anthropology philosophy and Middle Eastern studies      Media and Communication in Nigeria Bruce Mutsvairo, Nnamdi T Ekeanyanwu, 2021-12-30 Communication is changing rapidly around the world particularly in Africa where citizens are embracing digital technologies not only to improve not only interpersonal communication but also the state of their financial well being This book investigates these transformations in Nigeria s booming communication industry The book traces communications in Nigeria back to pre colonial indigenous communications through the development of telecommunication broadcasting networks the press the Nigerian film industry Nollywood and on to the digital era At a time when Western voices still dominate the academic literature on communication in Africa this book is noteworthy in drawing almost exclusively on the expertise of Nigerian based authors critiquing the discipline from their own lens and providing an important contribution to the decolonisation of communication studies The authors provide a holistic analysis of the sector encompassing print journalism broadcast journalism public relations advertising film development communication organisational communication and strategic communication Analysis of the role of digital technologies is woven throughout the book concluding with a final section theorising the future of communication studies in Nigeria in the light of the digital media revolution Robust in its theoretical and methodological underpinnings this book will be an important reference for researchers of media and communication studies and those working on Africa specifically      Media and Nigeria's Constitutional Democracy Sam Amadi, Taye C. Obateru, Paul A. Obi, 2023-02-06 In this edited collection contributors analyze how the media is navigating Africa s most populous nation Nigeria and its mediated democracy Despite its constitutional role recognizable as the fourth estate of the realm the Nigerian media has a history of confronting daunting challenges headlong This book captures an array of the challenges faced from British colonialism and military rule to democratic dispensation Ordinarily democracy is purposefully streamlined to elevate freedom of expression to an inalienable right and a necessary corollary of democracy Yet media freedom in Nigeria has been tortuous and nebulous and there is a paradoxical difference in how the state relies on the media for partnership while also obstructing accountable journalism that would hold the state and the media itself accountable The editors provide a poignant outlook of the onerous interactions and dialectics of media and democracy and the cascading state power Contributors argue for open democratic deliberations civic space and freedom of the press all rooted in public good Scholars of journalism political communication media studies African studies law democratic studies and political science will find this book of particular interest      What They Don't Teach You in Broadcasting Orji, Orji Ogbonnaya, 2014-07-19 One of the many problems the media in Nigeria and developing nations contend with is the absence of current books and journals written by practitioners working within relevant contexts existing regulations and local environments This Book What They Don t Teach You in Broadcasting is an experience based knowledge sharing initiative with practical examples aimed at bridging the increasing gap between theory and practice in Nigeria The book contains those issues experiences and realities that journalists must encounter in the practice of the profession which we were not taught in school It is a contribution to the efforts of our institutions and the media industry in building a functional bridge between the classroom and the field      Mass Media in a Changing World with Media World 2.0 DVD-ROM George Rodman,2007-01-30 This engaging new text introduces students to the world of media through a unique structure that makes the material easily intelligible and meaningful to their lives Each chapter is divided into three part narrative sections history industry and controversy Mass Media in a Changing World is the story of where the media came from why they do what they do and why those actions cause controversies      Artificial Intelligence and Digital Diplomacy Fatima Roumate,2021-08-31 This volume discusses digital diplomacy and artificial intelligence within the context of global governance and international security Rapid digitalization has changed the way international actors interact offering new opportunities for international and bilateral cooperation and reinforcing the role of the emergent actors within global governance New phenomena linked to digitalization and artificial intelligence are emerging and this volume brings a multidisciplinary mixed methods approach to studying them Written by globally recognized experts each chapter presents a case study covering an emerging topic such as international regulation of the web and digital diplomacy the interplay of artificial intelligence and cyber diplomacy social media and artificial intelligence as tools for digital diplomacy the malicious use of artificial intelligence cyber security and data sovereignty Incorporating both theory and practice quantitative and qualitative analysis this volume will be of interest to graduate students and researchers in international relations diplomacy security studies and artificial intelligence as well as diplomats and policymakers looking to understand the implications of digitalization and artificial intelligence in their fields      History of the Mass Media in the United States Margaret A. Blanchard,2013-12-19 The influence of the mass media on American history has been overwhelming History of the Mass Media in the United States examines the ways in which the media both affects and is affected by U S society From 1690 when the first American newspaper was founded to 1995 this encyclopedia covers more than 300 years of mass media history History of Mass Media in the United States contains more than 475 alphabetically arranged entries covering subjects ranging from key areas of newspaper history to broader topics such as media coverage of wars major conflicts over press freedom court cases and legislation and the concerns and representation of ethnic and special interest groups The editor and the 200 scholarly contributors to this work have taken particular care to examine the technological legal legislative economic and political developments that have affected the American media      Mass Communication in the Emergent Information Society Dede Eleme J. Konkwo,2009      Health Information in a Changing World W. Bernard Luckenbill,Barbara Froling Immroth,2010-06-14 This holistic guide explains how school librarians and teachers can successfully integrate relevant health concepts and life skills throughout the curriculum for students K through 12 In the United States convenience food and soft drink based diets increasingly sedentary lifestyles and obesity have become common in youth culture The importance of health education merits integration throughout school curricula unfortunately research shows that many teachers do not feel prepared to teach health issues within their subject areas This book will encourage all librarians and teachers no matter their specific area of instruction to include health lessons in their teaching Health Information in a Changing World Practical Approaches for Teachers Schools and School Librarians provides a complete action plan for librarians and teachers who want to provide better health information to students and their caregivers It contains an extensive discussion of teaching health within curriculum areas such as literature history and biography art science and mathematics industrial technology and agriculture Tips on accessing and evaluating health information in print and electronic media are presented as well as practical suggestions for effective instructional methods including ideas on conducting demonstrations field trips speaker programs and online distance education New findings regarding teaching effectiveness assessment are also presented

Media and American Studies in the EFL-Classroom Jürgen

Donnerstag,Laurenz Volkmann,2008 The growing interest in working with media particularly the new digital media in the EFL classroom is reflected in the ten articles of this volume Their focus is specifically on traditional visual media such as films and video clips but also on blogs podcasts digital storytelling hyperfictions Internet projects creating learner software etc As the articles either explicitly or implicitly indicate these new media formats are suitable for integration into current action or task based teaching forms All articles aim to foster nuanced judgments on literature culture and popular media in the US The media discussed here mirror the multiplicity of voices within the US indicating the tremendous variety of cultural and political positions They undermine lopsided and biased attitudes toward American mass media forcing the learner to discuss critical positions within the US and to modify stereotypical media judgements
