Books in Series ,1980 Literary Taste, Culture and Mass Communication Peter Davison,Rolf Meyersohn,Edward A. Shils,1978 Seamus Heaney and Society Rosie Lavan,Rosamund Lavan,2020 In the course of Seamus Heaney s career he assumed roles across education journalism and broadcasting as well as poetry Seamus Heaney and Society presents a comprehensive and dynamic new engagement with one of the most celebrated poets of the modern period appreciating how his work as a poet was shaped by his work as a teacher lecturer critic and public figure Seamus Heaney and Society draws on a range of archival material in order to revive the network of associations within which Heaney s work was written published and circulated Mindful of the various spheres of his career it assesses his achievements and status in Ireland

Britain and the United States through newspapers magazines radio and television programmes and manuscript drafts of key writings now held in the National Library of Ireland Through asserting the significance of the cultural institutional and historical circumstances of Heaney s writing life it offers a re examination of the writer in public the social lives of the work of art and the questions of obligations and responsibility which Heaney confronted throughout his career Throughout Seamus Heaney and Society addresses the nature and singularity of poetry and the ways in which these qualities are asserted challenged and sustained in Heaney s work It demonstrates that despite the cultural standing and the scholarship that already surrounds his writing there is still a great deal to learn about and to learn from Seamus Heaney Graham

Greene's Thrillers and the 1930s Brian Diemert,1996 In Graham Greene s Thrillers and the 1930s Brian Diemert examines the first and most prolific phase of Graham Greene s career demonstrating the close relationship between Greene s fiction and the political economic social and literary contexts of the period Situating Greene alongside other young writers who responded to the worsening political climate of the 1930s by promoting social and political reform Diemert argues that Greene believed literature could not be divorced from its social and political milieu and saw popular forms of writing as the best way to inform a wide audience Diemert traces Greene s adaptation of nineteenth century romance thrillers and classical detective stories into modern political thrillers as a means of presenting serious concerns in an engaging fashion He argues that Greene s popular thrillers were in part a reaction to the high modernism of writers such as James Joyce Gertrude Stein and Virginia Woolf whose esoteric experiments with language were disengaged from immediate social concerns and inaccessible to a large segment of the reading public Cultural Theory and Popular Culture John Storey,2006 In this new

Empire Islands Rebecca Weaver-Hightower,2007 Through a detailed unpacking of the castaway genre's appeal in English literature Empire Islands forwards our understanding of the sociopsychology of British Empire Rebecca Weaver Hightower argues convincingly that by helping generations of readers to make sense of and perhaps feel better about imperial aggression the castaway story in effect enabled the expansion and maintenance of European empire Empire Islands asks why so many colonial authors chose islands as the setting for their stories of imperial adventure and why so many postcolonial writers write back to those island castaway narratives Drawing on insightful readings of works from Thomas More's Utopia to Caribbean novels like George Lamming's Water with Berries from canonical works such as Robinson Crusoe and The Tempest to the lesser known A Narrative of the Life and Astonishing Adventures of John Daniel by Ralph Morris Weaver Hightower examines themes of cannibalism piracy monstrosity imperial aggression and the concept of going native Ending with analysis of contemporary film and the role of the United States in global neoimperialism Weaver Hightower exposes how island narratives continue not only to describe but to justify colonialism Rebecca Weaver Hightower is assistant professor of English and postcolonial studies at the University of North Dakota

Taste: Media and Interior

Design Karin Tehve, 2023-06-26 This book traces and explores the evolution of taste from a design perspective what it is how it works and what it does Karin Tehve examines taste primarily through its recursive relationship to media This ongoing process changes the relationship between designers and the public and our understanding of the relationship of individuals to their social contexts Through an analysis of taste design is understood to be an active constituent of social life not as autonomous from it This book reclaims a term long dismissed from interior design and unveils taste s role as a powerful social and political agent within systems of aesthetics affecting both its producers and consumers Each chapter discusses a taste concept or definition analyzes its reciprocal relationship with media and explores its implications for interior design Illustrated with 70 images taste s relationship to media is viewed through a variety of different lenses including books photography magazines internet social media and algorithms Written primarily for students and scholars of interior design and related design fields this book will be a helpful resource for all those interested in the question of taste and is an invitation to produce and consume all media critically

Literature and Mass Culture Leo Lowenthal, 2017-09-08 This first volume of the collected writings of sociologist Leo Lowenthal contains his classic theoretical and historical writings on the relationship of art to mass culture This book series presents Lowenthal s contributions to a theory of the role of communication in modern society This volume lays out the basis for a theory of mass culture Lowenthal demonstrates that the juxtaposition of a lowmass culture and a highesoteric culture did not originate in contemporary industrial bourgeois society but can be traced back to the Middle Ages and antiquity
