attracted a number of gifts and bequests of drawings and watercolors by D rer Claude Lorraine Brueghel J M W Turner and many others This is a story not only of Old Masters but of benefactors Francis Douce Chambers Hall John Ruskin and their successors whose different tastes account for the variety of the drawings in the modern Print Room It is a story also of the curators who bought them In particular it is the story of Sir Karl Parker who arrived at the museum in 1934 and left a collection when he retired in 1962 that comprehensively covered the history of the art of drawing in Europe from its origins to the present day The exhibition Master Drawings Michelangelo to Moore celebrates this history It includes many of the finest drawings in Oxford representing the work of many different artists Raphael and Michelangelo D rer and the artists of the Northern Renaissance Guercino and Rubens Boucher and Tiepolo German Romantics J M W Turner Degas and Pissarro the artists of the Ballets Russes British twentieth century artists from Gwen John to Hockney and much else
