Machine Learning, ECML- ..., 2000 Spiritual Wounds Síobhra Aiken, 2022-03-01 This book challenges the widespread scholarly and popular belief that the Irish Civil War 1922-1923 was followed by a traumatic silence. It achieves this by opening an alternative archive of published testimonies which were largely produced in the 1920s and 1930s. Testimonies were written by pro and anti-treaty men and women in both English and Irish. Nearly all have eluded sustained scholarly attention to date. However, the act of smuggling private painful experience into the public realm, especially when it challenged official memory-making or even forgetting, demanded the cautious deployment of self-protective narrative strategies. As a result, many testimonies from the Irish Civil War emerge in non-conventional, hybridised and fictionalised forms of life-writing. This book re-introduces a number of these testimonies into public debate. It considers contemporary understandings of mental illness and how a number of veterans, both men and women, self-consciously engaged in projects of therapeutic writing as a means to heal the spiritual wounds of civil war. It also outlines the prevalence of literary representations of revolutionary sexual violence, challenging the assumptions that sexual violence during the Irish revolution was either rare or hidden.
