Masquerade In Black:

Masquerade in Black William T. Leonard, 1986 Chronicles the 400 year history of whites in blackface The Tragic Black Buck Carlyle Van Thompson, 2004 The new edition of The Tragic Black Buck Racial Masquerading in the American Literary Imagination offers a fresh perspective on this trail blazing scholarship and the singular importance of F Scott Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby as a challenge to the racial hegemony of biological white supremacy Fitzgerald convincingly and boldly shows how racial passing by light skinned Black individuals becomes the most fascinating literary trope associated with democracy and the enduring desire for the American Dream The Black Imagination, Science Fiction and the Speculative Sandra Jackson, Julie Moody Freeman, 2013-10-18 This book expands the discourse as well as the nature of critical commentary on science fiction speculative fiction and futurism literary and cinematic by Black writers The range of topics include the following black superheroes issues and themes in selected works by Octavia Butler selected work of Nalo Hopkinson the utopian and dystopian impulse in the work of W E B Du Bois and George Schuyler Derrick Bell's Space Traders the Star Trek Franchise female protagonists through the lens of race and gender in the Alien and Predator film franchises science fiction in the Caribbean Diaspora commentary on select African films regarding near future narratives as well as a science fiction speculative literature writer's discussion of why she writes and how This book was published as a special issue of African Identities An International Journal Global Black Narratives for the Classroom: Africa, the Americas and the Caribbean BLAM UK, 2023-12-06 Rather than reserving the teaching of Black history to Black history month Black narratives deserve to be seen and integrated into every aspect of the school curriculum A unique yet practical resource Global Black Narratives for the Classroom addresses this issue by providing primary teachers with a global outline of Black history culture and life within the framework of the UK's National Curriculum Each topic explored in this essential book provides teachers and teaching assistants with historical geographic and cultural context to build confidence when planning and teaching Full lesson plans and printable worksheets are incorporated into each topic alongside tips to build future lessons in line with the themes explored Volume II of this book explores the following parts Part 1 guides teachers through planning and delivering lessons focused on Africa Pupils will benefit from developing a diverse and accurate understanding of the changing nature of Africa throughout history linking the continent's social history with its geographical features Part 2 The Caribbean builds upon the lesson plans of Part 1 to further highlight the interconnectedness of diaspora cultures in influencing the musical visual and religious practices of the Caribbean and Central America Part 3 begins by addressing the incorrect assumption that the history of Black people in the Americas begins and ends with plantation slavery Instead this section proposes a range of in depth lesson plans on the diverse histories cultures and experiences of Black people within the United States Created by BLAM UK this highly informative yet practical resource is an essential read for any teacher teaching assistant or senior leader who wishes to diversify their curriculum and address issues of Black representation within their school It is published in two practical and comprehensive volumes Volume 1 covers Britain and Europe whilst Volume 2 includes Africa the Americas and the Caribbean Each volume can be used individually for teaching but when used together they provide a truly global perspective on black history and culture Soundies and the Changing Image of Black Americans on Screen Susan Delson,2021-12-07 In the 1940s folks at bars and restaurants would gather around a Panoram movie machine to watch three minute films called Soundies precursors to today s music videos This history was all but forgotten until the digital era brought Soundies to phones and computer screens including a YouTube clip starring a 102 year old Harlem dancer watching her younger self perform in Soundies In Soundies and the Changing Image of Black Americans on Screen One Dime at a Time Susan Delson takes a deeper look at these fascinating films by focusing on the role of Black performers in this little known genre She highlights the women performers like Dorothy Dandridge who helped shape Soundies while offering an intimate look at icons of the age such as Duke Ellington and Nat King Cole Using previously unknown archival materials including letters corporate memos and courtroom testimony to trace the precarious path of Soundies Delson presents an incisive pop culture snapshot of race relations during and just after World War II Perfect for readers interested in film American history the World War II era and Black entertainment history Soundies and the Changing Image of Black Americans on Screen and its companion video website susandelson.com bring the important contributions of these Black artists into the spotlight once again African American Actresses Charlene B.

Regeister,2010-06-14 Nine actresses from Madame Sul Te Wan in Birth of a Nation 1915 to Ethel Waters in Member of the Wedding 1952 are profiled in African American Actresses Charlene Regeister poses questions about prevailing racial politics on screen and off screen identities and black stardom and white stardom She reveals how these women fought for their roles as well as what they compromised or didn t compromise Regeister repositions these actresses to highlight their contributions to cinema in the first half of the 20th century taking an informed theoretical historical and critical approach Black Lace

Julia Damaris,2012-01-19 As a shy timid black girl on Minneapolis North side Julia liked to write stories and plays As a teenager she became depressed She began writing poetry as a young adult By the age of 30 she was diagnosed with mental illness Through her many hours of seclusion she wrote many poems These are just some of them She doesnt consider herself a poet but wants to share her thoughts and feelings on a number of subjects The Loner J. A. Johnstone,2010-02-01

Vengeance Is A Dangerous Game Using an old cannon that once belonged to Napoleon s army an outlaw gang has been bringing trains to a halt and then robbing them Now Edward Sheffield one of the owners of the railroad wants to hire Conrad Morgan known as The Loner to wipe the gang off the map The Loner isn t interested especially when Sheffield s hot blooded wife tries to seduce him into going after the gang s leader Gideon Black a renegade ex colonel turned outlaw But when the gang turns their big gun on a town killing several innocent people The Loner has to choose sides The best way to take them out Become one of them And that s when The Loner uncovers some unsavory secrets and finds himself caught between the middle of two ruthless forces 10 Bad Choices That Ruin Black Women's Lives Grace Cornish, Ph.D.,1999-10-12 In her best seller 10 Bad Choices That Ruin Black Women's Lives relationship expert Dr Grace Cornish has written a lively provocative guide for black women everywhere who want to shed the duds and find the studs who will treat them with respect According to Dr Cornish six out of every ten black women are either in bad relationships share a man or are celibate The problem is not the women themselves she explains but the bad choices they keep making In this frank and refreshing book Dr Cornish speaks to unique aspects of the African American female psyche by targeting ten of the most common and foolish choices black women make in their lives regarding men and how they can correct these problems Relying on case studies interviews and the letters she has received Dr Cornish gets to the heart of the matter by illuminating why black women no matter how smart savvy and successful continue to lose at the dating game and how they can face erase and replace the problems that have kept them from finding true love Strolling in the Ruins Faith Smith,2023-02-20 In Strolling in the Ruins Faith Smith engages with a period in the history of the Anglophone Caribbean often overlooked as nondescript quiet and embarrassingly pro imperial within the larger narrative of Jamaican and Trinidadian nationalism Between the 1865 Morant Bay Rebellion and World War I British imperialism was taken for granted among both elites and ordinary people while nationalist discourses would not begin to shape political imagination in the West Indies for decades Smith argues that this moment far from being uneventful disrupts the inevitability of nationhood in the mid twentieth century and anticipates the Caribbean's present day relationship to global power Smith assembles and analyzes a diverse set of texts from Carnival songs poems and novels to newspapers photographs and gardens to examine theoretical and literary historiographic questions concerning time and temporality empire and diaspora immigration and indigeneity gender and the politics of desire Africa's place within Caribbeanist discourse and the idea of the Caribbean itself Closely examining these cultural expressions of apparent quiescence Smith locates the quiet violence of colonial rule and the insistence of colonial subjects on making meaningful lives Femininity and Psychoanalysis Agnieszka Piotrowska,Ben Tyrer,2019-05-29 For Freud famously the feminine was a dark continent or a riddle without an answer This understanding concerns man's relationship to the question of woman but femininity is also a matter of sexuality and gender and therefore of identity and experience Drawing together leading academics including film and literary scholars clinicians and artists from diverse backgrounds Femininity and Psychoanalysis Cinema Culture Theory speaks to the continued relevance of psychoanalytic understanding in a social and political landscape where ideas of gender and sexuality are undergoing profound changes This transdisciplinary collection crosses boundaries between clinical and psychological discourse and arts and humanities fields to approach the topic of femininity from a variety of psychoanalytic perspectives From object relations to Lacan to queer theory the essays here revisit and rethink the debates over what the feminine might be The volume presents a major new work by leading feminist film scholar Elizabeth Cowie in which she presents a first intervention on the topic of film and the feminine for over 20 years as well as a key essay by the prominent artist and psychoanalyst Bracha Ettinger Written by an international selection of contributors this collection is an indispensable tool for film and literary scholars engaged with psychoanalysts and anybody interested in different approaches to the question of the feminine

Cuban Literature in the Age of Black Insurrection Matthew Pettway, 2019-12-30 Juan Francisco Manzano and Gabriel de la Concepción Valdés Plácido were perhaps the most important and innovative Cuban writers of African descent during the Spanish colonial era Both nineteenth century authors used Catholicism as a symbolic language for African inspired spirituality Likewise Plácido and Manzano subverted the popular imagery of neoclassicism and Romanticism in order to envision black freedom in the tradition of the Haitian Revolution Plácido and Manzano envisioned emancipation through the lens of African spirituality a transformative moment in the history of Cuban letters Matthew Pettway examines how the portrayal of African ideas of spirit and cosmos in otherwise conventional texts recur throughout early Cuban literature and became the basis for Manzano and Plácido's antislavery philosophy The portrayal of African Atlantic religious ideas spurned the elite rationale that literature ought to be a barometer of highbrow cultural progress Cuban debates about freedom and selfhood were never the exclusive domain of the white Creole elite Pettway's emphasis on African inspired spirituality as a source of knowledge and a means to sacred authority for black Cuban writers deepens our understanding of Manzano and Plácido not as mere imitators but as aesthetic and political pioneers As Pettway suggests black Latin American authors did not abandon their African religious heritage to assimilate wholesale to the Catholic Church By recognizing the wisdom of African ancestors they procured power in the struggle for black liberation

Playthings, 1927 The Future of Black Studies Abdul Alkalimat, 2022-07-20 A timely future oriented and necessary contribution which provides clarity to the multivalent tendencies in this field Carole Boyce Davies The marginalisation of Black voices from the academy is a problem in the Western world But Black Studies where it exists is a powerful boundary pushing discipline grown out of struggle and community action Here Abdul Alkalimat one of the founders of Black Studies in the US presents a reimagining of the future trends in the study of the Black experience Taking Marxism and Black Experientialism Afro Futurist and Diaspora frameworks he projects a radical future for the discipline at this time of social crisis Choosing cornerstones of culture such as the music of Sun Ra the movie Black Panther and the writer Octavia Butler he looks at the trajectory of Black liberation thought since slavery including new research on the rise in the comparative study of Black people all over the world Turning to look at how digital tools enhance the study of the discipline this book is a powerful read that will inform and inspire students and activists

The Story of Black John Harvey, 2013-07-15 As a color black comes in no other shades it is a single hue with no variation one half of a dichotomy But what it symbolizes envelops the entire spectrum of meaning good and bad The Story of Black travels back to the biblical and classical eras to explore the ambiguous relationship the world's cultures have had with this sometimes accursed color examining how black has been used as a tool and a metaphor in a plethora of startling ways John Harvey delves into the color's problematic association with race observing how white Europeans exploited the negative associations people had with the color to enslave millions of black Africans He then looks at the many figurative meanings of black for instance the Greek word melancholia or black bile which defines our dark moods and the ancient Egyptians use of black as the color of death which led to it becoming the standard hue for funereal garb and the clothing of priests churches and cults Considering the innate austerity and gravity of black Harvey reveals how it also became the color of choice for the robes of merchants lawyers and monarchs before gaining popularity with eighteenth and nineteenth century dandies and with Goths and other subcultures today Finally he looks at how artists and designers have applied the color to their work from the earliest cave paintings to Caravaggio Rembrandt and Rothko Asking how a single color can at once embody death evil and glamour The Story of Black unearths the secret behind black's continuing power to compel and divide us

Black Manhood on the Silent Screen Gerald R. Butters, 2002 In early twentieth century motion picture houses offensive stereotypes of African Americans were as predictable as they were prevalent Watermelon eating chicken thievery savages with uncontrollable appetites Sambo and Zip Coon were all representations associated with African American people Most of these caricatures were rendered by whites in blackface Few people realize that from 1915 through 1929 a number of African American film directors worked diligently to counter such racist definitions of black manhood found in films like D W Griffith's The Birth of a Nation the 1915 epic that glorified the Ku Klux Klan In the wake of the film's phenomenal success African American filmmakers sought to defend and redefine black manhood through motion pictures Gerald Butters's comprehensive study of the African American cinematic vision in silent film concentrates on works largely ignored by most contemporary film scholars African American produced and directed films and white independent productions of all black features Using these race movies to explore the construction of masculine identity and the use of race in popular culture he separates cinematic myth from historical reality the myth of the Euro American controlled cinematic portrayal of black men versus the actual black male experience Through intense archival research Butters reconstructs many lost films expanding the discussion of race and representation beyond the debate about good and bad imagery to explore the construction of masculine identity and the use of race as device in the context of Western popular culture He particularly examines the filmmaking of Oscar Micheaux the most prolific and controversial of all African American silent film directors and creator of the recently rediscovered Within Our Gates the legendary film that exposed a virtual litany of white abuses toward blacks Black Manhood on the Silent Screen is unique in that it takes contemporary and original film theory applies it to the distinctive body of African American independent films in the silent era and relates the meaning of these films to larger political social and intellectual events in American society By showing how both white and black men have defined their own sense of manhood through cinema it examines the intersection of race and gender in the movies and offers a deft interweaving of film theory American history and film history
