Massacre In Shansi:

Massacre in Shansi Nat Brandt, 1999-09-02 The eighteen missionaries who traveled to Shansi were dedicated pious hard working clerics Ernest Atwater the young minister Francis Ward Davis and his wife Lydia Charles Wesley Price and his family and Susan Rowena Bird to name a few were all spurred by their strong beliefs but they were also quite ignorant of other countries and cultures Often having to live in disease ravaged area of China and under harsh conditions they were repulsed by the native lifestyle and saw further need to change it Brandt presents finely wrought portraits of these people detailing the lives of both the missionaries and their converts their experiences in the interior province of Shansi and their struggle in trying to spread Christianity among people whose language they did not speak and whose traditions and customs they did not understand Brandt's gripping narrative brings to light a penetrating and sincere study of the Oberlin Band of Protestant missionaries and captures the essence of their daily life Considered in a fair and honest context the descriptions are often taken directly from personal correspondence and journals This tragic story of the clash between two cultures is primarily the story of the missionaries six men seven women and five children Their names appear on bronze tablets on the only monument in America ever erected to individuals who died in that uprising the Memorial Arch on the campus of Oberlin College in Oberlin Ohio

The Rushing on of the Purposes of God Andrew T. Kaiser, 2016-12-09 This sweeping survey is the first complete account of nearly 150 years of Protestant missions in Shanxi Province China Beginning with the arrival of the Protestant missionaries during the 1878 North China Famine and the fiery test of the 1900 Boxer Uprising and subsequent martyrdom of hundreds of Shanxi Christians this important book brings together the historical accounts of the spread of Christianity in the province all the way up to the present From the personal papers and contemporary records of the missionaries Kaiser draws a vivid picture of the women and men who devoted their lives to advancing the cause of the gospel in Shanxi He weaves the stories of bold local Christians like Pastor Hsi and such notable missionaries as Gladys Aylward Timothy Richard Hudson Taylor and the Cambridge Seven into the broader tapestry of China missions tracing the birth and development of a thriving and dynamic Shanxi church Drawing on mission archives academic studies and firsthand knowledge this fusion of scholarly inquiry with missionary biography aims to both inspire and inform making the lessons of the missionary past available to a new generation of readers

Encountering China Andrew T. Kaiser, 2019-03-28 Welsh Baptist missionary to China Timothy Richard 1845-1919 was once widely regarded as one of the greatest missionaries whom any branch of the Church whether Roman Catholic Russian Orthodox or Protestant has sent to China Today few have heard of Richard and his remarkable lifetime of ministry in China As the first critical examination of Richard's missionary identity this groundbreaking historical study traces the narrative of Richard's early life in Wales and his formative first two decades of service in China Richard's adaptations to the common evangelistic techniques of his day his interest in learning from grassroots Chinese sectarian religions his integration of evangelism and famine relief during the North China Famine 1876

79 his strategic decision to evangelize Chinese elites and his complicated relationships with Hudson Taylor and other China missionaries are all explored through the writings and personal letters of Richard and his contemporaries The resulting portrait represents a significant revision to existing interpretations of this influential China missionary emphasizing his deep empathy for the people of China and his abiding evangelical identity Readable and relevant Encountering China provides a new generation with an introduction to this lost legend of China mission

Ecumenism and Independency in World Christianity, 2020-09-07 Ecumenism and independency suggest two distinct impulses in the history of Christianity the desire for unity co operation connectivity and shared belief and practice and the impulse for distinction plurality and contextual translation Yet ecumenism and independency are better understood as existing in critical tension with one another They provide a way of examining changes in World Christianity Taking their lead from the internationally acclaimed research of Brian Stanley in whose honour this book is published contributors examine the entangled nature of ecumenism and independency in the modern global history of Christianity They show how the scrutiny afforded by the attention to local contextual approaches to Christianity outside the western world may inform and enrich the attention to transnational connectivity

Rethinking Violence Erica Chenoweth, Adria Lawrence, 2010-08-27 An original argument about the causes and consequences of political violence and the range of strategies employed States nationalist movements and ethnic groups in conflict with one another often face a choice between violent and nonviolent strategies Although major wars between sovereign states have become rare contemporary world politics has been rife with internal conflict ethnic cleansing and violence against civilians This book asks how why and when states and non state actors use violence against one another and examines the effectiveness of various forms of political violence In the process of addressing these issues the essays make two conceptual moves that illustrate the need to reconsider the way violence by states and non state actors has typically been studied and understood The first is to think of violence not as dichotomous as either present or absent but to consider the wide range of nonviolent and violent options available and ask why actors come to embrace particular strategies The second is to explore the dynamic nature of violent conflicts developing explanations that can account for the eruption of violence at particular moments in time The arguments focus on how changes in the balance of power between and among states and non state actors generate uncertainty and threat thereby creating an environment conducive to violence This innovative way of understanding violence deemphasizes the role of ethnic cleavages and nationalism in modern conflict Contributors Kristin M Bakke Emily Beaulieu H Zeynep Bulutgil Erica Chenoweth Kathryn McNabb Cochran Kathleen Gallagher Cunningham Alexander B Downes Erin K Jenne Adria Lawrence Harris Mylonas Wendy Pearlman Maria J Stephan

A Voluntary Exile Anthony E. Clark, 2013-11-26 Western missionaries in China were challenged by something they could not have encountered in their native culture most Westerners were Christian and competitions in their own countries were principally denominational Once they entered China they unwittingly became spiritual merchants who marketed Christianity as only one religion among the long established purveyors of other religions such as the masters of Buddhist and Daoist rites A Voluntary Exile explores the convergence of cultures This collection of new and insightful research considers themes of religious encounter and accommodation in China from 1552 to the present and confronts how both Western Europeans and indigenous Chinese mitigated the cultural and religious antagonisms that resulted from cultural misunderstanding The studies in this work identify areas where missionary accommodation in China has succeeded and failed and offers new insights into what contributed to cultural conflict and confluence Each essay responds in some way to the accommodationist approach of Western missionaries and Christianity focusing on new areas of inquiry For example Michael Maher SJ considers the educational and religious formation of Matteo Ricci prior to his travels to China and how Ricci s intellectual approach was connected to his so called accommodationist method during the late Ming Eric Cunningham explores the hackneyed assertion that Francis Xavier s mission to Asia was a failure due to his low conversion rates suggesting that Xavier s failure instigated the entire Chinese missionary enterprise of the 16th and 17th centuries And Liu Anrong confronts the hybridization of popular Chinese folk religion with Catholicism in Shanxi province The voices in this work derive from divergent scholarly methodologies based on new research and provide the reader a unique encounter with a variety of disciplinary views This unique volume reaches across oceans cultures political systems and religious traditions to provide important new research on the complexities of cultural encounters between China and the West The Politics Of Life

Harlem at War Nathan H.

Brandt,1996-02-01 By the spring of 1943 more than a half million blacks were in the U S Army but only 79 000 of them were overseas Most were repeating the experience of their fathers in World War I serving chiefly in labor battalions Wherever black troops were trained or stationed Brandt explains rage surfaced frequently was suppressed but not extinguished Using eyewitness accounts he describes the rage Harlem residents felt the discrimination and humiliation they shared with blacks across the country The collective anger erupted one day in Harlem when a young black soldier was shot by a white police officer The riot in which six blacks were killed seven hundred injured and six hundred arrested became a turning point in America s race relations and a precursor to the civil rights struggle of the 1960s China's Millions Austin,2007-03-05

Banner carrying Salvation Army marchers stone silent Quakers jumpy Midwestern revivalists and Prayer book Anglicans all made up the mixed multitude sent to the Middle Kingdom by the China Inland Mission CIM in the nineteenth century In China s Millions veteran historian Alvyn Austin crafts a compelling narrative of the sprawling history of the China Inland Mission This book introduces readers to a remarkable array of sights from the visionary charismatic sect leader Pastor Hsi to the wordless book a missionary teaching device that fit perfectly with Chinese color cosmology to the opium soaked aftermath of the North China Famine of 187779 Clear readable and well researched China s Millions digs deeply into the

Chinese and Western past to tell a story of the strange yet hopeful result of two cultures colliding Publisher

Woman's Work for Woman, 1901 The Boxers, China, and the World Robert A. Bickers, R. G. Tiedemann, 2007 In 1900 China chose to take on imperialism by fighting a war with the world on the parched north China plain This multi disciplinary volume explores the causes behind what is now known as the Boxer war examining its particular cruelties and its impact on China foreign imperialism in China and on the foreign imagination The Boxers have often been represented as a force from China's past resisting an enforced modernity Here expert contributors argue that this rebellion was instead a wholly modern resistance to globalizing power representing new trends in modern China and in international relations This volume will appeal to readers interested in modern Chinese East Asian and European history as well as the history of imperialism colonialism warfare missionary work and Christianity Massacre in Shansi Nat Brandt, 1994 Drugging a Nation: The Story of China and the Opium Curse Samuel Merwin, 2017-03-23 China's Saints Anthony E. Clark, 2011-04-07 While previous works on the history of Christianity in China have largely centered on the scientific and philosophical areas of Catholic missions in the Middle Kingdom China's Saints recounts the history of Christian martyrdom precipitated as it was by cultural antagonisms and misunderstanding Anthony Clark shows that Christianity in China began and grew under similar circumstances to those during the Roman Empire with the notable exception that Catholic missionaries were not successful at producing a Chinese Constantine One of the principal results of Catholic martyrdom in China was the increased indigenization of Christianity During the reconstruction of mission churches hospitals and orphanages after the hostilities of the Boxer Uprising 1898-1900 the Roman Catholic tradition of venerating martyrs was attached to the reinvigoration of

Christian communities Not only did Catholic architecture accommodate to Chinese sensibilities but causes for sainthood were also begun at the Vatican to add Chinese names to the Church s list of saints The implications of Clark s work extend beyond the subject of Christianity in China to the broader fields of cultural social economic political and religious history This pioneering study follows the trails of Western missionaries and Chinese converts as they negotiate the religious and cultural chasms that existed between the West and China and it demonstrates that these differences resulted in two very different outcomes Whereas converts appear to have bridged the cultural divide often to the point of self sacrifice political and cultural tensions on the macro level sometimes ended with forceful conflicts This book contributes to a deeper understanding of cultural and religious interaction and provides an account of an heretofore unstudied chapter in the history of Christianity on the global landscape

Eyewitnesses to Massacre Zhang Kaiyuan, Donald MacInnis, 2015-05-20 The infamous Nanjing Massacre of 1937 in which the Japanese Imperial Army raped and slaughtered countless Chinese citizens on the eve of World War II has been described in well publicized books from various Chinese Japanese and German perspectives But this collection of first hand testimony from the archives of the Yale Divinity School Library may be the most powerful record of all Here are eyewitness accounts by a remarkable group of nine men and one woman dedicated compassionate well educated articulate and devout missionaries who were there on the scene refusing to leave and doing everything in their power to save the Chinese victims of this appalling atrocity

Eyewitnesses to Massacre Kaiyuan Zhang, 2001 This text is a first hand testimony of the Nanjing Massacre It contains eyewitness accounts by a group of nine men and one woman dedicated compassionate well educated articulate and devout missionaries who were there on the scene and refused to leave

Chinese Christianity Peter Tze Ming Ng, 2012-02-03 This volume attempts to review the historical development of Chinese Christianity from a global local or glocalization perspective It includes chapters on the Boxer Movement Chinese indigenous movements and Christian higher education and also contains seven biographical chapters The author expounds upon the interplay of universal and particular aspects as well as the global and local forces which shaped the characteristics of Chinese Christianity in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century This work focused on China could have wider implications for modern scholarship both in the fields of comparative history of education and modern Chinese church history for those scholars who are exploring the dialogical interplay between global and local Christianities
