity have been largely absent from educational research This volume presents a collection of the current critical scholarship on the creation of masculinities in schools relations among competing definitions of masculinity and femininity and linkages between masculinity and school practices With contributions from the leading scholars in the field Nancy Lesko studies masculinities in North American Australian and British schools This book covers all levels of schooling from preschool to graduate school and school settings from computer labs to football fields This fascinating addition to Sage's Research in Men and Masculinities Series provides a thoughtful examination of how masculinities are constructed among teachers students and administrators locating these analyses within broader social economic and ideological contexts Masculinities at School is a must read for scholars of education sociology men's studies and gender studies EBOOK: MAKING OF MEN Mairtin Ghaill, 1994-04-16 Mairtin Mac an Ghaill explores how boys learn to be men in schools while policing their own and others sexuality The text focuses on the students confusions and contradictions in their gendered experiences and upon how schools actively produce through the official and hidden curriculum a range of masculinities which young men come to inhabit The author attempts to do full justice to the complex phenomenon of male heterosexual subjectivities and to the role of schooling in forming sexual identities

Masculinities at School Nancy Lesko, 1999-12-07 Studies of masculinity have been largely absent from educational research This book presents a collection of current critical scholarship on the creation of masculinities in schools Contributors examine experiences in North American Australian and British schools at all levels from preschool to graduation and from school settings such as computer labs to the football field The result is a thoughtful analysis of how masculinities are related to competing definitions of masculinity and femininity The chapters show how masculinities are constructed among teachers students and administrators and locates these analyses within broader social economic and ideological contexts Masculinities in Schools Lewis Wedlock, 2025-06-04 Teachers are struggling with issues and conversations around masculinities in schools How do we discuss problem areas associated with masculinities without demonising the young men we are engaging with How do we create safe spaces for young people to discuss and challenge their masculinities together It has never been harder to engage young men in conversations about masculinity and it has never been more confusing to know where to start Educator and social scientist Lewis Wedlock enables schools and teachers to grow their confidence in exploring masculinities with young people He challenges limiting ideas of masculinity and takes a compassionate restorative approach Through this book Lewis supports teachers to deepen their understanding of how masculinities are shaped to explore the many complexities and to get comfortable with the uncertainties He offers practical guidance for the classroom and for transformative community centred interventions He empowers teachers to feel confident in implementing sustainable flexible and constantly mendable models of masculinity The subject of masculinities is often approached through a lens of toxicity prompting disengagement and disconnection This book takes a different approach It is not about polarizing demonizing or standardizing masculinities It supports and advocates for schools to be open to the wide diversity of masculinities and to develop cultures of accountability integrity authenticity and pride

What About The Boys? Martino, Wayne, Meyenn, Bob, 2001-10-01 This book brings together leading researchers from Australia United Kingdom and the United States to explore issues of boys schooling and masculinities within the context of the current concern about the education of boys The contributors draw on detailed empirical research to highlight some important issues that are not addressed in public debates about boys in the media

Masculinity Goes to School Rob Gilbert, Pam Gilbert, 1998 Reports claim that gender reform in schools has benefited girls at the expense of boys They are supported with statistics showing that boys perform less well during examinations than girls outlining the cost of programs developed to support girls At the same time many educationalists have become concerned that the school system is not serving some boys as well as it should In this book the authors present an overview of the issues surrounding boys and education They argue that popular constructions of masculinity affect boys in all parts of their lives in families peer groups and work cultures at home at school at work and at leisure

Masculinities R. W. Connell, Raewyn Connell, 2005 This is an exciting new edition of R W Connell's ground breaking text which has become a classic work on the nature and construction of masculine identity Connell argues that there is not one masculinity but many different masculinities each associated with different positions of power In a world gender order that continues to privilege men over women but also raises difficult issues for men and boys Connell's account is more pertinent than ever before In a substantial new introduction and conclusion Connell discusses the development of masculinity studies in the ten years since the book's initial publication The book explores global gender relations new theories and practical uses of masculinity research Looking to the future a new concluding chapter addresses the politics of masculinities and the implications of masculinity research for understanding current world issues Against the backdrop of an increasingly divided world dominated by neo conservative politics Connell's account highlights a series of compelling questions about the future of human society This second edition of Connell's classic book will be essential reading for students taking courses on masculinities and gender studies and will be of interest to students and scholars across the humanities and social sciences

Challenging Violence in Schools Martin Mills, 2001 While violence by boys towards girls is readily recognized as being gender based Mills education U of Queensland Australia argues that all violence of boys in schools is gender based for example contending that the common notion of bullying is an example of boundary policing usually with a homophobic edge which serves to normalize particular constructions of masculinity while also determining where a boy is positioned within a hierarchical arrangement of masculinities Drawing on insights of feminist scholarship he attempts to analyze the possible development of strategies and programs that seek to challenge the existence of gender based violence in schools After discussing the theoretical underpinnings of such work he moves to an exploration of the curriculum and pedagogy issues in relation to challenging dominant notions of masculinity that lead to violence Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
