Masculinities Crime And Criminology:

Masculinities, Crime and Criminology Richard Collier, 1998-11-10 In this work which questions why crime is so overwhelmingly an activity conducted by men Collier presents an alternative approach to theorizing the maleness of crime The book also includes exploration of high profile debates around crime      Masculinities and Crime James W. Messerschmidt, 1993-08-24 Challenging the common masculinist character of criminological research James W. Messerschmidt develops an elaborate scrutiny of the gender roles that along with class and race influence the occurrence and types of crimes in our society      Crime as Structured Action James W. Messerschmidt, 2013-08-08 James W. Messerschmidt's groundbreaking book Crime as Structured Action demonstrates that to understand crime we must understand how crime operates through a complex series of gender, race, sexual and class practices In the second edition of this powerful book Messerschmidt updates both structured action theory as well as several of the original case studies and he includes a new case study that further brings structured action theory to life The book also features expanded discussions of whiteness and sexuality and their relationships to crime      Masculinities in the Criminological Field Dr Ingrid Lander, Dr Signe Ravn, Dr Nina Jon, 2014-09-28 This volume both problematizes and renders visible conceptions and norms regarding male behaviour and masculinities showing how these affect the criminological field through providing a theoretically sound and clear gender perspective to this field of research With sections based around the following three themes: negotiations of masculinity in institutional settings; vulnerable masculinities and risk taking; and masculinities this volume will be of interest to scholars of criminology, sociology, social work and gender studies as well as policy makers and law enforcement professionals      Crime, Criminal Justice and Masculinities Stephen Tomsen, 2017-07-05 This volume features the leading contemporary articles that are part of or related to the new masculinities approach in this sphere These comprise an impressive range of theoretical and empirical work including important cultural and ethnographic analyses They emphasise the relationship between masculinities, the causes and patterns of most criminal offending and victimisation and the broader workings of the wider criminal justice system of policing, public and private criminal courts, corrections and prisons All of the material has been selected from flagship international journals and was produced by a global mix of male and female researchers with diverse disciplinary backgrounds These scholars share the view that masculinities are plural, socially constructed, reproduced in the collective social practices of different men and embedded in institutional and occupational settings Furthermore masculinities are intricately linked with social struggles for power that occur between men and women and different men Crime, criminal justice and their cultural representation are key terrain for these masculine contests and are always overlain with issues such as social class, age, race, ethnicity and sexuality
